Service Clubs Working On Safety Check

The Tecumseh service clubs are co-operating in a drive here in conjunction with the National Vehicle Safety-Check. Hugh Walters was appointed by the Rotary Club to organize the local program. A meeting was called Tuesday evening with representatives from other local service clubs invited. The group is shown at work above. From left to right is Claron (Skip) Rex, Charles Butler, Fred Belleville, Clarence Beach, Carlos Jones, Leverett DeJonghe, Hugh Walters and Richard Beemer.

Plans at present are to have a checking station in the City on May 23, 24 and 25 where motorists can have their cars checked free of charge. If anything is found wrong, they can then go to a garage or service station and have the necessary work done and receive an OK sticker by returning to the checking station. It is hoped that all schools, garages, service stations and other establishments dealing with the public will participate wholeheartedly.

The following were appointed to head the various committees: Richard Beemer, check line; Fred C. Belleville, publicity; Charles Butler, finance; Leverett DeJonghe, recording and procedure; Clarence Beach and Claron (Skip) Rex, schools and special events and Carlos Jones, secretary.

City Manager Reported Good Well On Burt St.

City Manager E. J. Nelson reported to the City Council Monday night that he believed a good well had been dug on Burt street. The well digger estimated that it would be good for at least 700 gallons per minute. Tests showed the water to be a little over 200 parts hardness and very low in iron. The next step will be to purchase the property, preferably enough to accommodate two wells.

A crew of men started Monday to install a new water tower to be located on the city property north of the City Garage. The six inch water main from Cairns street to Tecumseh Acres is being put in.

The street crew has been busy cleaning up the streets and repairing holes and they are now pretty well under control. Storm sewer on Maumee street between Cummins and Patterson and the storm sewers on Sunset and Pine streets are completed. The curb and gutter on South Union street between Chicago Blvd. and Pottawatamie street has been started. When this is completed, the city intends to seal coat that block and Maumee Street hill.

Last week City Manager Nelson attended a Municipal League meeting in Hillsdale. He reported that it was very informative and noted that several cities reported that they are making subdivisions pay 100 per cent of all the improvements.

The City would like to get into installing curb and gutter on a large scale, however, the City's financial condition will not be too good until the State Sales Tax money and the State Highway money is received. Two payments should be received in May.

May 12th To 18th Is National Hospital Week

May 12-18 is National Hospital Week, a week dedicated to community education about hospitals. To people in smaller communities like ours, it is a special opportunity to express our gratitude to an institution which is so close to the maintenance of our good health.

Our hospital is one of many such institutions throughout the United States. An outstanding characteristic of the American hospital system is the number of small hospitals that compose that system. Of the 5,237 short-term general and special hospitals listed by the American Hospital Association, 3,466 have fewer than 100 beds. Yet these hospitals admit more than 5,300,000 patients each year.

Even the smallest hospital must be a complete medical unit. Althought it may be small in terms of number of beds, it still must maintain most of the services found in the largest hospitals. To

Routine Business Was Considered By Council

A delegation of citizens was present at Monday night's City Council meeting to request some help in clearing off a field on S. Union Street for a play ground for the children in that area. The City Manager was asked to investigate the situation and see what could be done.

A resolution requesting that the Council go on record as being opposed to House Bill No. 587 was submitted for their approval. Bill 587 would require that Township as a whole approve the annexation of a piece of property to a city rather than just the people from that specific piece of property as the law reads at present. The Council accepted the resolution and asked that proper action be taken.

Another resolution and petition was submitted asking for the closing of the right-of-way on Drive A, B, C and D in River Acres. The Council decided to publish the resolution and call for a hearing May 20 at 8 o'clock in the Council Rooms.

A petition asking for curb and gutter on the corner of Democrat anl Adrian Streets was accepted and referred to the City Manager for scheduling. The City Manager's report was read, accepted and placed on file.

The 1957-58 budget, which was published in a recent issue of the Herald, was accepted.

Donald Brazee was appointed acting mayor for Mayor's Exchange Day. Gerald Smith was appointed Marshal of the Day for Memorial Day. Bills amounting to $14,699.36 were ok'd for payment.

Mayor Proclaimed City Hospital Week May 12-18

Mayor Hanna today proclaimed May 12 - 18 as Tecumseh hospital week. Communities throughout the United States are joining in the observance of national hospital week during this period.

In his proclamation the Mayor said, "Your Hospital . . . For You and Your Community" is the theme of national hospital week which this year emphasizes hospitals' many services to their communities and especially their role in community disaster planning. The week commemorates the humanitarian service of hospitals throughout the world and celebrates the birthday of the famous nurse Florence Nightingale May 12.

Mayor Hanna said:

"It is fitting that we take the opportunity presented by this observance to become better acquainted with our excellent hospitals. I urge all of you to visit your hospital and see the efficiency and competence which means protection for you and yours in time of need. Rediscover the great community asset which is our hospitals."

The proclamation read:

"Whereas our hospitals have dedicated themselves to providing this important care, and

"Whereas the hospitals have demonstrated their continued interest in community welfare through their sustained programs of planning how to meet community disasters, and

"Whereas the continued high standard of hospital care is possible only through the community's understanding, appreciation, and support of its hospitals.

"Now therefore I by virtue of the authority vested in me as mayor, do hereby proclaim the week of May 12 through May 18, 1957, as hospital week, and

"I urge that all citizens join with me and people throughout the United States in observing national hospital week and show their appreciation to our hospitals whose services are so necessary and important to all of us."

Morning Recreation Program Cut For Lack Of Available Funds

Recreation Director, Robert Breniff, reported to the Herald this week that there would be no morning recreation program this year as matters stand at present. The Junior League program will not leave sufficient funds available. He said that more money was needed from some source such as the Community Fund. Mr. Breniff said that if the people of Tecumseh expect a good recreation program, they will have to be willing to pay for it. It can not continue to run on a "shoestring."

The program will open June 3 from 1:00 to 5:00 in the afternoon and from 6:00 to 9:00 at night. It will end August 23. It is planned that there will be a director present at all times. There will be three playgrounds: Herrick Park, Central and Tecumseh Acres.

Allowances For Underplanting Crop Allotments

Mr. T. O. Brittain, Chairman of the Lenawee County ASC Committee announces that farm operators or owners who underplant the 1957 wheat allotments for their farms, under certain conditions can be given the same consideration in establishing allotments for future years as if they had produced the full alloted acreage. This consideration can be obtained in either one of two ways. The farm operator or owner may file a written request indicating his desire to have his alloted acreage used instead of his actual acreage, or automatic credit will be given if the allotted acreage not planted has been placed in the 1957 Acreage Reserve Program or is placed in the 1957 Conservation Program.

Requests to use the allotted acreage instead of the actual acreage are to be made on special forms available at the County ASC Office. Mr. Brittain points out that such requests for wheat can be accepted through May 1, 1957. These requests need not be filed if the acreage grown is equal to or larger than the allotment for the farm.

What To Do In a Tornado

- People in open country can view the approach of a tornado and move at right angles to its path. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression, such as a ditch or ravine.
- In towns or cities, seek shelter inside, preferably in a substantial building. Stay away from windows.
- The southwest corner of the basement of a frame house is safer than in a brick or stone house. If there is no basement, lie down on the first floor under a table or bed (preferably in the southwest corner).
- Urban schools: Stay inside, away from windows; remain near an inside wall on a lower floor. Avoid auditoriums and gymnasiums.
- Rural schools of frame construction: Teachers should remove children to a ravine or ditch if storm shelter is not available.

Too Many Little Fish

One of the biggest problems facing Michigan lakes and streams is, strange to say, too many fish. This picture shows several small perch and bluegills taken by hook and line in a short time. Perch and bluegills produce prodigious numbers of offspring each year.

ARCHERY FISHING

The bow and arow enthusiast, usually associated with hunting, is becoming more and more a fisherman. Archery fishing continues to experience a rapid growth in popularity each year in Michigan.

Targets for these sportsmen are carp and other rough fish in designated waters during a May 1 - August 15 season. One of the big events for archery fisherman is the annual Carp Carnival in Lake St. Clair marshes. Last year, more than 2400 bow and arrow fishermen vied for prizes in the tournament.

Although carp are scorned by most fishermen, archery enthusiasts delight in the sport provided by these often-vilified fish. The carp has played a confusing role in Michigan's fishing history since its introduction into state waters about 75 years ago because of its tremendous rate of growth.

Carp, members of the family of cyprinids which also produces goldfish, were prized in China more than 3000 years ago and eventually spread throughout much of Europe. By the 19th century, carp were so highly-valued as a food fish in Europe that special ponds were developed to rear the fish for market.

The introduction in Michigan backfired, however, when the carp spread so rapidly in public waters that it was impossible to realize any profit commercially. Fishermen claimed that carp destroyed habitat for other fish and the once prized carp fell into disrepute.

The carp still has some commercial value, with more than 2,500,000 pounds marketed annually in Michigan. But it is as a sport fish that the carp maintains some of its former respectability, however, and archery fishermen are among his staunchest backers.

Fishermen are reminded that a special $1.00 trout stamp is required, in addition to a resident or nonresident Michigan fishing license, for trout fishing.

Baseball Team Defeated Monroe C. C. 8 To 0

INDIANS VS. MONROE C. C.

J. V.'s VS. ADRIAN FROSH

LEGISLATIVE BUDGET

Herbert Hoover has said, "Our federal budgeting and accounting is not adapted to today's enormous expenditures. Two things have resulted. No one can tell what the actual expenditures of the Government really are. And for this reason, and the continuing appropriations, Congress has lost control of the purse—the very foundation of free men."

A newsletter recently published goes into this matter in some detail, under the title "Is the Budget Out of Control?" The answer to that question, apparently, is at least a qualified Yes. The reason lies largely in the method by which each annual budget is prepared. It is a method that might be fairly workable in a smaller and simpler enterprise than the U. S. government. But it is a method that is something very different when applied to a government that has more than 100 departments and agencies, employes more than 2,360,000 civilians, and spends around $70 billion a year.

The Executive branch of the government prepares a budget and then submits it to the Congress. So far so good. But the trouble, in the newsletter's words, is that ". . . . the Executive budget is a vast aggregate of specific requests by many officials, most of whom are enthusiastic believers in the functions and programs which they respectively administer." Human nature being what it is, practically all of these officials want to do things on an ever-expanding scale. Thus, to quote the newsletter again, "This constant pressure for higher rather than lower expenditure can be effectively resisted by the President only in so far as he is prepared to act against the recommendations of his own agents and is equipped to do so intelligently by intimate knowledge of the agents' operations." In as much as these operations cover almost every activity known to modern man, it is obvious that neither the President nor the experts in the Budget Bureau are in a position to do this effectively.

Congress is in even a worse position. It doesn't have specialized staffs for guidance and suggestion. It votes for or against bills as they come along, on a piecemeal basis — not as part of a cohesive over-all program. Then, to further complicate matters, and to further impair control of the budget, Congress has adopted the habit of approving major spending programs covering periods of years. Thus, each year the money the government spends includes a large proportion of "carryover" funds voted in past sessions.

And this isn't the end of the problem. There are still other important areas of expenditure which are now either absolutely or practically beyond effective Congressional year-in and year-out control. These include interest on the national debt, treaty obligations, aid to veterans and other groups, etc. Also, there is a hesitancy to tamper with national defense requirements. In a survey published in December of 1952, the Tax Foundation actually showed that only 6 per cent of the budget was subject to really total control.

The letter proposes a possible solution to all this in the form of a "legislative budget." The Executive budget would be maintained. But, in addition, Congress would list its own estimates of receipts and expenditures, and adopt a legislative procedure designed to hold actual appropriations in line with those estimates. The letter presents four primary considerations: ". . . (1) that an annual legislative budget be drawn up, (2) that it be drawn up with the aid of a specialized staff, (3) that it be drawn up and approved early in the session so that no appropriations will be made except in accordance with it, and (4) that appropriations be made (as recommended by the Hoover commission) for a single fiscal year only, irrespective of real or supposed commitments, so that all proposed appropriations will be subjected to critical Congressional scrutiny each year."

Primitive Medicine

Supernatural powers, spirits, and demons rule the cults of primitive medical practice in many remote sections of the world. The medicine man, with his symbolic paraphernalia, is thought to possess the "power" to reveal the cause of illness and to provide curative drugs. The dramatic and mysterious have always appealed to man's imagination, sometimes to the point of destroying his perspective. However, questions pertaining to pain and illness are always best answered by your family physician. We are qualified to prepare any medicine he may prescribe.

Realty Views

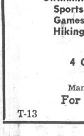
"We are in the house market," Mrs. Oliver said on the phone a a few weeks ago. "We like the job you did when you sold us out. Now let's see if you can do as good a job for us as you did for the buyers of our home a year ago."



I was surprised to hear from the Olivers, since they had moved to another state after selling out. But, as she explained, "The pastures aren't any greener elsewhere."

We looked at several homes, and the Oliver's "settled" on one. However, moving around had somewhat depleted their cash. I explained to the owner, though, how to sell by means of a contract, accepting a modest down payment and fairly large monthly payments.

Mrs. Oliver was overjoyed when we told her the owners had accepted the contract.

"I can see it pays to deal with you," she said enthusiastically. "You work just as hard for your buyers as you do for your sellers, and vice versa."

Regardless of whether you plan to buy or sell real estate, we'd like to "work" for you too.

News From The Tecumseh Grade Schools

RIDGEWAY SCHOOL NEWS

During the past weeks the third graders in Mrs. Schroeder's room at Ridgeway have been studying about plants. Last week we had a science table showing different kinds of stems, leaves and roots that we eat and those we do not eat. David Keasal, Chuck Calhoun, Douglas Hall and David Wegner had charge of arranging the various samples on the table.

Those celebrating birthdays this month are two fourth graders whose birthdays are on the same day, and the girls are the same age. They are Diane Handy and Diane Ries.

The first of the month the following pupils were chosen by their class to have their safety posters they had made sent to the National Contest. Third grade: Tom Bailey, Sandra Gibbs, Chuck Calhoun, Jeff Baker and Atanacio Lopez. Fourth grade: Sandra Skelton, Frank Harris, Judy Weimer, Beverly Meyers, Todd Miller, John Boyce, Nancy Bird, Cathy Brown, Harold Richardson and David Woods.

KINDERGARTEN

Spring has certainly arrived now, and with spring come the green grass, new leaves, and gardening time. The boys and girls in the Ridgeway Kindergarten have been studying plants. We have learned many facts about plants through our discussion periods and our experiments. Each of us helped to start our experiments, and we are noticing interesting results every day. We have learned the four things plants need to grow, and we know how plants get these things. We have also learned four ways to start a new plant; the five main parts to a plant; and the ways we use plants in our lives. The boys and girls will each have a surprise for their mothers which has been part of our plant study.

The boys and girls in the morning group were very pleased to have Wayne Gubbe's mother visit them. The morning group has been happy to welcome Mary McCarley who transferred from the Newburg kindergarten group.

Nancy Todd's mother has been our only recent visitor in the afternoon section. We were glad to have her with us. Visitors are always welcome!

FIRST AND SECOND

Jean Bachtal is out this week having her tonsils out. We will be glad to have her back.

All the boys and girls are enjoying learning about our common birds. We have colored pictures of several of them.

COLVIN SCHOOL NEWS

We had an exciting surprise the week before Easter. Dick brought his pet rabbit to school! We named him Mr. Carrot. Each of us helped in some way to take care of him during his week's visit. We discovered that rabbits have big appetites and that they wiggle their noses continuously.

Geraldine Stone, a new second-grader from Adrian, came to our school this month. We are happy to have Geraldine at Colvin. Our present enrollment is twenty-eight. We are looking forward to attending the May Music Festival in Adrian. It will be fun to sing with so many children.

Our tadpoles have gone through many stages. They have grown hind legs and they will soon turn into frogs. Now, we are wondering how we will keep them in a fish bowl.

PINK SCHOOL NEWS

Planning, sharing and evaluating have had a big part in our program this year.

Now we have begun to plan our summer vacation. In order that we will enjoy our vacation more and so that we will be engaged in worthwhile projects we are compiling a list of activities stemming from our school experiences that will broaden our interests, maintain our learning skills and be a lot of fun, too.

Family Fun—Play word games, number games.

Trips—If planning a trip, get map and share in marking route. Notice how much can be observed while driving through country — grain harvesting, poultry farm, a dairy, factories, road building.

Family Library — Our studies show a direct relation between the amount of reading in the home and the interest in reading shown in children. Arrange a special home library corner with easy chairs, good light and plenty of good boks. Make use of the public library, read with and to the children.

Yours for a good summer vacation.

PATTERSON SCHOOL NEWS

Speaking of baseball, and who isn't these days, some of the boys from Central and the Patterson boys went to Manchester to play ball. The ending score was five to nothing, our favor. Manchester is coming here to play Saturday morning.

We all made May baskets for May first in the sixth grade. They were made by weaving colored strips of paper together.

Our bulletin board is decorated with summer activities, such as swimming, baseball, fishing, picnicing, and carnivals. We have also painted pictures of flowers as a border.

We have just started a new unit in our social studies about India. We are learning how they live and work.

All of us are looking forward to our trip to Greenfield Village. We will leave at 9:15, the morning of May 24th. We are sure that we will all have fun.

Our Unit in science, on plants, came just at the right time. We have all kinds of flowers to use for studying the different parts.

The fifth grade are looking forward to the trip they are going to take May 20th.

JUNIOR AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP CLUB:

The meeting was called to order by the president, David Dustin.

We said the Junior American Citizenship Prayer, Creed, sang the Star-Spangled Banner, and said the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

To study today we had pictures about science. Ann Suratt, Dorothy Nettleman gave reports on flowers, Jim Osburn on electricity, and David Dustin had a report on "The King Snake."

Reported by the Patterson School 5th Grade. Joe Hanna.

More birthdays in the fourth grade room! Stephen Derby and Douglas Beasley both brought treats last week to celebrate theirs.

We are making plans to visit the Museum of Natural History in Ann Arbor next Tuesday. Next week we will tell you about our trip.

On our bulletin board we have a new kind of tree. We call it Our Book Tree. Nancy Mead and Bonnie MacDonald made it, and Toni Herrick added the grass and lettering. Each time anyone finishes reading a library book, he makes a leaf or a flower, writing on it the title of the book and his own name. Because we read quite a few library books, our tree is blooming very well.

We in the first grade are very happy because next Wednesday we plan to visit the Zoo. We are studying about many animals that we expect to see. We, also, think it will be fun to take a long ride on the big school bus and have our lunch in a paper bag. Some of our mothers are making lemonade for us to take along to drink. Each of us is saving fifteen cents to spend for a train ride.

Our kindergarten children have decided to have reading clubs! We have two groups in the morning and two groups in the afternoon. We try and meet for a few minutes each day and we find that our reading readiness is much more fun when every child has time for individual attention. We enjoy playing games with our big number cards in our club time, too.

We took a walk in to our big gym one day to see the beautiful new curtains on the stage. We were making a little stage with curtains for a farm picture and after we saw the real curtains we had many good ideas.

CENTRAL SCHOOL NEWS

The animal kingdom has really invaded Miss Lukens' First Grader's room. Carol Elliott brought three snails to share, Marta Puffer and Linda Baaske also brought in a baby rabbit that was about six inches long. It was one of the tiniest animals the children had ever seen.

The children have really been thrilled as they have discovered books in the school and public read. They really feel they're on library which they could actually their way toward a most important goal in their life—to read well, and to enjoy reading good books.

Gene Simeone, Debby Withrow, and Marta Puffer each read a story to the class this week and each had chosen an interesting story to share.

Someone surprised Mrs. Neitling's first grade by hanging a lovely May basket filled with flowers on their door before they arrived. They're trying to find out who arrived early May Day.

Carolyn Abshire brought a large turtle to school. She called him "Poky." They are going to read some stories about turtles now.

The third graders in Mrs. Schwartz' room visited Drigg's Dairy Farms at Palmyra and the Michigan Producers Dairy Company in Adrian. They are studying about farming in their social studies class.

They have been writing rhymes and stories. This poem was composed by Margie Parrett:

It is fun to have a secret
And keep it well.
And meet a lot of people
And never, never tell.

It's fun to go a-walking
All in the land alone,
And think about the secret
That's really quite your own.

Things were "popping" in Mrs. Miller's fourth grade room the other day. Jim Oberlin did an experiment in Science showing how pressure can be built up inside a bottle, with baking powder and warm water. The pressure blew the top of the bottle up to the ceiling and surprised some of the children.

Mrs. Whiting's fourth grade have received their science story book for sending in subscriptions for summer Weekly Readers and are finding the stories exciting and interesting.

Bobby Williamson's cocoon gave forth a beautiful Polyphemus moth this week. This is their second. They have one more cocoon and hope it comes out before school is over.

Patsy Schmitz had a birthday this week.

Mrs. Callihan's fourth grade enjoyed their trip to the University museum at Ann Arbor. Mrs. Beal, Mrs. Wegner, Mrs. Kemp, and Mrs. Forrester went with them on the bus. The class was divided into two groups and had a guide for each. The large collection of prehistoric animals and birds interested the children. All of them were startled by the noise of the rattlesnake. No one will drink pond water after seeing the magnified drop of it.

They hope to go back again this summer with their parents to see the things they missed.

Mrs. Becker's sixth grade made May baskets in art. They also made pictures representing a favorite book friend.

They have planted many seeds and are watching them grow for science.

In reading they have finished the thrilling story of "Tom Chist and the Treasure Chest." This is a story about the notorious pirate —Captain Kidd.

They are learning to divide decimals in arithmetic.

Phillip Miller brought a book on flying saucers. They are trying to decide if it is fact or fancy.

Mrs. Becker's class has made a large products map of Japan with as many actual products as we were able to collect. Several of us brought items made in Japan for display.

We worked in committees and developed a behavior self-rating scale. We will check this scale each week and try to give special attention to the points on which we fell down.

Our Junior American Citizens Club voted Paul Decker the citizen of the month.

Mrs. Crawford read "Snow Dog" to the class. It was such an exciting book that a few times it was necessary to snitch a little time from the next subject to reach a stopping place. We are waiting now to hear the sequel to this story.

We did very well with multiplication of decimals and are ready to start division of decimals. We hope to review fractions, too, before the end of the year.

Merry Chase But Boys Won

Two boys on W. Logan St. got the month of May off to a good start by delivering baskets on May Day. As the cry "May Basket" rang out, Floyd Bryan of 409 W. Logan St. started off at a terrific pace, for a man of his years, to catch the hangers of the basket on his porch. He caught them and tripped on the cement sidewalk at the same instant. With a skinned shin and shoulder and a wife telling him to act his age, poor Floyd was reminded of the fact that he is more than sixteen even if for the moment he felt just that age. One would never have known that he has passed his 70th birthday anniversary by watching him cross that street.

Christian Science Sunday Services

The true status of man, created in the perfect image and likeness of God, Spirit, will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Adam and Fallen Man."

Luke's account of one of Christ Jesus' healings will be included in the Scriptural readings (Luke 5: 12, 13): "And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold a man full of leprosy: who seeing Jesus fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will: be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be among those read (259:6-11): "The divine nature was best expressed in Christ Jesus, who threw upon mortals the truer reflection of God and lifted their lives higher than their poor thought-models would allow, — thoughts which presented man as fallen, sick, sinning, and dying."

Care Preserves Paint Brushes

Paintbrushes can easily become caked or "heeled" with paint, or warped out of shape through incorrect storage.

It is not too difficult to make them usable again, but salvaged paintbrushes are not as good as they were before they became caked with paint. So, it's wise to keep your brushes in good condition.

Work out as much paint as possible when you complete your painting job. Remove the rest of the paint by soaking the brush in turpentine or mineral spirits. If the brush has been used in water-base paints, wash it in warm, soapy water until all paint has been removed.

Hang the brush to dry, then wrap it in paper to keep the bristles in the original shape. If the brush is stored over a period of time, saturate it with linseed oil, and hang it up with the bristles down.

36 Inch Height Best For Counter

Generally kitchen counters should measure 36 inches from the floor to the top. Ranges, dishwashers, clotheswashers and other products of most appliance manufacturers conform to this height.

One exception to the 36-inch counter rule is the pull-out shelf or table for lengthy chores such as peeling fruits or preparing vegetables. This should be low enough for comfortable operation when one is seated on a chair or stool.

Suggestions For Concrete Work

With good weather many a home owner is tempted to tackle construction of a garden walk, the repair of a broken driveway or some other concrete job.

The work isn't difficult, but it should be done right for good results.

In Michigan, "air-entrained" concrete is recommended to provide protection against scaling or surface damage due to freezing and thawing.

Nearly all trouble such as scaling, pitting, or cracking in concrete sidewalks and driveways is traceable to failure to use proper materials in proper proportions or to failure to specify air-entrained concrete. Some surface failure may also result from improper finishing.

(Air-entrainment simply means that an approved material is added to the cement, creating billions of tiny bubbles of air per cubic foot of concrete. These absorb the pressures of freezing and thawing.)

Air-entrained concrete is available from ready-mix plants and air-entraining cement can be bought in sack form. It costs no more and produces a more workable mix with less water.

Quality concrete can easily be produced by use of clean water and sand and gravel mixed in proper proportions with portland cement. For sidewalks and driveways the recommended mix includes one sack of cement (standard weight 94 pounds) to approximately 215 pounds of sand and 295 pounds of gravel or crushed stone graded in size from ¼-inch to one-inch.

Not more than six gallons of water should be used per sack. Less should be used if sand is wet. The use of more mixing water than recommended lessens durability and reduces strength of the concrete.

Residential sidewalks normally should be at least four inches thick while driveways for residential use, subject only to occasional loads of fuel or delivery trucks, should have a minimum thickness of six inches.

After it is placed, concrete should be protected so that moisture is not lost during the early stages of hardening. It should be protected from the sun or drying winds with burlap, paper, straw or curing compounds and kept wet for from five to seven days.

Home-owners planning to do their own construction of concrete improvements may obtain easy-to-follow directions by writing the Portland Cement Association, 2108 Michigan National Tower, Lansing 8, Mich. A free booklet provides necessary information on mixing of concrete, preparation of subgrade, use of forms, placing of joints, proper finishing methods, and curing of concrete.

Low pitch gable roof on the house, flat top carport, the combination of brick and vertical siding on the exterior and the unique floor-to-gable window arrangement in the living room are features that give this two bedroom design the modern look. Multi-use room and adjacent patio add to the comfort of this home. It has 1,000 square feet of living area with basement and 1,097 square feet without basement. Plans are available at local lumber dealers.

2 Multipurpose Rooms Are Better Than One

No one today has to be sold on the value of a family room. But, excellent as these multi-purpose rooms are, they occasionally fail to meet all the requirements of a family.

Often, activities of the various members are such that this room just can't handle all of them at the same time. For example, brother may find it hard to concentrate on studying while father is operating his power saw and mother may find it hard to keep her mind on fine seams while sister is listening to the latest rock and roll record.

One answer to this problem is to provide a second activity room, perhaps one which serves a main second purpose — such as sleeping — as well. And of course, this same idea can be adopted if you don't have a family room now and are not in a position to build an addition on your house.

Since it is desirable to combine as many activities as possible in one area — as long as they don't create conflicts, it's smart to make a list of those to be included before starting any remodeling. Such a list may indicate how activities may be divided among two or more areas, too.

Assuming that two or more members of the family will use the room for sleeping as well as for recreation, bunk beds should be considered. They usually are the most practical for a multi-purpose room since they take up a minimum of space. Furthermore, they can be built in so that the space underneath them can be used for storage. Since the bunks probably will be built of wood and it is desirable to have a feeling of unity in the room, you probably will want to use matching wood paneling on the walls.

The ceiling and the floor are the next items on the agenda. Both should have good wearing qualities. To minimize the sounds of hilarity, a ceiling of sound absorbent tiling can be specified. A final touch is a bright fabric for accent. This can be accomplished in the outer covers for the bunk beds and the window draperies.

Easier Loans Are Forecast

A prediction that mortgage money will ease up somewhat in the latter part of the year has been made by Roy M. Marr, president of the United States Savings and Loan League, of Detroit.

Marr said a lessened demand for funds on the part of business and industry is expected to free more money for the home mortgage market.

100-MPH Winds Can't Damage Good Construction

Ordinary frame or masonry farm buildings can be constructed to withstand storm winds of hurricane velocities of more than 100 miles per hour, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

High winds would do much less damage if it weren't for weaknesses caused by poor construction. Key structural points are shown in the drawing. Improper application is the main cause of roofing damage. Asphalt shingles will resist extreme storm winds when properly applied. There are a number of cases on record where hurricanes or tornados have lifted entire roof structures off buildings without disturbing the shingles.

For application on farm buildings in windy areas, asphalt shingle manufacturers usually recommend fastening down square-butt shingles tabs with quick-setting asphalt cement. Also recommended are interlocking shingles, which are especially made for high wind-resistance.

Farm buildings and other structures will resist winds of hurricane velocities if special attention is given to construction at these key points: (1) foundation, (2) joist connections at sidewalls, (3) connection of flooring to end wall, (4) rafter and plate connections, (5) ridge connections, and (6) roofing application.

GRAPES EASY

One of the easiest and most satisfying fruits to grow in the home yard is the grape.

Practically every year you are assured of a good crop for table use or for jellies and jams, reports Louis G. Hall, Lenawee county agricultural agent.

And, unlike most woody fruit plants only two or three sprays are needed to keep the vines and fruit free of insect diseases.

You have a wide selection of grape varieties for your home garden with early maturing, mid-season; and fruit that is blue, black, white, green, yellow, red or pink in color.

New Direction Suggested For Mastitis Study

A veterinarian suggests in the Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association that modern living is responsible in part for the large annual losses from mastitis ($227 million).

The report suggests that present attempts at preventing mastitis are simply efforts to shield the cow's udder from its artificial, man-made environment. Many animal diseases, according to the report, may be the result of man's interference with the normal evolutionary development of species.

Diseases usch as ketosis, parturient paresis, and mastitis are increasingly prevalent, apparently because an increasing number of cows cannot adapt themselves to modern living, the report said. A modern cow is expected to produce a calf annually and, at the same time, produce several thousand pounds of milk.

On the principle of prevention being more effective than cure, the article suggests that more veterinary research should be aimed at learning why cows have these diseases rather than on how to treat them.

Mystery Farm Owned By C. M. Brown

Last week's mystery farm was owned by C. M. Brown with Mr. and Mrs. Dale Dean as tenants. It is located 1½ miles north of Ridgeway on Ridge highway.

The farm was identified by Loren Avery of R 2, Tecumseh who received a two year subscription to the Herald as did Mr. Brown.

Meat And Tractor Projects Aid 4-H Members

Thousands of 4-H boys and girls in the state are learning the better way to handle farm animals and farm machines. They learn the economic factors as well as safe tested methods in caring for cattle, hogs, sheep and the family tractor.

The 4-H meat animal program—now in its 28th year—gives rural youth firsthand knowledge of breeding, feeding and marketing. Club members learn demonstration techniques, how to show animals, and the fine point of judging. They show animals at state and county fairs, often assisting with other fair events.

A half million members throughout the nation have been helped by participating in the 4-H tractor program, while about 40,000 local leaders and Extension workers have been trained. The program has been in operation for 12 years, and is set up to teach efficient use of tractors as well as other farm machinery. Skill in operation and proper care are taught.

Superior achievement is rewarded by public spirited donors. Awards include eight sectional winner trips to the national 4-H Club Congress. Six $400 college scholarships await the national champions for 1957. Twelve national winners in the 4-H tractor program also will receive $400 scholarships. State winners get an expense paid trip to the national Club Congress.

Further information regarding enrollment and requirements in both activities may be obtained from the local Extension Agent.

Opening Should Not Be Over 10 To 12 Times Flue

Experts recommend that the opening of the fireplace should not be more than 10 or 12 times the area of the flue. Otherwise, the unit won't draw air properly. It's also best to make the width of the opening a few inches more than the height.

A properly installed damper is practically a "must" for efficient fireplace operation. Also, the top of the chimney should be at least two feet higher than the top of a gable roof and four feet higher than a flat roof.

Farmers Should Have 3,000 Gal. Of Water On Hand

Regardless of how satisfactory your fire fighting equipment is, it has no value unless water supplies are available and adequate. The location of your water supplies around the farm should be well mapped and marked.

Just because the water is in sight does not mean that you are adequately supplied for unless fire fighting equipment can get to the water, it has no value. You can map out wells, brooks, ponds, stock tanks, and cisterns on your farm. Then have suitable, well-marked approaches to these water supplies so fire pumpers can get near enough to draw water without being mired. If your water supply is a pond, stream or drainage ditch, a stone-lined hole or concrete cistern will cut down the chances of suction hose fouling.

Fire fighting authorities, says the agent, recommend that every farm have at least 3,000 gallons of water immediately available for fire fighting use. And, it is important that this water supply can be used at all seasons and that it always be kept clean.

Editor's Corner . . .

By Phil Belleville

DANGEROUS TRAP

It seems that defense spending is one of the major reasons why we are subject to income and other taxes that are so high that they threaten to destroy the foundations of our free enterprise economy, according to some experts, if they are continued and expanded. I wonder if the Soviet Union, with its totalitarian dictatorship and state ownership of the means of production, has in effect at the present time a piece of strategy to weaken us that few have realized?

Production under the Soviet system does not depend on the profit motive to nearly the extent it does in the United States. Under their system, production is a matter of state planning and directives issued to the people who are motivated to produce through necessity and to receive medals vacations or the like for superior achievement. The volume of production does not depend on the individual businessman's success and motivation to expand as it does here. In theory, the Russian economy is completely controlled by the state (not the people making up the state) and cannot suffer periods of falling production or depression. Actually in practice this is not as so as they would like to think or have us believe. However, in our country with our free enterprise system, the economy can be weakened and production drop if proper motivation is not present in our businessmen. One of the easiest ways to weaken or destroy motivation is to tax away too much of the profits and make the effort worth more than the return.

Thus it can be seen that the Russians could severely weaken our economy by aggravating the cold war and the arms race with their extremely high and continually growing cost and forcing even higher rates of taxation here that eventually would have to ruin our free enterprise economy based on the profit motive. The conclusion seems unescapeable unless an arms limitation agreement is reached, an ultimate weapon is reached that will arrest the pyramiding defense costs or the Soviet dictators find that they cannot continue depriving their subjects of nearly everything but the most essential consumers goods without rebellion and loss of production regardless of the state controlled economy.

Rev. B. O. Bashore was present to recommend that the Board consider the appointment of citizens' committee, to assist them in their work. No action was taken.

Superintendent McDowell reported that all the necessary teachers, secretaries, administrators, custodians and cafeteria workers have been secured for the 1957-58 school year. The Board discussed tentative salary schedules for administrators for the new schools as well as cafeteria plans for next year.

The electrical contract for the Patterson Addition and the Herrick Park School were let to J. D. Perkins of Adrian for the low bid of $27,302. The Board rejected the offer of Mrs. R. K. Anderson to sell land adjacent to Patterson School since it was not needed for school purposes.

Over two hundred boys reported for the Junior League baseball practice Friday. The boys were divided into two groups, the outfielders and the infielders and each group had 45 minutes of batting practice.

A number of parents came down and helped in the organization of the league. Coach Breniff said he was especially grateful to Erwin Richardson and Glenn Work who devoted Saturday to this good cause. Bill Fetty, Russ Hyatt, Glenn Work and Craig Fisher have offered their services as managers of the Major Junior League teams.

Registration for the Pee Wee Soft ball league for boys 6 to 8 years old will be held at all playgrounds on June 3, at 1 p.m. Junior baseball for boys 13 to 15 and Senior softball for boys 16 to 19, will register at the same time.

Work Is Expected To Start Late In June

A new approximately 56 ft. two floor addition to the south wing of Herrick Memorial Hospital will be started the latter part of June. Other projects will include putting a second floor over the older portion of the south wing and other remodeling. Bids have not been let and the cost is not known but it is expected to be in excess of $250,000. Plans will be sent to contractors Monday.

On the first floor, the new addition will be patient rooms, adding 14 beds to the hospital. Seven rooms on the first floor of the old building now used as semi-private rooms will be used as private rooms. The present kitchen will be remodeled into patient rooms, adding 6 beds to the total. Emergency room facilities in the west wing, of the original building built in 1938, will be expanded. Space will be available for a second diagnostic X-ray machine. The Laboratory will be brought up from the basement to the first floor and the medical records will be moved to the present administrator's office and the adjacent room.

The present maternity section on the first floor will be converted to rooms for surgical patients. Pediatric cases will be isolated from the adult patients. An elevator from the basement to the second floor will be installed where the nurses station is at the present time. The new addition will have a receiving dock on the west side.

Plans indicate that the second floor to be built over the 1951 addition and the new addition will be used for maternity patients. It will have 22 beds and a new born nursery including 2 private rooms, 8 semi-private rooms and a 4 bed ward. At the present time, the labor and delivery rooms are on the second floor and patients rooms on the first floor which necessitates moving the patients between floors. Under the new arrangement, everything will be on the same floor.

A new dining room and kitchen will be built in the basement of the new addition. The present basement will be completely remodeled into employee lounges, an autopsy room and storage space. Other minor remodeling changes will be done throughout the old structure.

Lewis J. Sarvis of Battle Creek is the architect. This addition and remodeling is expected to make the hospital adequate for some years to come. The original building was constructed in 1938. A $25,000 addition was added in 1941, a $81,500 addition in 1951 and a $300,000 addition in 1954.

Tornado Alert System Announced

Chief of Police George Kilbourn recently announced a tornado alarm system in case of an alert. If local authorities receive word that a tornado is definitely headed for this area, the fire siren will give a one-minute blast. When this blast is heard, residents are urged to look for safe shelter. The all-clear signal will be a 2 15-second blasts.

It should be understood that the siren will not blow when it is announced that tornado conditions exist but only when a tornado is sighted coming this way and the Tecumseh area is in its path.

Checking System To Be Set Up

The Safety Check program will be sponsored by the service clubs of Tecumseh in cooperation with the local garages and service stations. Hugh Walters is general chairman of the event. A checking station will be set up on Pearl St. between Chicago Blvd. and Pottawatamie St. There will be mechanics at the checking station to point out what is wrong with your car after a ten point check is made. Points to be checked are brakes, front lights, rear lights, steering, tires, exhaust system, glass, windshield wiper, rear view mirror and horn. Owners of the checked cars will be under no obligation. They are asked to take their car to the service station or garage of their choice to have any defects fixed and then return to the check station for a Safety Check sticker. All cars without safety defects will receive stickers at the time of inspection. It is estimated that it will take no more than three minutes for each inspection since there will be five men on duty at all times. There is no charge for the check. The project is in conjunction with the National Safety program during May.

There will be a parade at 7 p.m Wednesday, May 22, starting at Oneida St., just off Chicago Blvd. It will feature antique cars, new cars, the High School Band and Boy and Girl Scouts are invited to participate to mention only a few of the attractions. The check station will be open from 2-8 p.m. Wednesday through Friday, May 22, 23 and 24.

Results of more than two million vehicles safety-checked during the 1956 program showed one out of five were in need of service attention to one or more parts affecting safe vehicle operation. Tecumseh service stations and garages are sponsoring an advertisement in this issue of the Herald concerning the checkup. Be sure to read it.

DAR Heard Report By State Registrar Mrs. Joe Rice

At the regular meeting of the Abi Evans Chapter of the D.A.R. held in the new home of Mrs. Charles Mensing Friday afternoon, the report of Mrs. Joe Rice, State Registrar and delegate from the local chapter was presented.

The 66th Continental Congress of the D.A.R. opened on Monday evening, April 15th, with a short concert by the United States Marine Band. Following the calling to order of the Congress by the president, Mrs. Frederic A. Groves, a message from President Eisenhower was read. During her address Tuesday, Mrs. Groves asked that all members "be careful about the things you say to protect the Society we all love." She was referring to the incident that aroused nation-wide furor recently over a Denver DAR's alleged statement "I would not want a Mexican to carry Old Glory would you?" This happened 7 years ago when an American child was unenthusiastic about his flag bearing assignment and the DAR was trying to reprove him and make an appeal to him to carry the flag of his own country rather than have a little Mexican boy carry it. Mrs. Groves reminded the assembly that "We never indulge in persecution of minorities" but she added, "any great patriotic organization and any conservative one is always in line of attack."

Postmaster and Mrs. Arthur Summerfield joined the Michigan DARs at their buffet supper and Mrs. Joe Rice along with the other officers formed the receiving line for this event. These same officers attended a meeting in the home of Mrs. Rice last fall.

Dr. Kenneth McFarland was the speaker at the annual banquet of the Congress. He has twice spoken in the Presbyterian Church here in Tecumseh. Dr. McFarland is an educational consultant and lecturer for General Motors whose home is in Topeka, Kansas. He spoke out against the idea of bringing big names into government and stated that we must bring ability into the Government or there is no hope.

The Congress closed with the plea of a high school teacher ringing in their ears that we must do something about the lack of religious training in the schools or the results will be devastating.

Hostesses assisting Mrs. Mensing with the luncheon were Mrs. Orville Laidlaw, Mrs. Al Helzerman, Mrs. Clayton Greenwald and Mrs. Herbert Newman.

A two course luncheon was served to the 24 members and guests attending the meeting and this was followed by a short business session conducted by the regent, Mrs. Mrs. Arthur Brown. Dr. Mary Swan had charge of the devotions. The chapter voted to have their meeting convene at 2 p.m. rather than 2:30 as in the past. A program on Civil Defense was presented by the chairman, Mrs. Joe Rice assisted by Mrs. Donald Hunt of Tipton. The Nancy De Groff Toll Chapter of Monroe invited the local chapter for luncheon on June 3 at their chapter house in Monroe. For transportation the members may call Mrs. Hoyt Whelan or Mrs. Charles Mensing.

Kitchen Tour Will Begin Promptly At 2:00 P.M. Today

Today is the "Day" for the ladies of the St. Peter's Episcopal Church who have been in their kitchens constantly the past few days preparing goodies for the 4th annual Kitchen Tour beginning promptly at 2 p.m.

Those who made the tour last year will remember that it pays to go early to have the best selection of foods. Hundreds of dollars worth of food was sold last year in the first hour of the tour and the ladies promise much more food will be on hand this year than last. However, the event is becoming more popular each year so that it is difficult for the ladies to prepare the quantity of food that they will be able to sell.

Reporters and photographers from the Tecumseh Herald as well as "Life" magazine and the Toledo Blade will be present to cover the story. Tea will be served at any time in the Parish House between the hours of 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. so one need not necessarily tour all the homes before stopping for tea. The nursery will be convenient for any who wish to leave young children in good care while they make the tour of the homes. Watch next week's Herald for a complete story of the Kitchen Tour.

Legion Auxiliary Poppy Sale To Be Held May 24-25

Plans are being formulated for the annual Poppy sale by the American Legion Auxiliary to be held May 24th and 25th. The Poppy program is dedicated to keeping alive the memory of those who paid the supreme sacrifice and it is the very life-blood of the Auxiliary in as much as it provides the sustenance for their Rehabilitation and Child Welfare programs. The little red Poppy was a sacred flower to the soldiers of World War I who looked upon the devastated fields of France and saw it blooming crimson in color in every crevice. It symbolized the red blood shed there by their dead comrades.

Now that men from World War II and the Korean conflict have been added to the dead and disabled, it is the duty of every citizen to not only keep alive their memory but to assist in aiding those who have been disabled by buying the little red poppies made by their own hands. The disabled workers receive pay for each poppy made which helps them to feel useful both to themselves and to their families. Seven thousand poppies were purchased by the local Underwood-Orr Unit of the Auxiliary and have already been received and paid for so that regardless of whether any are sold in Tecumseh or not, the veterans have their money for this year. However, the Auxiliary is confident that many will be sold here. For years the Poppy sale has been the work of willing volunteers who receive no compensation to see that every man, woman, and child wears a poppy as a personal tribute to those who sacrificed so much for us.

Methodist W.S.C.S. Meeting Attended By 37 Members

Mrs. Wilfred Waldron accompanied at the piano. Edna Codling, sunshine chairman, reported sending cards to a shut in and to two bereaved families.

The members voted to send Joyce Hadsell on the Caravan trip this summer and also to make a contribution to the summer camp fund. A note of appreciation was read from the M.Y.F. for the luncheon served for the sub-district Rally held in the local church last Sunday.

An announcement was made of a skating party to be held at the Skate Arena near Adrian Tuesday, May 14, from 7 until 10 p.m. sponsored by the M.Y.F. The Public is invited to bring families and friends.

Mrs. Elmer Bryan, secretary of the Christian Social Relations, reported the Mother and Daughter banquet a success with prizes awarded to the 18 month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bennett for being the youngest daughter present and to Mrs. Charles Schoenholtz for being the oldest mother present. The prizes were gifts from the cake decorating class and were cakes decorated, one as a little girl in pink and the other as a quaint little old lady dressed in black.

Indian Tribe Lost Link With The Past Wed.

Michigan's Potawatomi Indians lost a major symbol of their once-great nation Wednesday with the death of 96-year-old Mary Mandoka. She was the widow of the tribe's last chief.

The six-foot, straight-backed, eagle-eyed woman was the dwindling tribe's last link to Potawatomi traditions.

Every autumn during the last 40 years, people gathered at her home to hear her annual prediction on the severity of the coming winter.

Mrs. Mandoka would interpret the signs with knowledge passed on to her many years ago — signs hidden in the color of falling leaves, smells in the air and the way water ran in the streams lacing the reservation.

Athens citizens swore by her accuracy. Newspapers throughout the surrounding counties published her predictions.

Two of her seven children, Grover and Homer, survive and still live on the reservation 10 miles northwest of Coldwater.

The mouring tribe will not elect a new chief.

They will gather again Friday, when Mrs. Mandoka will be laid to rest next to her husband, Sam, last chief of the Potowatomis.

CARS KILL MORE DEER

Each year the number of deer killed by automobiles in Michigan exceeds the legal kill by hunters in several of the nation's deer-hunting states.

Some 3127 whitetails were killed on Michigan highways during 1956, while hunters in at least nine states fail to bag that number. In 1954, for example, states shooting fewer than 3000 deer included Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Mississippi, Nebraska and Tennessee.

Traffic hazards created by deer increase during the springtime, particularly in northern counties. Areas close to highways are open to sunshine and are the first to "green-up" in the spring. Deer attracted to these areas when ranging for food often are startled by automobiles and rush into the path of a vehicle.

The situation is especially dangerous at night when deer, confused by the glare of headlights, sometimes dash headlong into an oncoming car or truck. Many of the state's highway mishaps result in injuries to motorists and serious vehicle damage.

The number of collisions between deer and autos has soared in recent years throughout the state. The 3127 deer killed last year amounted to a 22 percent increase over the 2562 killed in traffic during 1955. The reported toll for other years included 1871 in 1954 and 1465 in 1953.

By regions last year, 1240 whitetails were killed by autos in the upper peninsula; 1139 in the northern lower peninsula; and 748 in the southern lower peninsula.

Conservation Department officials advise motorists that a serious accident may be avoided if drivers are on the lookout for deer when traveling state highways and other rural roads, especially at night.

The mistake of Mike Regan

Patrolman Michael Regan sees his friend, Harry Sharp, getting into a parked car and taps him on the shoulder. "What did I do?" asks Harry. "I think maybe you stole this new Ford," Mike grins—"don't you always drive a medium-priced car?" "I bought this Ford Fairlane 500," Harry replies, "and it's the BEST car I ever bought. I got this big, good-looking automobile, plus automatic transmission, radio, heater, whitewalls, two-tone—the works—for lots less than I'd have paid for a stripped-down medium-priced car." "Sure and you're not as dumb as you look—I'll have to let you go," says Mike. "You'll get a Ford Fairlane 500, too, unless you're as dumb as you look," Harry tells him. All kidding aside, a Ford with all the Luxury extras is really the steal of the year!

BIG RELIEF ROLLS

"At a time of prosperity such as this nation has never before enjoyed, 5.5 million American are on relief rolls. The bill for this relief—3.1 billion dollars last year—is at a record high."

The money goes to more than 2,500,000 elderly people, to 600,000 mothers with 1,700,000 dependent children, and to the blind, the disabled and others.

Why should relief costs be so high in boom times, and why should the number of people sharing in the payments reach peak after peak? No single answer to such a question can be complete. But it seems that the dominant factor is a revolutionary change in the attitude of many Americans toward relief. Not long ago, as time is measured, the indigent old were cared for by children, or, failing that, took refuge in the poorhouse. Relatives came to the rescue when misfortune struck families. Big-scale government aid, as a principle and a philosophy, was unknown. It was not until 1935, with the great depression in full swing, that the Federal government embarked on a program of direct assistance to the needy, by providing funds to the states on a matching basis. The program was regarded as a temporary emergency measure. Once business started back uphill and jobs became available, it was reasoned, the need for this kind of assistance would gradually end. The old age security program, supported by a tax of its own, also was supposed to do much of the welfare job.

The realization has been enormously different from the expectation. Not only are more people getting relief checks, but the amounts are far higher—as much as $200 a month to an aged couple. Old regulations, which denied relief to people owning valuable property such as autos, insurance, and homes, have generally been greatly liberalized or abandoned.

Some of the reasons for the enormous growth of the welfare program in a time of record or near-record employment, wages and industrial activity, follow. People are living longer and so require more medical care. Inflation has bitten deep into fixed incomes from savings and other sources. Families are separated by great distances, and the old, close family relationships of another era are disappearing. No one seems to have any real solution to a social and economic problem that grows steadily more severe. But one thing can be said with certainty at this time: "Across the nation, people are turning over their family problems to the state. Big relief rolls, it now appears, are developing into a permanent part of the American way of life."

INDEPENDENT!

INDEPENDENT COMMUNIST" POLAND, it has been agreed, is to receive 95 millions in economic aid. Whether this will make Poland "independent" or more "Communist" you can guess. In any case, this means the USSR can now forget Poland to aid Red China.

CRIME DOES PAY

. . . We are now in the position of watching Nasser, a criminal who confiscated property and money that was not his, and then committed sabotage in blocking the canal. With that he became the contracting employer to clear the canal (with some one else paying the bills) with the authority to say what should work and when in clearing the canal. Then to top it off he became the judge to say who will use the canal. Now he will again become the possessor of the canal and the fees that go with it.

Yes, in international affairs, "Crime Does Pay."

Time of the Twister

Springtime is tornado time.

In the unstable transition from winter cold to summer heat, great masses of cold and warm air collide. When the heavier cold air is forced above the lighter warm air, funnels sometimes form to relieve the topsy-turvy situation. This is the twister.

* * *

SOME 800 TORNADOES boil up each year in the United States. When they strike, local civil defense and the Red Cross speed to the rescue.

Spring is the time for a special weather eye to the tornado-spawning southwest. Last year, for instance, every major tornado occurred between February and May. On one day—April 3—four giant twisters killed 30 persons, injured 415 and caused an estimated $13,760,000 damage.

There is no way to prevent a tornado. But early warning, proper precautions and speedy rescue of victims can save lives. In addition, disaster funds administered by the Federal Civil Defense Administration can provide emergency repairs and restoration of vital community facilities when Federal assistance is authorized by the President to augment State and local efforts.

"Boy am I glad to see you," an energetic young businessman said one day as we met on the street. "You see, I'm fed up with acreage life. I'd like for you to sell our place."

"Okay," I said, "but what made you tired of the acreage?"

"I want my weekends free," he said emphatically. "When weekends come, I like to have fun. I want to go to the hills, go fishing or hunting. Anything but stay at home. But on an acreage, you have to stick around and do the work. Believe me, there's plenty of it too."

"Oh, it can't be that bad," I replied jokingly.

"Yeah, it really is," he replied seriously. "When we bought it, I thought I could keep it up by working a few hours a week in the evening. But the demands of my business rob me of evening time. So, like it or not, I'm stuck when weekends come."

"Well," I said, "we'll sell you out."

Sure enough — we did.

If you plan to sell your acreage—let us SERVE YOU too!

"TIGHT MONEY"

For a simple explanation of why money is "tight", we suggest that you read the May issue of "Reader's Digest." "The King who got squeezed by "Tight Money".

Boiled down, the answer is simple: "There is no such thing as a free lunch. When people borrow more than they save, soon there is a shortage of money."

Cadillac

Third Generation at the Wheel!

"Like father, like son", the poets say.

And never was it truer than in the case of a great many fine Cadillac families.

For there are, in our land today, a number of families that currently boast as many as three generations at the wheel.

We mention this simply to underscore a great and dramatic truth about Cadillac—that, of course, is its unchanging goodness and quality.

For fifty-five years, the Cadillac name has signified one and the same thing to motorists everywhere—a motor car created at the highest level that automotive science would permit.

Over that time, Cadillac has attracted to the ranks of its owners the finest list of names to be found anywhere on the American motoring scene.

And, those who have followed the path to Cadillac in 1957 are enjoying the most abundant blessings of this ceaseless crusade for quality.

The new "car of cars", with coachcraft by Fleetwood, is beautiful and luxurious to an unprecedented degree. And its performance and handling ease are a revelation!

Certainly, the Cadillac car has now become an even wiser investment for an even wider circle of America's motorists.

If you have yet to acquaint yourself with these brilliant Cadillac virtues for 1957, your dealer will be delighted to tell you how easily you can make Cadillac a fine family custom of your own!

Water May Rot Window Sash

Window sash has a tendency to rot quickly if it is exposed to moisture. If some of the putty chips away, it should be repaired quickly, even though the window may not seem to be leaking air or water.

Quick repair prevents decay from starting in the delicate wooden members. Calking around the windows keeps out drafts and minimizes invasion of moisture.

Storm sash and weatherstripping cut heating bills, protect windows and frames. Pay particular attention to the point where the side frames on windows strike the sill. Water can work into the cracks and soak into the end grain, thus causing decay.

This is true wherever any structural member in a vertical position rests upon a horizontal. Such joints should be calked and well paint sealed.

Tecumseh Homes Shows "The Sweetbriar"

The Sweetbriar, located at 1002 Sunset Rd., is the newest National Home model. Open house will be held Saturday and Sunday from 1-9 p.m.

The Sweetbriar, an outstanding new National home for 1957, will be featured at an open house this week-end by Tecumseh Homes, Inc., developers of "Sunset Meadows" subdivision. It is located at 1002 Sunset Rd. With its three bedrooms and bath and a half, the Sweetbriar offers the utmost in livability and freedom of movement throughout the house, according to Jack Shutt, National Homes builder-dealer in Tecumseh since January of 1956.

The attractive home, available in both traditional and contemporary styling, features a 28-foot width. This permits adequate space and comfortable room arrangement throughout the house. Comfortable, pleasant entertaining is made possible by the large-sized living and dining areas in the Sweetbriar. Large parties can be handled easily and comfortable, yet the room arrangement lends itself beautifully to the right-size conversation areas. Extremely flexible furniture arrangement is possible and everyone can suit his own taste.

There is a guest closet conveniently located near the front door.

The dining-family room in the Sweetbriar serves both purposes very well. There is ample room to seat guests at even the largest of holiday gatherings. The sliding glass doors in this area afford an attractive view of the patio and provide a convenient access. Average lot sizes are 80 x 150 ft.

The kitchen is arranged so that it is completely shut off from the view of guests in the living room. Its L-shaped arrangement makes it easy for the busy housewife to do her kitchen chores and saves her countless steps. There is a kitchen window to make that area bright and cheerful and to enable the mother to easily keep an eye on the children playing in the yard.

The laundry area of the Sweetbriar is located handy to both the bedrooms and the kitchen. Yet it is off by itself and completely out of sight of guests. Its location makes it easy for the housewife to take her laundry out the rear door for drying, without carrying damp clothes through the house.

The half-bath and rear closet of the Sweetbriar are features that the housewives and mothers especially want. With this arrangement, the children can come into the area of the house from the outside, take off their muddy boots without tracking up the rest of the house. If they are particularly dirty, it is quick and easy to wash them up. Furthermore, the convenient access to the half bath from the master bedroom solves the morning traffic jam. Two entrances to this half bath permit direct entry to the bedrooms without going through the living room, dining room, or even the kitchen.

All the large bedrooms have ample closet space and plenty of room for attractive furniture placement. The master bedroom will easily take twin or oversized double beds, plus a dresser, chest, floor lamps and even a chaise lounge so the wife can also use it as a sitting or sewing room if she desires.

Roughed-In Bath Saves When Building Home

Anyone building or buying a new home should not fail to check on whether provisions have been made for the future expansion of bathroom facilities.

Such provisions, made while the house still is under construction, will benefit the home owner later.

Once a home has been completed, walls and floors must be opened to install extra piping for additional bathroom facilities. The expense of this work can make a considerable difference in the cost of a finished bathroom.

If provisions have been made, at the first sign of congestion in a single bathroom, an unfinished one can be made usable simply by connecting new fixtures to existing piping. Time is saved and there is a minimum of interference with the household routine.

Space problems are eliminated if there is an unfinished bath. It already has been set aside for expansion so that it is not necessary to convert a room being used for another purpose.

Basement Models To Be Shown In Indian Hills

Waskin Development Co. is announcing, in a page advertisement in this issue of the Herald, their new full basement homes which are ready for showing. The homes are 3 bedroom ranch type equipped with the latest features. They are being shown daily and Sunday from 1 to 9 p.m. on Russell Rd. at Adrian St.

Read the ad on these homes for complete information. It will be found in this section of the paper.

Time-Saver For Putting Up Studs

To avoid endless measuring while putting up a great many studs, such as when finishing an attic, take a tip from professionals.

After putting up the first two studs, make certain they're exactly 16 inches apart, cut a piece of wood that fits snugly between them and use this as a measuring stick.

Staining Wood Emphasizes Grain

One of the most popular finishes for furniture is wood stain. The grain of wood is made up of hard and soft areas. The soft portions absorb the stain more quickly than the hard ones.

When the stain has set long enough to permit its working into the wood, wipe the excess off the surface. This leaves the hard areas lighter than the soft sections. In this way the grain of the wood is emphasized.

Ready-made stains, easy to apply, are available at your dealer's.

45,000 Pools

The swimming-pool industry expects to build 45,000 units this year. Almost two-thirds will be of the backyard variety.

Readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (265:5): "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual, — they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite, — in order that sin and mortality may be put off."

Scriptural selections to be read include the following from Psalms (89:15): "Blessed is the people that know the joyful sound: they shall walk, O Lord, in the light of thy countenance."

EGG PRODUCTION

Egg prices are low at present, but they may rise to a more normal level by fall, according to agricultural economist K. T. Wright of Michigan State University.

In cooperation with the M.S.U. poultry department, Wright recently studied records of 101 Michigan laying flocks for a period of fairly normal prices. The year ending in September 1956 was chosen as egg and feed prices then were about equal to the 1952-55 average. The average hen in the study laid 206 eggs and returned an income of $7.79 during the year. Total cost of feeding, housing, and caring for her was $7.68, leaving an 11-cent profit.

Egg sales averaged 45 cents per dozen. With feed, culling and mortality losses and other costs deducted, the labor return was nine cents per dozen eggs or $1.24 per hour of labor. Profits varied greatly from farm to farm. The ten poultrymen with highest net returns netted an average of $1.95 per bird. The ten flocks with lowest returns lost $2.38 per bird.

Why this difference between flocks? First, the high profit flocks produced more eggs per hen and sold them at higher prices. Production was boosted by the use of high producing strains. Also the high return flocks leaned toward Leghorns and other light breeds which out-produced the heavy breeds by 25 eggs per hen per year. Owners of high-return flocks purchased their chicks by around February 15. This apparently increased total egg production. Also, it provided good production when the fall egg price peak came. The experiment showed that sales to hatcheries and careful grading can be profitable. Feed and labor costs plus mortality and culling losses were fully as important as egg prices. The high-profit farmers received six cents more per dozen eggs sold than the low-profit farmers. However, they saved 19 cents per dozen through reduced costs. High producing hens, especially from the light breeds, used feed more efficiently.

Feed costs were cut by good feeding practices and the use of low-priced farm grains. The larger flocks tended to use labor more efficiently. In the study a flock of 2,000 birds required 50 per cent less time per hen than a flock of 300. Good work methods and modern equipment also saved time.

Losses through culling and death amounted to nine cents per dozen eggs produced in the low-return flocks, 50 per cent more than in the high return flocks. The secret here is a strong, healthy bird that produces for a long time. In fact, Wright believes that chickens with a 15-month laying period can be profitable even if they require extra housing. Money can also be saved by filling the chicken house to capacity. Wright feels that some producers over-invest in buildings and equipment.

May 31st Final Date For Corn Under Support

Producers with 1956-crop corn who plan on placing it under price support were reminded by T. O. Brittain Chairman of the Lenawee County ASC Committee that the final availability date is May 31, 1957. Mr. Brittain pointed out that loans on warehouse-stored corn or purchase agreements on 1956-crop corn could be obtained at the Lenawee County ASC Office 118 W. Church St., Adrian, Michigan, any time up to the close of business Friday May 31, 1957 but applications should be filed early in May if possible.

In the case of farm-stored corn to be placed under loan, Mr. Brittain stated producers must file applications by May 15, 1957 to provide sufficient time for inspection of the loan collateral and completion of the loan documents by the deadline date May 31, 1957.

As of April 15, 1957, farmers in Lenawee County had placed a total of 389,416 bushels of 1956-crop corn under price support, Mr. Brittain stated. He explained that of this total 47,544 bushels were under warehouse-stored loan, 270,382 bushels were under farm-stored loan and 71,490 bushels were under purchase agreement. These figures compare with 79,707 bushels warehouse-stored loan, 318,155 bushels farm-stored loan and 124,486 bushels covered by purchase agreement from the 1955-crop corn a year ago.

Sanitation Key To Farm Fly Control

Sanitation can reduce the number of flies on the farm by as much as 95 per cent according to entomologists. Spraying of manure piles and messy watering areas and good management of grass silos are big steps in good sanitation. Spraying of walls and ceilings and using space sprays can also help in controlling the eternal fly problem around the barnyard.

Wall and ceiling sprays in the barn must be applied when the animals are outside to protect their skin. For residual spraying, authorities suggest malathion and diazinon. Syrups mixed with spray and other wet or dry baits can be used. Spraying of the air in a building may become more popular in the future. Permanently mounted or portable sprayers can be used. The best sprays for this purpose contain compounds known as pyrethrins in combinaton with helping substances called synergists.

In recent years, scientists have discovered that special care is needed in direct spraying of animals. Stock raisers are warned that methoxychlor and other chlorinated hydrocarbon sprays should not be used for this purpose. When you spray you should always follow the directions on the package.

News From The Tecumseh Grade Schools

CENTRAL SCHOOL NEWS

We have the following on our Lost and Found table in the hall at the Central school. All of these items have been lost this school year. Any articles not claimed by May 31, 1957 will be given ot the Good Will Industries.

3 Jackets; 2 Girls Jeans; 3 Towels; 5 Sweaters; 12 pr. Overshoes; 11 Scarves; 8 Winter hats; 3 Baseball hats; 54 Gloves; 11 Sox; 7 Wash clothes.

Robins have certainly found a place in the room belonging to Miss Lukens and her first graders. Louann Geringer brought a picture of a mother robin feeding her little ones and the children used this as a subject for a story. Gary Easton brought in a robin egg, and two of the reading classes read a story about some robins who built a nest near Jim and Patty's home.

The children have a new light weight ball bat. They bought it with the P.T.A. attendance money. Both boys and girls have become interested in playing ball.

Steve Maples and Linda Oberlin have accompanied the class on the piano while the others sang songs. They really think it is fun to sing while a classmate plays.

Linda Baaske, Brad Brees and Buddy Work proved to be very competent readers this week.

The first graders are excited and happy making plans for a trip to Toledo Zoo. Mrs. Neitling's boys and girls will make the trip on the school activity bus on May 21.

Twenty-five of Mrs. Neitling's first graders completed the last of the first grade basic readers this week. They have also read several supplementary readers. We are proud that in one school year, we have learned to read so well. We find that we are now able to read many of the library books without help.

During the last few weeks, we have received three new children. Two of the children are from Ohio and one is from Delaware. They have some interesting things to tell us about the schools they attended before coming to Tecumseh.

Every Friday is movie day in our room. We enjoy seeing pictures about our favorite animals and fairy characters on the film strips.

On Monday, May 6, Mrs. Whiting took her children to Ann Arbor to the Science Museum. Mrs. Rutherford, Mrs. Kayner and Mrs. Williamson accompanied them. The prehistoric animals were especially interesting. The boys and girls were sorry that Joseph Poley was ill, as he was making a hobby of collecting minature dinosours, etc.

Mr. Sawyer's fifth grade children wish to thank Mr. John Saling, local proprietor of the "Camera Shop," for presenting a most interesting talk on "Fire Prevention." It greatly helped us to better understand our current unit in science, "How to Control Fire."

The children are enjoying the use of an electric light-up board in our room. It is a large board having about sixty 3x5 cards placed on it with various guestions and answers. When pointers are placed on both the question and the right answer, the clown's eyes light up. We are now reviewing fractions and our studies of Canada on it. Some of the children are making questions and answers to be placed on the board.

Lots of fun was had by all when we played a spelling baseball game.

In Social Studies, we are study- neighbors of Mexico, Central America and South America.

The children in Mrs. Puffer's room have been studying in Social Studies about big city fire departments, so one day they all went to visit the Tecumseh fire station. Chief Price showed them all the equipment and the children decided that their own department can protect the community as efficiently as a city fire company can.

Later they wrote thank-you notes to chief Price and walked to the Post Office and mailed them.

Mrs. Callihan's fourth grade had their last Junior American Citizen meeting Wednesday. Because of no school during July. Independence Day was included in the program with May Day and Memorial Day. Each of the boys and girls have had a part in one of the programs. We have enjoyed studying about some of the special national days. We have learned a little bit bout conducting a business meeting, listening to a program, finding ways of getting material on these subjects and remembering that these United States are good states to live in.

RIDGEWAY SCHOOL NEWS

There are 29 children in the 3rd and 4th grade room at Ridgeway. We are all going to the Music Festival. We are all going to do a dance called "Push the Business On." There will be two groups doing the dance. The couples in the first group are:

Judy Wiemer, David Woods; Cathy Brown, Douglas Dew; Sandra Skelton, Ted Tiede; Beverly Myers, Barrie Finnegan.

The couples in the second group are:

The costumes for the dancers are:

The children that are not dancing will be singing. The Festival will be May 8th in Adrian.

PATTERSON SCHOOL NEWS

It is softball and baseball season now. Because of this the Patterson sizth grade girls are going to play the Manchester girls Wednesday after school.

The boys played a game of baseball with the Manchester boys last Saturday. The Manchester boys won 15 to 9.

We will start to study China in social studies soon. We are working hard to finish up the book.

In English we studied about giving directions. So we made a class project of marking directions to some certain place about four blocks away. At the end of the directions there was a note to make sure they were at the right place. Some of us left candy bars, too.

Wednesday we had art outside by the creek. We are fortunate in having such a beautiful spot so near our school.

The addition to our school is going up very fast. We are almost certain it will be ready by fall.

The first gade had a visitor from Jackson last Friday. Her name was Mrs. Wooster and she told us about her first graders. We told her about the things we like to do.

We hope our mothers like the gifts we made for them for Mother's Day. We think the little baskets we made looked pretty with real flowers growing in them.

The second grade finished paste-up maps of the United States, and each one told of trips to other states. Together we have seen much of the United States.

We are especially interested in our own state of Michigan and are hearing the story "Paddle-to-the-Sea," We saw some slide pictures of the Straits of Mackinaw, the new bridge from the beginning of construction until December 1956, Mackinaw Island, Taquamenon Falls, the locks at Saulte Ste. Marie, the Pictured Rocks, Cut River, and South Haven. We think we have a beautiful state. In connection with this, we have some idea of how the water flows from the lakes to the Atlantic Ocean. Philip Brown brought some pictures of Niagara Falls and those taken from the air certainly let us see how the water falls into the lake below.

We have two baseball teams in second grade and we do like to play baseball!

In 5th grade art class we made cards for our Mothers agreeing to do certain household duties without complaining.

Dorothy Nettleman had the misfortune to break a bone in her foot, while jumping rope, last Thursday. She will have to wear a cast for some time.

We have the display case at the West entrance of the school now. In it we have put a display of spring bonnets that the girls made during the time the boys were at gym.

We have some very fine manuscript writers in our kindergarten room. When we have a little time after our work is finished we like to write the names of the colors or any important signs that we see about our room.

One day we enjoyed watching a big machine out of our windows. It could lift large bricks and move them to another place all by itself. There are many interesting things for us to see and learn about while the men are making Patterson School larger. We have watched them mix cement, dig the foundation and move large piles of dirt. We like to write A. DART CO. that we can see on a large green truck from our room.

WE ARE SINCERE . . .
IT IS BECAUSE

We want every element of our funeral service to please you — and are usually successful. The people of Tecumseh speak well of Green's service — and for good reason.

We are sincere in our efforts. We follow up on our duties — we complete every task — we do much to lighten your burden. We call it sincere service, and most everyone agrees that it is.

Temperature Critical In Milk Shortage

The storage temperature of milk is an important and touchy thing for the dairyman, reports Don Murray, Michigan State University extension specialist.

Experiments have shown that high quality milk can be kept for three or four days at 36 degrees F. without significant increases in bacteria. At 38 degrees, most samples of Grade A milk will be acceptable after storage for two days, Murray reports. He warns that storage at 45 degrees will increase the bacterial count in a short time. In tests, one fourth of the samples stored at this temperature became unacceptable within a single day.

Experiments also found that bacterial growth was particularly extensive in samples which had counts above 50,000 per milliliter when the tests began.

Pre-Nuptial Shower Honors Miss King

A pre-nuptial shower honoring the marriage of Miss Alice Pearl King to Daniel Smith, which will be June 8th, was held at the home of Mrs. Ned Kotts on N. Adrian road Friday evening. Approximately 35 guests were present. Mrs. Allan Bordine was the hostess assisted by the bride's mother, Mrs. Henry King.

An archway in the Kotts home was decorated with white wedding bells. A mobile was hung in the center of the archway composed of kitchen gadgets that were given out as prizes for the games that were played. Tiny ribbon streamers of pink and blue covering the mobile and wedding bells gave a lovely shower effect. A four tiered cake decorated in blue and pink with a tiny bride on top centered the buffet table and pink plastic umbrellas with Lillies of the Valley tied to the handles and nut cups with lace edges further enhanced the table from which the refreshments were served. Mrs. Bordine cut the cake and Mrs. Dorman Vescelius and Mrs. King assisted with the serving. Miss King received many lovely gifts.

The zone is 3/10 of a mile long with a sign at each end.

Final plans were made to attend the television program "Ladies Day," Tuesday, May 28th. Eleven members and fourteen guests will be attending.

Annual Kitchen Tour Well Attended Again This Year

The annual Kitchen Tour sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary of the St. Peter's Episcopal Church was a tremendous success last Thursday. Ladies are shown on the right above selecting from among the breads for sale at the H. H. Koelbel home located on River Acres Drive. (Mrs. Koelbel is on the right above) Other homes visited were the J. E. Layton home, the C. H. Mensing home, the R. J. Bowers home and the P. C. Hohenstein home.

Tea was served in the Parish House between 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. (picture on the right) The number of people attending has not been determined as yet but will be reported in next week's issue of the Herald. The committee believe the profit from the tour to be about the same as it was last year. Food in some of the homes was all sold by 2:45 p.m. About 50% of the people attending came from out of town, including some from Flint, Jackson, Detroit and several towns in the central part of Ohio. Many were interested in gaining knowledge of the tour for use as a money making project for their own organiaztions.

It is hoped that next year a bit more interest may be stimulated locally.

Window Displays To Convey Meaning Of Memorial Poppy

Mrs. Harold Green is in charge of the two window displays in the down town section of Tecumseh that convey to the public the real meaning of the American Legion Memorial Poppy. The display in the window of Palman's store building is in duplication of the winning poppy poster in Class 1 made by Vicky Gooding and the display in the window of Green's Men's Wear shows an idea used by one of the other children on a poster. It is hoped that Tecumseh residents will stop by the windows and think a bit on the meaning of the little red poppy to the disabled Veteran who made them as well as wearing one in memory of those men who died that we in the United States might indulge in our many freedoms.

Members of the American Legion and Auxiliary will be selling poppies on the streets tomorrow and Saturday to earn funds for their work in child welfare and with the disabled veterans and their families.

NEED APPARENT

The lack of planned activity in Tecumseh, directly in connection with Michigan Week, brings the need for a Chamber of Commerce and a full time secretary squarely in view. Mayor Exchange day was the only activity that attention was given to. Even those plans fell short of some of the ones made and carried out by some of our smaller neighboring communities.

I think that there is little doubt that a Chamber of Commerce, despite past experience, could be successful in Tecumseh. One of the prime requisites seems to be to hire a full time secretary who has a proven record of success in Chamber operation. A top man could do much to achieve the needed cooperation and put the Chamber on a firm lasting foundation.

TOP CLASS

Among the young men and young women graduating Wednesday, there are many that are destined to go far in life. After having the opportunity to work with some of them on various projects, I am firmly convinced that many of them at least do not deserve the general criticism so often leveled at today's High School youth. Just general criticism cannot be made on the strength of individual cases as it is so often done today.

Scouts Attended Camporee Over Last Weekend

Eighteen boys from Troop 73 with their scout leader, Howard Wilson, Jr. and 12 boys from Troop 57 with Scoutmaster, Almond Curtis attended the Boy Scout Camporee of Lenape District held at Washington Lake over the weekend. The Tecumseh Troops received recognition for their scouting skills. One of the judges said that they had the first pioneer camp settlement he had seen set up by Boys their age. Judges were the executives from the Wolverine Council.

The Woodpecker Patrol, with Dennis Irelan as patrol leader, received a blue ribbon as did the Apache patrol with Ross Stephenson as leader. Buffalo Patrol, with Tom Dickinson as patrol leader, received a red ribbon. These patrols under the leadership of Howard Wilson placed second in points in the district and came within 1½ points of winning first place.

The Apache Patrol of Troop 57 received a blue ribbon as did the Wolf Patrol with Daniel Carpenter as patrol leader. The rope throwing and bugle contests were canceled because of the inclimate weather.

Mr. Wilson stated that everything was damp but the boys spirits and they had a wonderful outing. Tecumseh is indebted to these men who take such an avid interest in our Youth that they leave their own comfortable homes and families to spend one of the wettest weekends we have had pioneer camping with their troops.

Larry Harper is the senior patrol leader for both patrols in Troop 57. The following boys have sold many first aide kits which will be delivered to Tecumseh residents in about two weeks: Jerry Decker, $60.; Paul Decker, $56.; David Langham, $31.; David Carpenter, $30. and Gerald Carpenter, $20.

Sunday Christian Science Service

The spiritual basis of true grace and beauty will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Bible passages to be read in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul and Body" include the following from Psalms (90:16, 17): "Let thy work appear unto thy servants, and thy glory unto their children. And let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us; and establish thou the work of our hands upon us; yea, the work of our hands establish thou it."

"From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (247:19-24): "Comeliness and grace are independent of matter. Being possesses its qualities before they are perceived humanly. Beauty is a thing of life, which dwells forever in the eternal Mind and reflects the charms of His goodness in expression, form, outline, and color."

4-H Scholarships Increased to $400

Scholarships in the national 4-H awards programs have been increased from $300 to $400, announced G. L. Noble, director, National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, Chicago.

G. L. Noble

Approximately 170 college scholarships of $400 each will be awarded at the national level to 4-H Club members whose 1957 records of achievement in their chosen projects are judged best by the Cooperative Extension Service. The scholarships will be presented to the national champions next December during the 36th annual 4-H Club Congress, Noble said.

Among the 4-H activities offering awards of scholarships as well as trips to the Club Congress are the Boys' Agricultural, Poultry, Garden, and Electric programs. Donors of the awards respectively are: International Harvester, Sears-Roebuck Foundation, Allis-Chalmers, and the Westinghouse Educational Foundation. All have supported 4-H work for many years through programs arranged and announced by the National Committee and the Extension Service.

Last year 4-H awards and leader training funds distributed through the National Committee amounted to $469,397. A similar sum has been assured again this year from non-governmental sources, according to Mr. Noble.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
from The Bible

Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.—(II Corinthians 5, 17.)

Through our Savior and Redeemer, Lord Jesus Christ, in real repentance we can receive God's forgiveness and tender mercy. In that moment, in His strength, we become in truth a "new man" completely — leaving behind the shame and sins of the past.

Grade School News

GRUB SCHOOL

After the fourth graders in Mrs. Whiting's room read the story of "Rumplestiltskin", they acted it out for Mrs. Baily's room. Joel Rutherford was especially good as Rumplestiltskin. They wonder if perhaps he will be a great actor someday!

Many groups of children have been having a good time taking field trips. Mrs. Baily's fourth graders went to Ann Arbor to the Science Building. Everyone was present that day and the weather was just right.

Three mothers went with the group. They all enjoyed the many things they saw and also liked eating their sack lunches in the bus on the way home. The bus driver stopped off of the main highway so the folks would not be jolted while eating or bothered with too much traffic.

Mrs. Becker's sixth graders have been busy studying about Australia. It has been very interesting because of its curious plant and animal life. They saw a film-strip on Australia and made travel posters about that country.

The sixth graders enjoyed very much their field trip to Greenfield Village on May 17.

Each day their room has had a fresh supply of beautiful spring flowers.

The girls played a game of softball after school with the girls in Mrs. Crawford's sixth grade.

The busy sixth graders are already making plans for the summer vacation. Several are trying out for the Little League Baseball team. Some are going to take swimming lessons and others are going to camp.

PATTERSON SCHOOL

The fourth grade is still talking about the trip we took last week. We had a very good time and learned many interesting things.

We took a school bus to Ann Arbor to visit the Museum of Natural History. There are four floors filled with so many wonderful exhibits that we hardly knew which to see first. Four of our mothers went with us and we divided into small groups so that we could look at the things that were of the most interest to us.

After leaving the Museum we went to the Botanical Gardens. The man who is in charge of the gardens gave us permission to eat our lunches on the lawn. As we were very hungry and tired we really enjoyed this time to rest.

A guide took us through the many greenhouses, telling us about the plants and explaining the experiments which the students there are doing. We think we enjoyed seeing the tropical plants most of all, even though the building was very warm. The many kinds of cactus plants were very interesting, too.

We want to thank Mrs. Mead, Mrs. Hammack, Mrs. Kohler, and Mrs. Bryan for going with us, and we hope they enjoyed the trip as much as we did.

The first grade had a fine time when they went to the Toledo Zoo. It was hard for them to decide what they liked best. It was fun to see all the animals but some thought it the most fun to take a long ride in the school bus and eat their lunch out of a paper bag and drink kool-aid from a big jug.

The workmen on the addition to Patterson had to work with an air hammer on an outside wall of our second grade room. We had our classes in the first grade room one day and the third grade room another day while those rooms were on trips. One other day we did our work in the hall. This was fun for the short time but we're glad to be back in our own room now.

Kathy Hall and Leslie Pence have joined our eight-year-olds. We enjoyed the birthday treats.

We have nearly all finished all of our regular second grade reading and have been reading and reporting on library books.

Mrs. Garlick is reading "Exploring Michigan" to us and we have a great many pictures of Michigan on our bulletin board. We especially enjoyed the stories about how the Great Spirit made Michigan, how Sleeping Bear Point came to be, and Paul Bunyan and his blue ox Babe.

We have a toad for a visitor in our room just now. Sue Illeck brought it for us to see. Merton Boss brought a lizard one day. He was very interesting.

We have been working in Science on seeds and how they move and grow. We planted some in paper cups and are watching to see how they are different.

This month in third grade we are celebrating the birthdays of all the children whose birthdays fall in the summer months. The list is quite long—Michael Schultz, Marsha Richards, Gary Williams, Jackie Filter, Lee Selders, Linda Gilbert, Rayanna White, Margaret Savage, Paul Stoner and Lois Scriver.

For our trip this year, we visited the Continental Baking Co. in Toledo. They are the makers of Wonder Bread and Hostess Cupcakes. We saw bread and hamburger rolls being baked. Our first stop was the basement where they blend flours together and sift it. From the basement we went to the third floor where the mixing takes place. There the ingredients are weighed and measured. They first make a "sponge". This is made in a large "hopper". After the sponge is made in a large mixer, it is put into large tubs and rolled into a Fermentation Room to rise. It is then returned to a mixing machine to have other ingredients added and to be mixed. They mix it for nine minutes and again it goes to the Fermentation Room to rise. They mix enough dough for six hundred loaves at once. After it rises it goes into a "divider" that divides the dough for individual loaves. The "rounding" machine rounds the loaves and a "moulder" presses out all the air bubbles. From there it is put into the baking pans and travels to the Proofing Room where it rises again. Then the bread pans are put on a conveyor belt which moves them through a long oven and they are all baked when they come out. The loaves are then cooled, sliced and wrapped and sent to the trucks for delivery. When the tour was over, we each received a miniature loaf of bread.

Because our bus broke down and we could not finish our trip as we had planned through Driggs Dairy on the way back, we are going there next week. We are sure it will be as interesting as the bakery was.

We will see you next week and tell you all about it.

Thursday after school, we boys played softball with the girls. The final score was 60 to nothing. The girls are disappointed because we shut them out.

We are hoping for a warm sunny day for our trip to Greenfield Village. We will go Friday morning, May 24.

Bonnie Oyer broke the little finger on her left hand last week. She will not be able to play her flute in the band for the remainder of the year.

We will take our final review test in spelling this Friday. After the test we will have finished our book.

The addition to our school is going up rapidly.

JUNIOR AMERICAN CITIZENS CLUB.

The meeting was called to order by David Dustin, the president.

We said the Junior American Citizens Prayer, Creed, along with the Pledge of Allegiance, and sang the Star Spangled Banner.

Barbara Colgrove called the roll, while Fawn Choske, the treasurer, took up the dues.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary.

We than discussed what to do with the money we have in our treasury.

We are going to use the money which we have saved up on our trip.

Summer Feeding Program Choice

Which shall it be — strip grazing, green chopping, or storage feeding? With the trend toward larger dairy herds, many dairymen are faced with the problem of providing adequate summer feed, with the same amount of land. Strip grazing and storage feeding, properly managed, will generally increase the yield of TDN per acre by approximately 15-25% and green chopping by about 25-30%. When pasture is continuously grazed much of the feed value is lost from tramping and poorer forage quality due to advanced stages of maturity of the crop. Many dairymen could greatly increase the amount of feed value per acre when using continuous grazing by improved management practices such as feeding grass silage during the dry season and planning a "pasture calendar" (grow a variety of different kinds of forages such as rye, alfalfa-brome, reed canary grass, Sudan grass, etc.)

Regardless of the type of pasture program followed it should be kept in mind that "no system in itself is the answer." Dairymen should select the system or combination of systems that will give the best results under his conditions.

Field and Stream

A dump fire in Delta county May 7 touched off a blaze that swept across more than 600 acres of forest and grassland before it was brought under control. The burned area, between Gladstone and Escanaba, was mainly jack pine and grass plains. Most of the land in this part of the county is privately-owned and no state land was affected.

M. M. Bergman, in charge of the Conservation Department's fire control section, said the fire points up critical conditions in northern portions of the state.

"Wooded areas are extremely dry in the north and fire hazards will remain high unless the state receives sufficient rainfall soon," Bergman said. He urged all landowners and sportsmen to exercise caution when smoking or using fires during this critical stage.

The mounting fire danger was reflected in the latest weekly report of fire-losses. During the week ending May 5, 118 fires burned 324 acres throughout the state.

Heaviest losses during the week were in the northern lower peninsula where 67 fires burned 204 acres. Forty-seven fires were reported in the U.P., with damage to 106 acres, while four fires in the southern lower peninsula damaged another 14 acres.

Through May 5 this year, 352 fires on state and private forests and grasslands burned a total of 2830 acres. During the same period last year, the damage total was about 1800 acres.

SECOND CLASS CITIZENS

Massachusetts has no major river basins. It gets its electric power from fuel plants, rather than hydroelectric installations. But, up to June 30, 1955, Massachusetts taxpayers had put up nearly $226 million for multi-purpose river basin projects.

How can this be? The answer is that the projects were built by government in other states and partly financed with Massachusetts money. And what is true of Massachusetts is true throughout the country. About 20 per cent of the power users of this country get power from government plants. The remaining 80 per cent get it from independent utility companies — and they help subsidize the power bills of the 20 per cent.

They do that in various ways. Socialized power is wholly free from federal taxes, It is also either wholly free of local taxes or pays relatively small sums in lieu thereof. The socialized power projects get all manner of special privileges from the government, at the expense of the general taxpayers. To make this sorry matter worse, socialized federal power is sold under a preference clause, which gives first rights to public bodies—municipalities, co-ops, public power districts, etc.—which also usually pay little or nothing in taxes. Customers of the independent utilities can have only what is left, if any. So they become second-class citizens in this—except when it comes to paying the taxes!

Socialism sure is expensive—both in money and in liberty.

APPLAUDS

Mr. Dulles has been criticized for his blunt statements to the effect that this ountry, despite every desire to maintain peace was willing to go to war to protect its position, its allies and its treaties. Well, how else can any nation talk to the Russians? It is the only language they understand. No other method has ever worked . . . and this method has! . . .

☆ ☆ ☆

PEOPLE ARE PEOPLE

Joseph Alsop warns that Soviet military-industrial power is growing, and that we must not lag behind in the race.

At the same time, he finds grounds for long-range hope. Here, in his words, is why: "The Soviet failure, which has only been really proven in the last year, is the failure to produce the famous 'new Soviet man' so long envisaged by the Kremlin's masters. The moral laws have not been repealed in the Soviet Union, even although they were temporarily suspended by sheer terror. Men and women have not lost their desire to be free . . . People still want to be people, instead of a higher form of ant."

In this way lay the seeds which will bring ultimate destruction to the communist tyranny. Meanwhile, we must watch and wait — and carry a big stick.

UNARMED

"We should not allow our young people to enter the adult world unarmed against Communism. They should have the best armor that we can give them. And the best armor against Communism is the truth about it—what it is, how it originated, what it does to destroy individual rights and human freedoms. Thus armed, our young people can be vigorous champions of Democracy, and not merely subservient followers of it."

Realty Views

"We'd like to buy a house," said a young lady who introduced herself as Mrs. Smart.

"You've come to the right place," I said reassuringly.

"Well, I hope so," she said sincerely, "because I've been looking around for several days."

She continued, "Now that Spring is here, I'm anxious to get into a real home. We've been cooped up in a tiny apartment all winter. However, I'm getting discouraged. All I really know right now is that there are dozens of homes in Tecumseh which I don't want to buy."

We had a frank discussion of the features she wanted in a home. And also, talked over their financial situation.

"From what you've told me," I said, "I honestly think we have exactly the right home for you."

A few hours later, the Smart's agreed—and bought the house.

Perhaps, you too are "weary" of house-hunting. If so, may we offer this bit of encouraging advice:

"Don't give up until you've talked with us—and seen the pick of our best residential values."

Just stop by anytime, or better yet, phone for an appointment. We'd be pleased to HELP you solve your housing problem.

Drugs – And The Things We Eat . . .

Do you know that "wonder drugs" now are a part of most every food we eat . . . ? Yes—this is true to a degree that seems almost fantastic.

Antibiotics, and hundreds of specialized high-power drugs are in the daily feeds of meat animals. They keep them in better health and promote faster growth and marketing — and better products. The poultry and dairy industries use great quantities of these drugs too — just a part of the many industries indebted to Pharmacy.

Grade School News

GRUB SCHOOL

This will be our last news report until next fall. We are all working hard in order to get our work completed for the year. In many of our classes we will be reviewing.

In the fourth grade our science and health have been similar in that they have stressed care of our body machines. The third graders have learned a great deal about the spread of diseases; and in science, the needs of plants.

In arithmetic the third graders are enjoying multiplication. The fourth graders are working on fractions. Most of us know our multiplication tables now.

The third graders made a clay model village for their community in social studies. The fourth graders are beginning study of things done by great Americans.

We are sorry that Fred Freeman of the third grade has had such a difficult time with measles. We all hope he will be back soon. We miss Janet Bourns of the fourth grade who is absent because of illness.

Of special interest to all this month was the Music Festival which was held May 8 in Adrian. Eight couples from our school participated in the Highland Schottische Dance on stage. All of us worked hard on our songs in order to sing well.

In our art class we are working on a gift for our mothers. The gifts are to be surprizes; we can't tell anyone what they are.

LANNING SCHOOL

We are all surprised to think we have only two weeks left of school. We are reviewing now in arithmetic and finding that in some things we need extra work.

Thirty-six of us attended the Music Festival in Adrian and enjoyed it very much. We went on the bus.

We were glad to have Earlene and Eugent Stone join the third grade class. We now have thirty-nine children in our room, This is the same enrollment that we had when we started last September.

CENTRAL SCHOOL

One of the culminating and enjoyable activities of the work done in Central and Patterson this year will be presented tonight, May 23, at the High School at 8:00 p.m. when Mr. Johnson and his elementary music students join with the high school group in an evening of musical selections. Several of Central's fifth and sixth graders will be participating in this event.

Mrs. Neitling's first graders have been busy making plans for the trip to the Toledo Zoo which they enjoyed this week. They read stories about some of the animals they hoped to see, discussed the things they would do to make the day pleasant for everyone, and safety rules they wanted to observe on the bus and at the Zoo.

This week they checked themselves to find out how many words they had learned to spell this year. They have worked very hard on sounds and rhyming words this year and are really glad because now they find they can spell and write many words by just substituting different consonants.

They thought the umbrella-May basket which Alice Creger's aunt made and Alice filled with flowers was very beautiful. They have the basket hanging in the front of the room where everyone can see it.

The children are doing much independent reading these last weeks of school. Many of the children keep a book in their desk to read whenever they have any free time.

Miss Lukens and her first graders arrived back at the school after a somewhat tiring but very enjoyable and satisfying day at the Toledo Zoo this Thursday. They were acompanied by four mothers: Mrs. Don Geringer, Mrs. Fred Oberlin, Mrs. Ben Gillies and Mrs. Harold Easton.

The children have been busy finishing texts and work books and reviewing the alphabet, their numbers and "touching up" for second grade work next fall.

The children enjoyed it when Miss Schoenlein, the gym teacher invited them to visit one of her classes one day. They even had a Levi Wirtanen, David Woodby and Eunice Bunge proved to be very capable story readers this week. The children have been finding it so much fun to select, prepare and read a story to the whole class for story time. Some of the P.T.A. money parents helped them get was used to buy books with large print and first grade vocabularly and they really appreciate the fact that they've had a few more nice books to work with this year. The children hope to keep up their reading skills by borrowing books from the public library this summer.

Second Grade Toured Willow Run

Mrs. Raymond Puffer's Central School second grade children are shown shortiy before leaving by bus on a field trip to Willow Run Terminal. The school administration has made the road bus available and encourages each grade to take one such trip. The trips must be of educational value and fit in an integral part of a subject being studied.

The children were taken on a guided tour of the terminal which included sitting in one of the air liners. They watched engines being installed and food preparation for the passenger flights. The second grade is studying transportation at the present time.

Thrifty meats are from young cattle that have grazed on lush grass. ## Replacing Window Panes Is Do-It-Yourself Project

Be it a broken or cracked pane, here are the steps to replace it during your spring clean-up chores: Remove fragments of glass and clean old putty from the sash, using a chisel or a heavy screw driver. It's a good idea to wear gloves during this operation, since some fragments can be removed only with a hammer.

In measuring for glass use a steel tape measure or a wooden rule. If for any reason the sash is out of alignment, take several measurements to be sure you have the exact inside dimensions.

For smaller panes, single-strength window glass is adequate, but use of double strength glass for metal sash or large windows with a single pane is advised. It should be cut 1/8 to 3/16 inches smaller than the actual opening to allow for sash irregularities, expansion and even stresses.

Apply a thin putty cushion to the groove in the sash, and press the new pane gently into place. Holding the glass in place press or drive glazier's points into wood — using three or four points to a side on larger panes, two on smaller.

Roll putty to pencil thickness and lay the rolls end to end around the sides of the sash. Press the putty into position firmly, and then smooth it with a putty knife to form a triangular bevel between sash edge and glass. Be sure putty doesn't extend above frame on opposite side of glass, and is parallel with it.

A light application of water with a soft paint brush will remove putty smudges from glass, or if you prefer, allow putty to dry a day or two and clean smudges with turpentine.

Bath Can Be Enlarged By Few Changes

Are you stuck with a cramped bathroom? A few changes can add comfort and make the entire room look larger.

First, call on color for help. Replace old fashioned white fixtures with new color fixtures that blend with the rest of the room. Pastel walls and ceilings, complementing the fixtures, will make the room look brighter and larger. Selected accessories can give final touches to the color scheme.

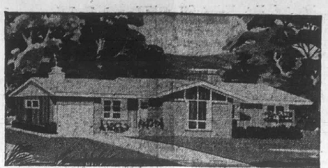
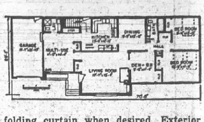
Small lavatories often are helpful. These look larger when enclosed in a countertop. A vanity cabinet beneath can cover the piping and provide a storage place for towels and linens. Of course, corner lavatories make the room look larger by fitting nicely into unused areas.

Square bathtubs or receptor tubs averaging four feet square also fit snugly into corners. They can change the bathroom's appearance and give depth where most needed.





Bath and a half, multi-use room and the den or third bedroom are features of this modern living plan with attached garage. The den or third bedroom can be used as a part of the living room or divided by use of the folding curtain when desired. Exterior is an example of up-to-the-minute styling in brick and vertical siding.

This home has 1,497 sq. ft. of living area. Plans are available fron local lumber dealers with or without basement.

Tipes Given On Care Of Types Of Tile Flooring

ASPHALT TILE

New asphalt tile flooring should not be washed until the tile has become tightly adhered to the subfloor, which may require several days, the National Association of Home Builders advises.

If cleaning the new tile is necessary, the association recommends wiping it with a slightly moistened cloth or mop.

A soft hair brush broom is recommended for sweeping. But don't use sweeping compounds that contain oil or sand. Gasoline, kerosene, benzine, turpentine or organic solvents will injure, soften or discolor asphalt tiles. Stains may be removed with No. 00 steel wool.

After the tiles have set, wash the floor occasionally with a diluted warm suds solution of a good neutral soap or cleaner. Rinse with clear water and dry with a clean mop.

Selfpolishing wax, recommended for asphalt tile, has no odor and dries to a shine without buffing. It can be used also on linoleum, rubber, vinyl, plastic, cork, unsealed concrete, brick and terrazo floors, the associaton advises.

A thin coat of wax is best, because it hardens quickly and resists wear. If applied too thickly, the top of the coat hardens but leaves the undercoat soft.

RUBBER AND CORK TILE

If your flooring is rubber tile, it should be buffed periodically with pads of No. 1 steel wool under a heavy brush, This will prolong the life of the tile and keep it resilient.

The appearance of cork tile can be improved after long service by machine sanding it with No. 1½ sandpaper, followed by finish sanding with No. 00 paper. After the final sanding, wash the floor, rinse and dry thoroughly. Then refinish with a good grade of paste wax, buffed with a polishing machine.

Squeaky Floors Are Caused By Green Lumber

While shrinking, green joists and subfloor can lose much of their nail holding power and the floor itself is short on stiffness and strength.

Such risks can be avoided if dry lumber is specified. Pre-shrunk at the lumber mill, "dry" wood makes the floor structure stable and strong. When the lumber is grade-marked, the user is assured the lumber has been properly seasoned.

When placing new fence posts, clothes-line posts or supports for arbors, be sure to apply preservatives to prevent rotting of the wood that goes beneath the surface of the ground.

Such preservatives, mainly chlorinated phenols, copper and zinc naphthenates and creosote, penetrate the pores of the wood and help it withstand attacks of destructive fungi.

Any type of paint can be applied successfully over the chlorinated phenols and zinc naphthenates. Copper naphthenate and creosote can also be used for the same purpose, but tend to bleed through some paint coatings.

Painting Tips

Remove all screens. Cover all shubbery that is close to the house. Have sturdy ladders in good repair.

Choose a moderately cool, dry day at least three days after a rain. Thoroughly dry surfaces are needed for all paints except cement-base paints for masonry. Work in the shade as much as possible.

Quick Grill

Need an outdoor grill in a hurry? Lay a grate atop four standard size concrete block. A base of patio block on a bed of sand will protect your lawn. After that, you're all set to fire up the evening's fare.

Atomic Power Plant Open House May 25 And 26

To permit interested people to observe construction progress, open house will be held Saturday and Sunday, May 25 and 26, at the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant site near Monroe. Gates will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Fermi Plant is being built by the Power Reactor Development Company, a group of 21 electric and industrial companies including Consumers Power Company, The Detroit Edison Company and The Toledo Edison Company. It will house the world's largest breeder power reactor. Some time after 1960, when full operating capacity is reached, the plant is expected to supply enough electric power to meet the needs of 250,000 people.

Location of the project is on the shore of Lake Erie near the end of Pointe aux Peaux Road, which runs east from M-56 between Rockwood and Monroe.

NEWS OF THE FARM

Lenawee Co. Agricultural Agent's Column - - - - -

Cleaning and disinfecting can help greatly in controlling poultry disease, according to Clayton C. Ingerson, associate county agricultural agent.

All movable equipment should be removed before cleaning the house. Litter and droppings should be taken from the poultry area. Cobwebs and dirt must be swept away, emphasizes Agent Ingerson. After sweeping, scrape off poultry droppings along baseboards, plates, and window sills. A putty knife or wire brush will do the job. Then the house should be thoroughly hosed with water and swept a second time to remove all loose dirt. If the house has a dirt floor, about four inches of soil should be removed. Sand or uncontaminated soil can be added after disinfecting.

To disinfect, Ingerson suggests that you scrub the sills, lower walls, and floor with a stiff-bristled [illegible] of lye in ten gallons of water. Hot water is best. At least an hour after scrubbing, the house should be rinsed with water under pressure. If there are still signs of poultry droppings, a second scrubbing and rinsing are needed.

While lye water should be sufficient if applied thoroughly, many poultrymen play it safe by using a commercial disinfectant. Ingerson emphasizes that a high-pressure sprayer should be used to insure complete saturation of all cracks and crevices. Always observe precautions on the label.

In flocks which have had lice, mites, or other parasites, carbolineum or lindane spray should be applied.

When cleaning the nests and equipment, discard old feed. Dropping material should be removed from feeders, roosts and nests. This probably will mean taking the roosts and nests apart. After scraping, everything should be rinsed and scrubbed in lye solution. If droppings remain, a second cleaning is needed.

If a disinfecting solution is used, Ingerson warns that it must be in contact with the surface of all equipment for at least an hour. With cresol, carbolic acid compounds, and other toxic disinfectants, utensils should be rinsed thoroughly before use. Whenever possible, wait until two or three weeks after cleaning before moving poultry into the house.

50% Slaughtered Have Pneumonia

Recent veterinary research suggests that 50 per cent of all hogs slaughtered in the U. S. are affected with virus pneumonia, a report to the American Veterinary Medical Association said recently.

The disease in pigs affects young animals chiefly, transmission being almost entirely airborne. Symptoms of infection are usually limited to a persistent cough.

Infected pigs, according to researchers, suffer 16 per cent less growth than healthy animals and are 22 per cent less thrifty. Although seldom a cause of death, infected pigs frequently die from secondary infections and the presence of pneumonia is discovered only at post mortem inspection.

Control measures include isolation of farrowing sows and post mortem examination by a veterinarian of several pigs from her litter. Grouping of disease-free litters and replacement of infected stock is advised by authorities.

The Michigan Historical Commission announced recently the designation of a new "Centennial farm" in Ridgeway Township. It is owned and operated by Ronald S. Pocklington, 7587 Pocklington Rd., Britton, Michigan, and has been in his family since 1853. Originally, it was purchased by John Pocklington, great-grandfather of the present owner, from Thomas C. ## Moisture Is The Key To Making Good Silage

The right moisture content of ensilage is essential for good fermentation according to farm crop experts. Silage should be damp enough to pack well and keep air out. However, it should not be so wet that a lot of juice is squeezed from the silo.

With proper fermentation, good legumes make better silage than do weeds and grasses. It is often a good idea to cut the crop before it is mature enough to go in the hay mow. Since immature alfalfa or clover is too damp to be put in the silo when cut, most farmers wilt it in the field. Forage in bunker silos need not be as dry as most of that which goes into upright silos.

Because of the weight from above, lots of pressure is exerted on the bottom of a silo. To allow for this, silage on the bottom should be drier than that in the middle. In the top third of an upright silo, forage should be comparatively damp to insure good packing and settling. The top load can be very damp. Weeds and other waste materials can be put on the very top as they will probably spoil.

With forage that is too damp, corn or cob meal, sugar beet pulp and other fine materials can be used to soak up excess juices. Dried molasses will also do the job. A chemical called sodium metabisulphite helps to control silage odors but does not prevent drainage of juice.

Vacations would be enjoyable if it were not for the pre-vacation stress and the post-vacation strain.

Irrigation Not Profitable On All Farms

Make a careful analysis of your farming operation before investing in irrigation equipment, urge researchers. Irrigation will be profitable for some types of farms while it will not pay for others, according to a study made by Ray Hoglund and Kard Vary, farm economists and Ernest Kidder, agricultural engineer.

In a study of 176 farms in 46 counties, they found that irrigation was most profitable on farms growing strawberries, raspberries, potatoes, sweet corn, tomatoes and other truck or high value crops. Irrigation of lower-value crops such as pasture is less likely to pay unless it means you can keep more cows or maintain milk production at a higher level during base-forming time in the fall, the researchers say.

Irrigation seems to be most profitable in lighter soils. In the level, heavy soils such as those in the Saginaw-Thumb area where sugar beets are a major crop, irrigation is not expected to pay.

The number of acres to be irrigated also affects the profitability of irrigation. The more acres irrigated to use the system to full capacity, the lower the annual costs of owning the system. A system to irrigate up to 15 acres costs at least $2,000. When used to full capacity, the system costs $13 per acre each year for interest and depreciation. If only 5 acres are irrigated, the overhead costs are tripled to $39 per acre.

The study also revealed that some farmers were not getting maximum benefits from irrigation because they were not using adequate amounts of fertilizer to balance out the additional water.

There is a vast difference between the person of importance and the person who wants to appear important.

Iron Petticoat Coming Sunday

Bob Hope and Katharine Hepburn form the intriguing co-starring team of "The Iron Petticoat" in a picture built entirely for laughs. Filmed in Technicolor and Vista Vision in England and released by M-G-M, the comedy satire of a Russian woman flying ace whose eyes are opened to democracy (and romance) by a glib American captain, opens at the Strand Theatre Sunday.

The story in brief is as follows: When Vinka Kovelenko (Miss Hepburn), noted Russian flier, inadvertently lands her plane on an American airfield in Germany, the Americans plan to exploit her "desertion" for propaganda in the Cold War and assign Captain Chuck Lockwood (Hope) to convert her to democracy. He decides he can soften her up better in London, where he can also see his girl friend, Connie. Although at first Vinka, who has not deserted, tries to swing Chuck to the Soviet ideology, she gradually falls for him—and for black lace lingerie—and is arrested by Russian agents as a traitor. Chuck boards the plane which carries her back to Russia to face a firing squad and comes close to being liquidated himself. But all ends happily and hilariously in a surprise climax.

Junior League Teams Were Picked Friday

The Junior League Baseball Teams were picked Friday evening by coaches Glenn Work, Bill Fetti, Gayle Fisher and Russell Hyatt and the Junior League Board composed of Owen Partridge from the Exchange Club, Bob Wallace from the Jaycees, Maynard Lucas from the Rotary Club and Dick Hicks from the Kiwanis Club. City Recreation Director, Robert Breniff, conducted the meeting.

Major league teams were chosen by the use of a grading scale based on throwing, hitting and fielding ability with 5 points being very good in each down to 1 point for very poor. Each coach observed his players and tried to obtain an idea of their playing ability. Director Breniff stated that there is no question that in such a new program composed of 213 boys, some boys were unintentionally overlooked. If they were, they will have a chance to work their way up to the major league teams during the season.

The coaches and Board expressed the hope that parents and players will realize the tremendous task confronting the persons choosing the teams. The yattempted to be impartial and based selections on each boys ability. Next year, there may be enough uniforms for two more teams.

Director Breniff siad, "Parents are requested to have faith in the Junior League managers because each of them is trying to do a good job." "Parents sometimes, without knowing, make it difficult for them." "After all, we should be thankful that we have public spirited men interested in our youth to manage the teams."

Major league coaches are Bill Fetti for the Jaycees, Glen Work for the Exchange Club, Russ Hyatt for the Kiwanis Club and Gayle Fisher for the Rotary Club. Minor league coaches are Bill Newell for Herrick Park, Gary Hanna for Central No. 1, Bob Benham for Central No. 2 and Dave Merilatt for Tecumseh Acres. The first league game is June 11th and the league games are finished August the 8th.

The practice schedule for June 3 through June 7 is as follows for the Major and Minor Junior League Baseball Teams, Junior and Senior Softball League, Peewee Softball Divisions and Girls Softball:

Legion-Auxiliary Poppy Sales Totaled $625.00

This year, for the first time, the American Legion assisted the Auxiliary in selling poppies May 24 and 25th Chairman, Mrs. Lyle Grigg reported that the sale proceeds of $625 were very gratifying to the members of both organizations. They are used only for Child Welfare and rehabilitation of Veterans and care of their families.

Mrs. Almond Curtis and Mr. Louis Schneider are the child welfare chairmen of these organizations and their reports through the year of their work have been very satisfactory. By helping to send a Veterans child to camp, by providing a few of the necessities of a Veterans family, by making possible an evening of entertainment for a hospitalized Veteran as well as giving him the opportunity to choose a Christmas gift for his wife and children with money he may have earned by making the memorial poppies, the citizens of Tecumseh may be proud to have had a part. By buying and wearing the bright red poppies they have helped to make the life of the hospitalized Veteran a bit happier as well as honoring those whose lives were terminated in the service of their country and ours.

NEED AN APARTMENT ?

There is a group at the present time interested in building from 50 to 100 apartments in Tecumseh. The only thing holding the project back is whether there is enough demand for them or not. FHA approval depends on assured demand.

An advertisement in the first section of this issue of the Herald asks persons, who would be interested in one and two bedroom new apartments, to clip out a coupon, fill it out and send it to a box number in care of the Tecumseh Herald. Sending in the coupon will not bind you in any way. Be sure to do it if you are interested. They will not be built unless there is enough demand.

DON'T FORGET

Memorial Day seems to be losing its true significance to too many people today. Too many of us are prone to think of the day as a work holiday and little else. Forgetting seems to be a habit people fall into whenever a fact is not near at hand. Let us not forget our war dead. If we do, it is one of the surest ways of guaranteeing more in the future.

HARD TO FIND

A gentleman came into the office last week after trying unsucessfully for an hour to purchase an American flag in Tecumseh. There are several organizations selling flags but all prospective buyers do not know this. It is my understanding that one of the organizations is going to hold a general solicitation of the city. By the looks things on flag displaying holidays, there should be a real demand!

$2,505 Contributed Here To Red Cross

The City of Tecumseh, under the direction of American Red Cross Chairman Mrs. L. W. Larsen, has raised $2,505.00 for the Red Cross fund drive. ## June 3 To 13 Is Mail Box Improvement Week

Postmaster Jack G. Metcalf announced that June 3 through June 15 is mail box improvement weeks.

Rural and Mounted route boxes are frequently referred to as the Highway Billboards of the Postal Service. Many become unsightly with rust and unserviceable due to their leaky condition, broken doors or no lids, missing signals, no names, supports being bent over or rotted which need replacing, weeds and wild grass grown around the supports and approaches and in many places the approaches are very rough and full of chuck holes. Errors are sometimes caused by patron's names not being on their mail boxes, especially when a substitute carrier serves the route. The Tecumseh Post Office hopes that Rural Route and Mounted Route patrons will improve their mail box during Mail Box Improvement Weeks.

Car Owned By Joe Rice Is Example of Safety

A 1951 Ford owned by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rice was considered a real example of safety minded driving when it passed through the safety check lane last week.

Not only did the automobile receive a 100% on the safety check and have seat belts installed but included the following equipment: a 4 lb. dry chemical carbon dioxide fire extinguisher, a large and very complete first aid kit, a heavy army type blanket for accident victims, 3 red flares, a large portable spotlight, a 24 inch fire axe and a three color signal flashlight. All of the equipment is neatly arranged in special location in the car. The blanket has a tag on it for identification purposes so that hospitals can return it after use. Mr. Rice has the car and all of the equipment thoroughly checked periodically.

Name Missed On Picture

In the picture of the 2nd grade taken 10 years ago, many of whom received their diplomas last night, we missed the name of one girl and several of our readers called it to our attention. The pretty miss standing at the left of the teacher, with the bow in her hair, is Rita Crosby. Sorry we missed your name Rita.

Advertising Is Needed To Attract Expanding Market

Luring trade away from the store next door is not a necessary objective of good newspaper advertising.

More important, in the rapidly expanding economy of today, newspaper advertising is needed to attract new money which is constantly coming to market.

The retail operation which is only equaling last year's sales is actually losing position to competition. Consumer spending power in the United States has increased steadily since 1950. For instance, last year apparel store sales ran eight per cent ahead of 1955. An equal gain is expected for 1957. A merchant should aim his advertising to obtain at least his share of increased prosperity.

The local merchant who restrains his advertising effort for fear of hurting the business of a neighbor may be doing an injury to his competitor as well as himself. The advertising of competing stores is often complementary.

Of course, the retailer who does the most advertising will be the principal benefactor of advertising. However, any retail newspaper advertising increases general business activity in the vicinity. Hence, the axiom: "The best place to start a shoe store is in the midst of other shoe stores."

It is not unusual for a retailer to find his sales increasing after a promotion-minded competitor has been established nearby. This is not unreasonable. The aggressive newspaper advertiser creates new business and draws back into the local community trade which had moved to other centers. Other merchants profit because there is always a certain overflow of shoppers from leading stores into the surrounding business community.

Group Advocating County United Fund Met Here

A citizens' committee for the development of a County United Fund met in the Baptist Church last Wednesday evening with the chairman, Howard D. White of Deerfield, presiding and S. J. Hrisko of Adrian as the secretary.

The group expressed hope that all communities in the county will see the need of such a plan and be agreeable to the following objectives: 1. Promote and represent the objective of conducting one annual campaign a year towards the financial support of local and county-wide health, welfare, and recreational services as sponsored under local, county, state, and national auspices. 2. Provide a more adequate method of obtaining financial support for the service of the agencies through a Lenawee County Organization operating in cooperation with presently existing organized local community chests or funds and in areas of no local community chest. 3. Provide a more effective instrument of adequately planning for and budgeting of health, welfare, and recreational services operating on a county-wide basis.

All members of the Tecumseh Community Chest Board were invited to attend. George Green, Jr., Merlyn Downing, Owen Partridge, Mrs. H. H. Hanna, and Mrs. T. Rentschler were present and participated in the discussion of such a plan. Representatives from Britton Adrian, and Deerfield were present also. A dinner meeting with representatives from all communities in Lenawee County is scheduled for June 20th in Tecumseh.

What's Happened to the Second "R"?

We are graduating a record-breaking number of bright young hopefuls this year—over 2,000,000 from high school and some 800,000 from college! Another 30,000,000 grade school children will move up a notch.

They all will be better educated than ever before. Research techniques and subjects once considered "college level" are now part of grade and high school courses: philosophy, language, physics, advanced mathematics. In college, specialists trained for every imaginable field are answering American needs for engineers and professionals.

"What has happened to the second 'R'?" asks the Handwriting Foundation of Washington, D. C. "Poor handwriting annually is costing us tens of millions of dollars in lost business, and undeliverable mail is heavy enough to sink a battleship. We are a nation of illegible scribblers. Education has not taught many of us how to write legibly."

Americans who can recite everything from "Casey at the Bat" to Shakespeare, and who demonstrate on quiz shows what knowledge they have acquired, never could write down all the facts legibly.

The Foundation, a non-profit group of educators and businessmen, is helping schools evaluate their methods, so that the present trend toward specialization does not neglect the cultivation of legible handwriting. But even adults long out of school can improve their own writing. Here are six steps that will bring immediate improvement:

2. Be careful of "twin" numbers. Don't make a "7" look like a "1", or your "3" look like a "5".

3. Sit properly when writing. Keep erect with shoulders slightly forward, hips back in seat, facing desk squarely. Keep both forearms on the desk, feet flat on the floor, and place paper directly in front of you at a slant.

4. Avoid tiring the hand. Keep palm down, and wrist flat. Hold pencil or pen about an inch above the point between thumb and side of second finger, near base of the fingernail. Lightly place finger about an inch from the point. Don't turn the hand too far to the side, and tip the pencil or pen toward the shoulder of your writing arm.

5. Keep your writing tools in order. That includes paper, ink, pens, pencils, memo pads and erasers.

6. Score yourself. Check your letter formation, slant, spaces between words, alignment, margins and arrangements, and overall neatness.

$3,000 will make you a business man or woman. 3 apt. house on N. Union is now being offered on a contract to good buyers. This is now a good deal.

$3,500 will move you into Herrick Park, 3 bedrooms, full basement, carpets, air conditioned this week they will also include the dishmaster.

$500 will sure make a farmer out of you. The 11 acres at Sutton crossing still is for sale. One of you should wake up and go look at this and make an offer.

$2000—Just going to try and see if there are any people trying to gain a safe income. 6 apt. with this down payment. Brings in $240 a month. Payments $100.

Last time I looked the grass still needed to be cut on the nice home in Herrick Park. Maybe a Contract will buy this and you can mow it.

My brother-in-law (good thing I got a bunch of relatives or I wouldn't have hardly anything to sell) will still sell his home on Ternes Rd. It's worth the money.

$1,500 just might buy on a contract a good older 4 bedroom. This is a place you won't fall all over yourself and the kids. It needs No repair.

You think I'm fooling about having a lot of lots. Well read this—Russell road 2 lots, one with a well, one without. Occidental 1 lot 100 x 300, M-52 north lot, well and foundation, Brookmead Estates, 77 lots that's right 77. Rolling Acres 12 lots left. Now I ask you—that's a lot of lots. You can buy one or all—pay cash I don't care. Or give me $50 down and I'll sell you a lot. In other words if you or any of your frends want a lot now's the time. $500 to $3,000.

I don't know about the rest of you but I'm tired of the way time flys. What say we get a few of these brains to figure out a way to slow time down. I'll bet some one could.

I'm running out of things to sell—Let's start selling—swapping or something or the Jack Osburn family will starve.

PATTERSON SCHOOL

Last Monday the fifth grade took a trip to Ann Arbor. In the forenoon we visited the University museum. Our guides showed us the Indian exhibits and the pre-historic animal exhibits. They were very interesting.

In the afternoon we visited the Botanical Gardens. Again we had very good guides. Those of us who had the lady guide were especially fortunate as she told us stories about how the plants got their names. Did you ever see a "monkey puzzle" tree? We did!

Tuesday we all wrote stories about our trip for Language class.

We would like to thank the mothers, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Carl Kennel, and Mrs. Merton Boss who accompanied us. Also our bus driver, Mrs. Agnes Woods, for her patience.

Mrs. Updike brought a moth to our room which had just hatched. We have it on our plants. It can not fly because its wings did not unfold.

The first grade has worked very hard for the past school year. Now they are looking forward to having lots of fun this summer. Mrs. Buttolph hopes everyone will find time to have fun playing with their flash cards a few minutes each day this summer. But most of all she wishes everyone a fine vacation all ready to work hard again next school year.

The sixth grade girl gym classes ended the year with a softball tournament. We had a lot of fun playing ball with each other. The three teams consisted of: Central Sluggers (captain Janice Hall); Becker Batters (captain Roberta Lee); and Pepsi Peppers (captain Bonnie Oyer).

The tournament was won by the Pepsi Peppers of Patterson and each of the other teams received recognition of their fine playing. The winning team received a beautiful trophy which will be handed down to next year's winners.

CENTRAL SCHOOL

Busses will pick up Central children, about 9:30 on Friday, May 31. Busses will remain at school to bring children home. All children should be home by noon.

Miss Lukens' first graders have really enjoyed the electric board which Mr. Sawyer made and shared with his fifth graders and the first graders.

Several of the children showed an interest in learning how their work papers were made so Miss Lukens took them all to the duplicating room and demonstrated how the mimeograph machine worked. Each child turned the handle and made a work paper, "appear" and then they awaited the day when that paper they helped run off was presented as work during reading classes.

On the whole, this has been a nice year in first grade. The children and Miss Lukens have shared many interesting and challenging activities together.

Finally the big day arrived. Mrs. Neitling's first grade visited Toledo Zoo. We made the trip on the big activity bus. For some of us, it was a first bus ride. We had seen pictures and read about many of the animals at the zoo, so it was very exciting to see real alive elephants, tigers, bears, lions ,etc. We rode on the miniature train and on the merry-go-round. Many of us fell asleep coming home, but we certainly had a good time. We want the mothers who went with us to know we are very thankful for the help they gave us, and thanks to a wonderful school which makes such a trip available. Best of all, Mrs. Neitling says our parents can be very proud of the way we conducted ourselves on our first big trip by ourselves.

This week we will finish our number book. We can count to one hundred by 1's, 5's, and 10's. We recognize many number grouping without counting. We can tell time on the hour and half hour. We have worked some with money and do quite well at figuring out the cost of things less than twenty-five cents.

By the end of the year every reading group will have finished the basic readers for first grade.

We have learned to spell most of the words found in the basic vocabulary at the end of our Talk, Spell and Write book.

We have finished our social studies book and have learned about the work that many people in our community do.

We have had a wonderful year working together, and hope that after vacation time, we may talk to you again and tell you all about the things we will be doing in second grade.

Mrs. Puffer and her second graders visited Willow Run Air Terminal one day last week. They had been studying Transportaition in their Social Studies so were most interested to find out something of the way a huge airport is operated. The guide took the group "behind the scenes" and let them sit in a large airliner and he also let them take turns sitting in the pilots compartment.

Mrs. VanWinkle's second graders have spent much time of late, visiting some of the places we have been reading about in Social Studies. We spent an afternoon visiting the Police and Fire Station. Mr. Price told us all how to report fires and showed us all the equipment. He also let us "peek" at the new fire truck. We think it is a beautiful and well equipped truck and we are so glad our town is doing so much to protect us and our homes. Several of us had cameras so we took pictures of Mr. Price and the new truck.

Another morning, Mr. Metcalf invited us to the post office. Mrs. VanWinkle had a letter to mail so our postmaster showed us just what happened to the letter from the time it was pushed through the slot until it was ready to leave the local post office. He answered many questions for us and we thank him for his kind hospitality.

Mrs. Schwartz' third graders were sorry that Vicki Brees had to miss the last week of school. She had her appendix out.

One morning they watched a polyphemus moth as its wings expanded soon after it emerged from its cocoon.

Mrs. Weitenhagen's room had their last spell down of the year. We took all the words in our books. Eddie Brazee was the winner.

We also have been studying Holland. We made Dutch shoes and tulips. Catherine Maples brought in a pair of wooden shoes and a lamp made in Holland.

Mrs. Callihan's fourth graders are sports minded. Many are in the Little League Baseball Club. Our morning report of the Tiger's games is an important thing. Even some of the girls are interested since they are learning softball in gym classes.

We have been having some reports on Michigan for Michigan Week. It is interesting to learn about our state as well as find that many of us are vacationing in our Michigan.

As the year comes to an end and we look back over our work we find we have learned quite a bit and we are looking forward to the fifth grade in the fall.

Mrs. Bailey and her fourth graders have finished their social studies book and are spending the time learning about states of our own country. They are coloring the states and learning the names of them. They feel that they are getting ready for fifth grade social studies.

Mrs. Miller's fourth grade have been studying about Henry Ford in Social Studies. They have learned about his idea of mass production and how it changed our lives. They have discussed the kind of work their fathers do, especially at the Tecumseh Products, and how many of them work on assembly lines in industry.

Mrs. Whiting and her fourth graders had the privilege on Wednesday, May 22nd, of viewing the slides which Bruce Packard took while he was in the service. We found them most interesting. It was helpful in our study of geography to see just how the people lived in the desert of Africa, in Germany and Austria. We all appreciated Bruce taking the time to come to school and show us these places he had visited.

Mr. Kelty and his fifth graders spent a pleasant three hours at the Toledo Art Museum last week. They were asked to come back again some time in order that they might see more.

They have been very busy completing the school work for the year. They are busy getting the Central Library in good condition for next year. Much time is being spent getting the books in correct order.

Many interesting things have been brought to school by Mr. Whites' fifth graders. Some are as follows:

Niagara Falls Photos, by Diane Sweet; Candid photos and turtles by Sandra Petrovich; a Dog Book by Christine Solarski; Tricks with eyes closed to identify which hand was used, by Kathy James; Toy Boxing Man by Chris Kelly; Book on Northern Lights by Gerald Carpenter; Model Planes by Mike Wilson; Baseball cards by Glen Green; Foreign coins and Planet Book by Tom Matteson and New Encyclopedia by Inara Roberts.

Mr. Sawyer's fifth grade have been busy in Social Studies this week. We have several very colorful flags made of manila paper for our unit on South America. The flags are bordering two sides of the room. Flags were made by Ronald Jones, Roy Sparks, Kathleen Butler, Eldon Miller, Judy Martin, Vickie Lord, Patricia Roe, Richard Teske, Charles Saling and Gary Naugle. Also in correlation with this unit, "Sugar Loaf" a frieze was made by Dennis Linden, Clark Nichols, Richard Fielder, and Charles Squires. Another frieze "Iguassu Falls" was completed by Judy Martin, Karen Heberlein, Sharon Gillen, and Patricia Schwede.

Our final copy of "The Friendly Get-Together" is being published this week. We hope our parents have enjoyed it.

The desks in Mrs. Crawford's room are nearly empty, which is the surest sign that this year is about finished. They have had their trip to Greenfield Village. This big event marks their "good-bye" to grade school; "hello" junior high!

Mrs. Becker's sixth grade has summarized their accomplishments and social events as follows:

They have had three parties and went to Greenfield Village.

Travel posters and time lines were made in Social Studies.

Tecumseh School Bands Presented Program Thursday

The members of the Tecumseh school bands, fifth through the twelfth grades, presented a music program Thursday evening in the High School Gym for the Band Boosters Club and a good many interested parents and friends. Mr. Wilmer Kiser, president of the Band Boosters, conducted a brief business meeting including an announcement that the club is sending the High School band to a ball game June 6 at Briggs Stadium in appreciation for their efforts this past year. He also gave a brief financial report.

Mrs. Harry Beland presented Mrs. Charles Irelan with a pen and pencil set for being chariman of the district with the highest sales of the calendars recently sold by the Boosters and then presented Mr. Donald Johnson who in turn presented the various bands.

The fifth grade amazed many parents with the music they could produce together as a band, the sixth grade has learned to play harmony together and the Junior High has shown amazing progress in the past year. Mr. Johnson explained the work the students have been doing and complimented the small band which has done the work as a pep band and for various other activities beside the basketball games. They demonstrated their ability by playing a very peppy number for a group of enthusiastic little baton twirlers. The 12 little twirlers were all girls from grades below the Junior High. Following "Kiss in the Dark" played by the High School Band, Mr. Johnson assembled all members from the fifth through the twelfth grades for a grand finale of "America." About 209 students took part in the rehearsal program which was enthusiastically received by parents as well as students who enjoyed listening to their friends and playing together.

People Over Sixty Eligible For FHA Housing Loans

Life can begin at 60 for the prospective homeowner under a new goverment program.

If you are 60 or over, you are eligible for liberalized FHA mortgages on a new home. And for the first time qualified non-profit organizations can build apartment-style units especially designed for the elderly without requiring residents to make down payments or "founders' fees."

The program was signed into law last year. One group-living project has already been opened on the west coast.

The FHA points out that the only requirements for an old person who wants a new single home are that he be able to meet his monthly mortgage payments and maintain the property.

For the first time the elderly may borrow the down payment and closing costs from a member of his family, his employer or a charitable source acceptable to the FHA, if he is capable of paying it back.

This means that a person over 60 who has a regular income but not enough cash for initial payments still can finance a home with the government-backed FHA mortgage without laying out any of his own money. It also opens the door for group-living projects for the elderly through non-profit organizations.

The FHA has listed as likely sponsors under the program organizations like churches, labor unions, fraternal lodges, veterans groups, or local governments.

The initial cost to the sponsoring agency is 10 per cent of the final costs of the group project. In addition, such units may be built with special facilities for the elderly like infirmaries, chapels and dining rooms.

The sponsor must be able to carry on the project out of earned or unearned income and must demonstrate its long-term interest in providing housing for the elderly.

There is no rule governing the bigness of the project but it must have at least eight family living units to qualify as a group dwelling.

The government set up the program so that group housing projects for the elderly will be well distributed throughout the nation and well integrated into the life of the community.

The FHA pointed out to those over 60 who want to own their own homes that it doesn't lend money — it only insures money borrowed from the usual sources like banks and similar institutions. The bank then must apply for the government backing.

Air-Conditioning Cheaper With Pitched Roof

Air conditioning is more effective and less expensive to operate in a home with a pitched roof, according to a leading research engineer in the field of home cooling.

"The larger the air space in a well-ventilated attic, the greater the protection from outside heat," says Prof. John R. Watt of the mechanical engineering department of the University of Texas. "Flat or shed roofs have virtually no protective air space."

"Doubling the amount of air space in the attic reduces heat absorption into the living areas by 75 per cent.

This air space, combined with thick mineral wool insulation in the attic floor, reduces penetration of overhead heat so efficiently, Professor Watt says, that smaller air-conditioning units can be used and cooling costs are reduced by as much as half. For complete protection against summer heat, mineral wool also should be installed in walls and living area floors.

Professor Watt based his recommendations on research conducted at the Air Conditioned Village, Austin, Tex., where the operation of air-conditioning equipment in various types of homes was studied under actual living conditions.

Screwtype Nails Stop Squeaks

For a squeak-free floor, use the right kind of nails. Screw-type nails eliminate splitting. Drive them through the side of the tongue at an angle of 45 or 55 degrees.

Slant the first nail or two in each piece of hardwood flooring both vertically and horizontally, pointing it toward the end joint.

Glossy Whitewash

To give whitewashed walls a glossy finish, combine a soap solution with the whitewash. Dissolve a pound of soap in a gallon of hot water and add to five gallons of whitewash.

FLOOR PLAN

Practical for a sloping site, this three bedroom plan includes a basement garage area. Another feature of interest is the central hall that efficiently serves bedrooms, living room and the open planned kitchen-dining area.

The living area of this home is 1,048 square feet. Plans are available from local lumber dealers.

Sump Pump Is Answer To Wet Basements

Seepage of water into basements has become increasingly prevalent in recent years as new home construction has expanded into subdivisions which only recently were open fields or wooded areas.

Since new ground is usually heavily laden with moisture, many householders find themselves confronted with the problem of how to get rid of water which seeps in around the walls and basement floor.

A sump pump is the answer to this problem as well as the equally serious difficulty created by water backing up in sewers during heavy rains.

Also known as a cellar drainer, the sump pump operates automatically when the water in the sump in which it is installed reaches a pre-determined level.

The water from the sump pump or cellar drainer may be discharged into a sewer or it may be dissipated in the back yard, the alley, the garden, or other convenient place.

Many sump pump dealers recomment the discharge of the water into a piece of buried tile in the back yard. The tile is filled with loose stones so that the water seeps away into the garden or yard.

Always Use The Same Metals

In replacing or repairing window insect screens be sure that the frame and screening are of the same metals. Don't use copper screening in an aluminum frame and don't fasten aluminum screening to a wood frame with copper tacks.

Plastic screening goes well with all metals but different metals just don't mix.

—Emerson

Stop Moisture With Asphalt

Wood posts that will rest on concrete, masonry, or other wood can be protected from dampness by cementing a piece of asphalt roofing to the bottom of the post.

The asphalt prevents water from being absorbed by the porous end grain of the wood.

Another "waterproofing" problem — condensation on the floors of houses built over crawl spaces —has been eliminated by the heavier asphalt roll roofings. This material is laid on the ground beneath the crawl space and prevents moisture from rising out of the ground into the house.

Over 1,000,000 Units

For eight consecutive years, the volume of homebuilding in this country has run well in excess of one million units.

Reading a book a week will probably mean an education in time. Try it.

West Does 25%

Although the seven western states have only 12 per cent of the total population of the U. S., they do 25 per cent of all of new-home building, says Practical Builder magazine.

SOIL STEWARDSHIP WEEK

This is Soil Stewardship Week sponsored by the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts and national church organizations. It again focusses attention on the kinship between a man's spiritual beliefs and the soil resources on which his life depends.

Our awareness of such relationship is always with us, consciously or unconsciously. Some see the kinship most clearly from a pine-blanketed mountain as they look out over woods, stripcropped field and clear-running streams or sparkling lakes.

Others find it in turning a spadeful of living soil in the cool of the morning, or in the mellow roll of the furrow slice at plowing time. For soil not only gives life, it in itself is a living thing, a combination of living organisms around a skeleton of finely ground particles of sand, silt, and clay.

All of us sense our dependence on the soil in the food we eat, many of the clothes we wear and in our houses.

The longing for land ownership—ownership of the acres one operates, a desire for that "poultry farm" to which one will retire, or "just a place to raise a few flowers" represents man's feeling that land is something stable, something to which he can tie, something in which he can sink his roots. In it he finds security and peace.

Closely allied to that desire to possess land is the hope and the promise of fulfillment which land gives—hope for stability, for security, for peaceful living; the promise of bountiful harvests, food and a place one can call home.

This longing for land is universal. It surges no less in the heart of a Chinese, an Asian, or a European than in the heart of an American. Because of it, revolutions have occurred and wars have been fought.

With a bit of land, man enjoys its use and its harvest. To get the most from it, he gives it his best knowledge of management and culture. And of the culture he bestows on it, the highest form is wise use of land and conservation measures.

The good soil steward knows that conservation helps make the hope and the promise a reality, both now and for the decades and centuries to come.

SLICK

On the heels of reports of unidentified submarines off our Atlantic coast, the 51,000 ton aircraft carrier, Franklin D. Roosevelt, was damaged in a collision with a submerged object off Florida, will be drydocked for repairs. There was an oil slick afterward, the captain reported, but his ship was not leaking oil.

"It might have been a whale," he said. Which would make it whale-oil, of course.

SALUTE TO YOUNG PEOPLE

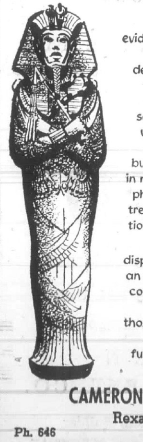
Young people today have every right to resent the growing tendency to associate all teen-agers with "delinquency". Certainly we must be concerned about this growing problem, but we must also recognize the fact that the great majority of our young people are good citizens.

You wonder what "those kids" will do next? Well, if you look at the majority rather than the minority, you'll find that they are doing pretty well, so here's a salute to all the young citizens in worthwhile organizations—and to their leaders who are showing them the way to good citizenship.

Mummy Powder



The mummy—tangible evidence against decay and suggestive of life after death—was once reported to possess great healing powers. Oddly enough, several of the compounds used by the Egyptians to prepare their dead for burial are employed today in medicine. Turpentine and phenol, which are useful in treating certain skin conditions, are but two examples.

For over 4,000 years the dispenser of drugs has been an esteemed member of his community. Great progress has been made during those years. As pharmacists, we are proud of our function in the distribution of medical supplies.

When Memorial Day was instituted, it set apart a day for the memory of our nation's heroes who had fallen in our defense. Following the Civil War, the long period of peace made fewer the families affected.

Today, almost every family has those who have been members of our Armed Forces. Memorial Day means much to everyone of them — it affects us all. Honor all on this day set apart for that purpose — for your loved ones as well as others.

Realty Views

The phone rang—"Long Distance." It was an out-of-state owner of an attractive home in Tecumseh.

"We just had some bad news," the owner said, "our renters are moving out. We know the house needs redecorating, but we just don't want to fix it up and rent it again."

Then, the owner said emphatically, "We've heard your firm really sells property. So get us a deal."

We talked about current market conditions, and the owner said, "We know about the tight money market, so we'll try to be realistic. We don't especially need the money we have in the house right now. Sell it to a responsible party on a small down payment, or trade it on a smaller home that will involve us in less overhead for maintenance and mortgage payments."

He added, "In other words — bring us a deal. We're ready to sell on any kind of a reasonable basis."

Naturally, with such eager owner cooperation, a sale was quickly made.

We try to work with a home seller—whether he wants all cash, or simply "a deal."

Lenawee Co. Agricultural Agent's Column - - - - -

All laying flocks should be vaccinated against Newcastle disease and infectious bronchitis before they are sixteen week old. On most Michigan farms, chicks should be vaccinated against Newcastle disease when between two and four weeks of age. A bronchitis vaccination along with a Newcastle booster should be given at 16 weeks.

If either bronchitis or chronic respiratory disease have bothered growing birds in your area, Clayton C. Ingerson, associate county agricultural agent, suggests vaccination against Newcastle and bronchitis at four weeks. Boosters with both vaccines should be given when the chicks reach 16 weeks. Agent Ingerson points out that if either Newcastle or infectious bronchitis has been on your own farm in recent months, you should vaccinate all chicks as soon as they arrive. If both diseases are uncommon in your neighborhood, vaccinate against both diseases when birds are between twelve and sixteen weeks old.

In a flock of less than 500 birds, Newcastle vaccine can be applied directly to the birds. Infectious bronchitis vaccine should be applied by the intranasal method in a small flock. In a large flock, vaccines can best be applied in drinking water and directions must be followed to the letter. Do not use the dust or spray method when vaccinating replacement pullets near a susceptible laying flock. Ingerson also warns against wing-web vaccination for Newcastle under these conditions.

Birds should be vaccinated only when they are in good health. Another rule is: two vaccines with live virus should never be given at once unless one is a booster. In laying flocks, vaccines with live Newcastle or bronchitis viruses should not be used unless the threat is great. Flocks treated by spray, dust or drinking water must be re-vaccinated every four to six months.

"Mystery Farm" No. 38 Was Identified

Mystery Farm No. 38 was the 91 acre farm belonging to Mr. Robert McKee, Sr. located at 2631 E. Monroe road. He purchased the farm and with his wife Mary and family moved there in the fall of 1925. Under the present ownership, a new chicken coop has been built and many repairs and improvements made. Mrs. McKee passed away in 1952.

Mr. McKee has two sons, Robert John of Tecumseh and Gordon William of rural Tecumseh and two daughters Mrs. Anna Allen of Tipton and Miss Alice McKee of Detroit. He has six grandchildren, two boys and four girls. All of the McKee children were educated in Tecumseh schools.

At present he has not cattle but does general farming. The farm was identified by James Creger who got a two year subscription to the Herald. Mr. McKee got a two year renewal subscription and a lovely picture cour-tesy of the Hayden Mills who is sponsoring the farm series.

Gains Reported In Dairy Food Consumption

Americans drank two more quarts of milk per person in 1956 than the year before and set a new all-time record for cheese consumption.

A new record was also set for cottage cheese consumption. Ice cream was purchased at a rate nearly double the 1935-39 average. Butter consumption in 1956 dropped a tenth of a pound, but this figure was still second highest of the last five years.

These facts were announced this week by the National Dairy Council with the publication of its annual statistical study, "How Americans Use Their Dairy Foods." According to the publication, the specific quantities of various dairy foods consumed per person in 1956 as compared with 1955 were:

| Product | 1956 Per Capita Consumption | 1955 Per Capita Consumption |
|---|---|---|
| Fluid milk | 144 qts. | 142 qts. |
| Cheese | 8 lbs. | 7.8 lbs. |
| Cottage cheese | 4.5 lbs. | 4.4 lbs. |
| Ice cream | 15.6 qts. | 15.3 qts. |
| Butter | 8.8 lbs. | 8.9 lbs. |
| Evap. & Cond. milk | 15.5 lbs. | 16.0 lbs. |
| Dry whole milk | .26 lbs. | .25 lbs. |
| Nonfat dry milk | 5.0 lbs. | 5.5 lbs. |

On the production side, milk production in 1956 was 748 pounds of milk for each man, woman and child in the United States. The dairy foods consumed last year were processed and manufactured from an average 699 pounds of milk per person. This left a surplus of 49 pounds per person, one pound per person less than in 1955 and 22 pounds per person less than the peak surplus of 71 pounds per person in 1953—an improvement of 31%.

How did America produce a record amount in milk with fewer dairy cows on the farms and a larger population to feed? Through greater milk production per cow—6,006 pounds per cow in 1956, the first time that figure has exceeded 6,000.

Linda Starkey Is Proud Of New Colt

Linda Lou Starkey, 12 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Starkey, is very proud of her new colt, "Golden Star's Comanche," foaled May 14th from her mare, "Ladie" and sired by the Boysville 9 year old stallion, "Belvedee's Golden Star". Both the mare and the stallion are five gaited and the mare won three prizes last year at the 4-H show in Adrian, horsemanship, under saddle and without saddle.

The 7th Annual Roundup will be held June 2 at 2 p.m. at Boysville in Macon.

PARK FIRE

A recent fire which destroyed the W. J. Hayes state park group camp in Lenawee county caused cancellation of reservations for 41 groups.

The building burned to the ground on the night of May 6. It was not occupied at the time, but all equipment and facilities were lost.

INCREASED FEES

Increased camping fees will be in effect June 1 at Michigan's state parks and recreation areas. All camping permits issued on or after June 1 will require campers to pay 75c per day, plus 25c for electrical services, if used. Permits are issued at the individual parks. The present camping rate is 50c daily, plus 20c for electricity.

All campers who receive permits during May will be charged at the old rate, even if the camping permit period extends into June. Thus Memorial Day visitors can camp through the holiday weekend at the old rate, if they obtain a permit before June 1.

The boost in fees, approved by the state Conservation Commission at its May meeting, will provide additional revenue of approximately $100,000 per year—based on attendance figures for the 1955-56 fiscal year when camping revenues totaled $208,000. Revenue from camping fees is used for operation and maintenance of the state's 58 parks and recreation areas.

The increase in fees will bring Michigan in line with rates charged in neighboring states. Minnesota and Wisconsin charge 75c per day, plus 25c and 40c for utilities; Ohio's fees are 50c daily, plus 25c for electricity; New York charges an average of $1 daily, plus 25c for electricity; and Pennsylvania fees are $1 per day, or $3 per week, but no electrical facilities are available.

BETTY: But what I like best is the wonderful feeling I get when I'm driving. Heavenly comfort! And the things they're doing with colors and fabrics these days! Honestly, I feel just like a queen!

ANNE: You should! I'm not trying to pry, but I'll bet it cost a king's ransom.

BETTY: Wouldn't you be surprised! It cost a lot less than we expected. And, Ed says it will cost less in the long run, too, because an Olds holds its value.

ANNE: Leave it to you to have your cake and eat it, too!

BETTY: And why not? Ed, bless his practical streak, wanted an Olds for its extra value and the Rocket Engine. So, who am I to say "no" to the prettiest thing on wheels? You ought to pass the word along to John!

DOUBLE DUTY

Sometimes it appears that Tecumseh isn't as urban as some of us would like to think. Myrtle Mattis reported seeing a deer Friday in Tecumseh in the vicinity of the former St. Elizabeth's Church, coming from Oneida St. and then crossing the Blvd. and leaping through the old East Branch School yard. Walter Shea and Bruce Osburn saw the deer, which they said was a doe, in the vicinity of S. Union and Cummins St. Mrs. Harvey Shiels saw it at about 12:30 as she stood on the corner of Pottawatamie and Ottawa Streets. It was traveling on Ottawa St. On Saturday, it was reported on Rogers Highway. Mrs. Marion Stone reported seeing two deer this week near Billmeyer Highway.

If this keeps up, the city should be in the market for an experienced conservation officer or else a zoo curator. I suppose either would be able to handle the responsibility. Maybe he could double as a Chamber of Commerce organizer!!

JOB DONE

I see that the "Welcome to Tecumseh" signs have been fixed up or at least the work has started. I wonder who was so motivated? Whoever it was they deserve a vote of thanks.

ON IDIOTS

I wonder which is worse, the ignorant neurotic loudmouthed liar, the insecure world hater that usually leads the former boob on or the two faced ones with equally as many troubles? It looks like a tossup to me. They're all human garbage. I suggest that their best course of action is prayer.

Mrs. Watkins states that the new store will enable her to carry an expanded stock of merchandise and will add to her present merchandise yard goods, blankets, pillowcases and notions.

A big Removal Sale is being announced in a large advertisement in this issue of the Herald, which is loaded with many bargain items in order to lower the stock before moving into the new store. Be sure to read the ad.

A total of $783 was collected in revenue from these violations. Of this total, $358 was from traffic, $4 from meter violations and $421 from meter collections.

Council To Consider New Garbage Service

A communication was read from H. W. Dillon regarding a contract for garbage pick-up and collection service for his firm which would be known as Tecumseh Hauling Service. Rates would be the same as are being paid at present. The present contract does not expire until August and it was decided to table the proposition until the next meeting.

Austin Pickford was present for further discussion on the side walk put in front of his home at 217 N. Evans Street at the time the curb was installed. He complained the price was out of line. The City Manager explained the price was the same as every property owner pays for sidewalks. Mr. Nelson was instructed to investigate the situation.

Bills amounting to $21,705.58 were OK'd and ordered paid. A request was then read for fire service for Harvey's Grill which would bind the City of Tecumseh to service in case of fire, other than any reason beyond their control. The resolution was to give the insurance company assurance of protection so it can give a better insurance rate. No action was taken. It was pointed out that fire service is now given residents of the entire township of Tecumseh.

A resolution was read stating the need for additional playgrounds in Tecumseh, in each area, due to the rapid growth. The solution was referred back to the Planning Commission to investigate, give further study and bring back recommendations. City Manager Nelson's report was accepted and placed on file.

The City is investigating the possibilities of 2 inch bituminous asphalt street and will do a test area as an experiment to see if this type of street would be more advisable than regular black-top. It will be done on Park street.

The City Manager was advised to close the bridge on Blood road if and when he deemed it unsafe.

Robert Moore was present, as requested by the Council, to talk over the possibilities of having him as a public relations director. He will work in that capacity to get organizations and the public to cooperate to promote Tecumseh with various projects and activities different than any other city has done.

Boys' State Counselor

JAMES BOWSER

James Bowser was selected to be a counselor at Wolverine Boys State, E. Lansing June 18-27. James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bowser, will be a Junior at Albion College next year.

Many applications are received for this highly honored job.

Seal Coat Will Start This Week

Ctiy Manager E. J. Nelson reported to the City Council Monday evening that the curb and gutter on Sunset Rd. will be completed this week. If the weather permits, the City plans to start seal coating next week. Several blocks are ready at the present time ot seal coat. It is expected that patching of the City streets will be completed soon with another 30 yards of patching material. Since there has been only one bid on bituminous work, a notice has been sent for bidders to the Michigan Roads and Construction magazine.

Mr. Haven of the Bridge Department has been consulted regarding the Blood Road bridge. His opinion was that Federal Aid could not be obtained for the bridge. The City Manager feels that the bridge could be repaired to last for two years if a new abutment were poured and angle irons were replaced. However, he asked for permission to close the road if it was deemed necessary until the work was completed.

The new fire station will be completed the first rainy day. One of the doors and a small piece of concrete are all that await completion at the present time.

Hammond Iron Works is progressing on schedule on the new water tank. They believe that it will be ready for use the first week in July. A well will be started this week on Burt Street according to the present schedule.

20 Boys Hiked Freedom Trail Over The Weekend

Twenty boys from three different scout organizations hiked the Freedom Trail over the weekend. The trail is an historic one used in helping the slaves from the South to the Freedom of the northern boundaries.

The boys passed by the Aunt Laura Haviland monument and the museum on Labardee Road. On Saturday, they hiked 17 miles to Adrian and back to a camp site where they spend the night, returning to Tecumseh on Sunday afternoon. The boys who went on this hike received the Freedom Trail Medal upon their return. They were: (From Troop 76 of Macon) Joe Lopez, Larry Pennington, Richard Moore, Larry Neidlinger, Fred Betzoldt and Richard Zick; (from the Explorer Post 87 of Tecumseh) Jerry Irelan, Kenneth Wallace and Earl Byers and (from Troop 73) Mike Osburn, Norman Grigg, Fred Hartwig, Harley Byers, Keith Kruse, Donald Rudd, Bruce King, Dennis Irelan, Mike Wilson, Bryan Packard and Tom Wilson.

Four fathers accompanied the boys over the three dams starting from the Zipper factory and continuing around to the Standish Pond. They were Stanley Kruse, Paul Rudd, Lyle Grigg and scoutmaster, Almond Curtis.

New Bridge To Be Installed By January 1958

At the regular Exchange Club meeting last week, City Manager E. J. Nelson told the assembled group that according to the present schedule, bids on the new bridge over the Raisin River on N. Evans St. will be taken the first part of July. The expected cost of the bridge will be in the neighborhood of $230,000 for a 26 foot roadway. The city of Tecumseh pays one quarter of the cost. The expected date of completion will be in January 1958.

Bid openings on the new City Hall-Police Department will be June 27. The contracts will be let July 1. The offices should be ready to move into no later than January 1, 1958.

Mr. Nelson also stated that complete 200 bed hospital facilities will be stored by the Civilian Defense organization in a vacant room above the old fire hall. He also spoke of the possibility of a communication center here to serve the whole county in case of disaster.

The fact was pointed out that the city of Tecumseh pumps 2,000,000 gallons of water per day through the various wells and the amount is steadily increasing. Thus he pointed out the need for adequate wells in case some of the older ones suddenly go dry.

Community Health Study Started

The dark boundary on this map shows the boundaries of the Tecumseh trading area as determined by Dr. Horton and his staff for the Community Health Study to be done here. For the purposes of this study Dr. Horton wished to include not only the City of Tecumseh but also that part of the surrounding rural area in which the residents use the facilities of the city as much or nearly as much as the people residing within the city limits. Other incorporated units were deliberately excluded from the study area.

The customary method of delineating the boundaries of "natural communities" or "trade areas" is based on establishing boundaries between communities rather than around each community; that is, the boundary established for one town is also the boundary of the next adjacent community with no space remaining between the two. In effect this procedure establishes boundaries approximately where half of the rural residents are going to one town and the other half to the adjacent town for their shopping, banking, etc. The fore-going procedure includes within a given community boundary many members of a neighboring different community. The implication of such data is that communities actually are interpenetrating. While this study wished to include as many members of the Tecumseh community as possible so as to include the variations in occupation and environment, it does not apper necessary to identify persons with attachments to Tecumseh who are living among members of a neighboring community. Accordingly boundaries were established so that almost all persons living within these boundaries were members of the Tecumseh community.

The method of obtaining the basic data from which trade areas are usually determined appeared to be applicable to the problem. Three types of information were useful: (1) opinions of well-informed persons living in the area, (2) fixed boundaries such as political subdivisions, school and postal districts, utility service areas, etc., (3) information on the shopping habits and membership patterns of rural residents. Information of the first two types was not sufficientliy reliable in itself, but was very helpful in conjunction with other material. The telephone exchange service area was somewhat of an exception since it was established on the basis of use; however, this was done some years ago. School districts reflect social patterns more closely than do political boundaries but do not completely fit the natural boundaries. The third type of information is the most accurate and most difficult to obtain. It may be determined either centrally by determining the rural customers of urban stores or peripherally by collecting information from rural residents on their shopping and social habits. The latter is the most accurate, and also very expensive and time consuming.

All three types of information have been obtained for Tecumseh. The fixed boundaries used were those of townships, high school district, telephone exchange and postal district. The patterns of electric and gas distribution were found to be so unrelated as to be useless for the purpose. Before collecting information on shopping habits, etc., considerable time was spent in conferring with local people regarding the best sources of information. As a result, it was decided that grocery, hardware, drug and clothing stores (in that order) would probably offer the best information regarding the distribution of rural customers, and that church and Grange memberships would also be of considerable assistance. Trade patterns in larger items, e.g. furniture, automobiles, farm machinery, are more widely spread because all brands are not usually sold in any one community.

The hospital, bank and newspaper serve much wider areas than the other facilities in the community.

Unfortunately, the grocers in Tecumseh have very few credit customers, so that this excellent source of information could not be utilized. Current rural credit customer lists were obtained from the three hardware stores in Tecumseh and plotted on a map with the aid of plat book, rural county directory, and assistance from local postmasters. Prescription customers of the three local pharmacies during the preceding six month period were handled in a similar manner. Membership lists from the seven largest churches in the city were combined and mapped also.

The households indicated by each of these three sets of data were then compared with the households indicated in each rural block in the plat book. This plat book is about four years old, so that the accuracy of the procedure leaves something to be desired. Further maps were made showing the proportion of households in each block represented on our hardware, drug store, and church maps. These two sets of maps were then studied in conjunction with the other available information, and a determination of the community boundary was made where the proportions declined from the levels present in the blocks immediately surrounding the city. Boundaries were drawn in the middle of roads where possible, since this procedure makes it easier for interviewers to locate residences belonging in their districts. The resulting boundaries are shown above. They are not to be considered as absolute in accuracy, but rather as a basis for planning and beginning operations. They may need minor modification as more detailed information is acquired in the community through interviewing all of the residents.

Sidewalk contractors are wondering how the crane sitting in the water tower will be removed after its job is done. City Manager E. J. Nelson has cleared up the matter by explaining that a section will be cut out and rewelded on the bottom of the tower for removal.

The tower is located at the North side of the city garage on Wyandotte St. It has a capacity of 300,000 gallons and will cost $67,000 installed. The old standpipe on Chicago Blvd. has a 225,000 gallon capacity and will continue to be used.

When The Bell Rings

By R. H. Moore

When the fire bell rings,
You ought to see them go.
They rush to the station,
And never very slow.
These volunteers of ours,
Are twenty two in number.
When the siren sounds,
It breaks up their slumber.
Everyday around the clock,
They are subject to a call.
Never for a minute
Do they pull that old stall.
Two dollars for a run,
These young fellows get,
Just for the privilege
Of getting their suits wet.
Baldy is their leader,
And keeps them in shape
For climbing up the ladders,
Taking risks for our sake.
We all should be proud
Of this gang of ours.
Let's really cheer them on,

Kiwanis Club Heard Talk On Local Early Days

There was a 100% attendance at the Kiwanis Club meeting Wednesday noon. Fred Hadley, president, presided at the meeting.

Dick Hicks introduced the guest speaker for the day, Miss Edith Ingersoll, who talked about Tecumseh's early days. Miss Ingersoll has lived in Tecumseh and in the same home for 78 years. She was librarian from 1918 to 1934. Her grandparents came to Tecumseh in the early 1830's, as one of the early settlers. She stated that she was proud of Tecumseh since it was one of the first towns in the county settled in 1824 and was one of the first 10 white settlements in Michigan. Tecumseh was the county seat of Lenawee county in its early days. In the summer of 1824, the village was platted into 16 squares, the western boundary being Evans Street. The first school was a 12 x 12 ft. structure located near the Memorial boulder.

She stated that a saw mill was started in 1824 and the next summer the first frame house was built on the corner by what is now known as Helm's Furniture Store. This house is now located at 411 E. Logan. She said the City got its name from Indian Chief Tecumseh. The population of Tecumseh was 2462, 13 years after the first settlement, in 1940 it was larger than Chicago, in 1950 the population was 4,006. Today Tecumseh is believed to be over 6,000.

Announcement was made of the picnic to be held at Fred Hadley's home, to which all members and their wives are invited. The date is June 20 at 6:30 p.m. Bring a dish to pass and your own table service.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS from The Bible

By faith we understand that the world was created by the word of God, so that what is seen was made out of things which do not appear.—(Hebrews 11, 3.)

We have never "seen" electricity, or the "waves" which carry radio and TV sounds and images. Yet we have faith in them, for we know that they are, and that they don't just happen. Truly, how can anyone then doubt for a moment that God is?

Teacher Training Crisis To Affect 1 In 3 Students

One out of three elementary school children in Michigan will be under the guidance of inadequately prepared teachers by the 1958-59 school year.

This is the picture as presented by a subcommittee on teacher education of the Michigan Council of State College Presidents in a recent report entitled "Teacher Demand and Supply in Michigan — 1954-1970."

Dean Charles Odegaard of The University of Michigan College of Literature, Science and the Arts, served as chairman of the subcommittee, while Dean Willard Olson of the School of Education was a member.

"There is a real and present danger that the standards of the teacher group in Michigan will, fairly rapidly, deteriorate to 'less than college level," the report warns.

It is predicted that substandard certificate holders, "now concentrated in the lower grades," will appear more frequently in the upper grades and in the high schools.

"Michigan faces now the signs of deterioration in the standard it is able to demand in recruiting a sufficient number of qualified teachers to man its public schools. This deterioration threatens both the elementary and secondary schools as they search for qualified teachers," the report says.

For the next several years, there will be some 70,000 more children in school each year than there were the previous year, adding one-third of a million children to the school population over a five-year period, the report indicates.

"The combination of inadequately qualified teachers and large classes has already, in many cases, resulted in education of poorer quality than that necessary for intelligent adulthood," it concludes.

Tecumseh G. G. A. Won Annual Sports Day

On May 15 the Tecumseh Girl's Athletic Association played host to Airport, Bedford and Hillsdale for the annual League Sports Day. The day resulted in the following scores: Tecumseh 60, Airport 25, Bedford 25 and Hillsdale 24. Things began well for Tecumseh when they took first in volley ball and ended in much the same manner when the team walked off the field victors of the baseball game.

Nancy Dinse and Loah Nichols won the shuffleboard match while Grace Dennis and Joyce Partridge hit first at table tennis, thus giving Tecumseh an edge on the inside sports. Johanna Young and Sandra Howard started the track events going, running a 6.8 and 6.9 respectively in the 50 yard dash. Fourteen feet seven inches jumped by Carolyn Pease, won the broad jump and another Tecumseh jumper, Jane Spreeman, came in second. Donna Nixon, Yvonne Morningstar, Susie Rohweder and Joyce Stuart ran the 220 yard relay in 26 seconds winding up the events.

Every year since the Sports Days founding, a rotating plaque has been given to the winner. Tecumseh retains the plaque for the third consecutive year. Miss Carol Sheffer is the G. A. A. advisor and coach and the director of the Sports Day.

A message from Ralph Hodges, 'Your Pharmacist'

THE BEST TRIBUTE we have ever heard about fathers came from a youngster who said, "We have such good fun with my daddy that I wish I had known him sooner."

FATHERS ARE IMPORTANT PEOPLE to have. A father is a banker provided by nature. He takes care of all the important things, while mother makes the decisions about unimportant things. Of course, it is very seldom that anything important turns up, usually never.

FATHERS ARE SOMETIMES TAKEN FOR GRANTED, but not in our pharmacy. We appreciate and understand them and welcome their visits to us.

Saving Is Fun When You Save Regularly

It can be family fun when each member has his own savings account. Make it a point for each member to add to the account regularly regardless of how little the amount. It's fun to watch the figures in your pass book grow with each deposit. And it's great to learn the savings habit. Drop in soon and open an account for each member of the family.

National Golf Day Is June 8

The 6th annual National Golf Day has been set for Saturday June 8. The purpose of a National Golf Day is to give golfers a means by which they can help make major contributions toward worthwhile projects connected with this sport while at the same time giving them a chance to play 18 holes against the game's top competition.

All golfers are eligible, expert or duffers, men, women, juniors and caddies. This event is sponsored by the PGA of America. Golfers try to beat the champions, Dr. Cary Middlecoff, 1956 USGA Men's Open Champion and Kathy Cornelius, 1956 women's open champion. Both champions will tee off against the field on June 8: Dr. Middlecoff at Inverness Club in Toledo and Mrs. Cornelius at Churchill Valley Country Club at Pittsburgh, Pa.

Scorecards will be turned in to the Golf committee or club pro in charge at the end of each round.

The net proceeds of the event will be turned over to National Golf Fund, Inc., a non-profit corporation organized to disburse the proceeds of National Golf Day.

FOREIGN TRADE IMPORTANT

The lives and fortunes of many millions of Americans are directly or indirectly influenced by foreign trade. Today, believe it or not, foreign trade provides more direct employment than the textile, auto, chemical and steel industries combined. In 1956, exports of American goods and services, excluding grants of military goods, reached a value of $23.4 billion and imports totaled $19.7 billion. Putting it another way, our exports now amount to just over 8 per cent of all the movable goods produced in this country, and our imports of commodities equal in value about 6 per cent of our domestic production of movable goods. We are the world's greatest trading nation, and no other power has so great a dollars-and-cents stake in foreign trade. "The economic health and military strength of other friendly nations are intimately affected by our foreign trade."

This trade, moreover, is not limited to a comparatively small number of enterprises. Nearly every branch of American industry producing movable goods exports some of its products. Since World War II, agricultural exports have produced roughly one-eighth of total farm cash income. In non-agricultural fields, the principal exporters run a varied gamut—coal and oil, chemicals, iron and steel, farm machinery, automobiles and trucks, mining and construction equipment, electrical machinery and aircraft products. That group of industries, incidentally, accounts for roughly one-third of all business activity in the United States, employs over 6 million workers and plays a major role in setting the pace for all domestic business activity.

We are also a great importing nation. In 50 years, for instance, we have changed from a net exporter of raw materials to a net importer, for the reason that we are no longer self-sufficient in this field. We import 100 per cent of our coffee, tea, and industrial diamonds, along with 95 per cent of our asbestos and nearly as much of our nickel and chromite. Other raw materials, including those of a strategic nature, which we buy abroad include varying percentages of our tin, manganese, tungsten, cobalt, lead, zinc, copper and so on down a long list. Our commodity imports may double in the next 20 years. We also import quantities of various manufactured goods—photographic equipment, optical instruments and watches. There are many specific cases "in which foreign competition has made a direct contribution to the welfare of this country by forcing improved domestic production."

"In the broader sense foreign trade contributes to the best use of a nation's resources by permitting its producers to concentrate on those types of production for which they are especially fitted while purchasing from other countries those goods which others are better fitted to produce."

Druids and Drugs

The druids of Britain were the priest-physicians of the ancient Irish civilization. They tended the sick and wounded with preparations from their bags of salves and herbs. The mistletoe, a parasitic plant of the oak, was known to the druids as the "all-healer" and was the object of superstitious veneration.

There is no one "all-healer." Your physician studies each individual case and prescribes the remedy indicated. The family physician is the one to consult when you feel "out of sorts." Bring your prescriptions to us to be filled.

Realty Views

"We're looking for a larger home," said Joe Norman as he and his wife came in our office.

"Yes," said Mrs. Norman, "and there's not much use in showing us one with less than 1500 square feet of floor space."

It soon developed that the larger homes were not appealing to Mrs. Norman — "poor arrangement" as far as she was concerned.

With "arrangement" in mind, I showed them next an appealing home.

Mrs. Norman liked it fine. "How many square feet?" she asked.

"1380," I replied.

"Oh," she said somewhat crestfallen, "it's probably too small."

"Square footage," I said, "is not the sole standard to measure by. What you should buy is a home with the required amount of usable space for your family. As you have seen, some larger homes are wasteful of space and poorly arranged. The important thing is not the total floor area, but whether the home provides enough space, in fully usable form, for your family's needs."

Mrs. Norman nodded. "That's right," she said. "I think it is just what we want."

Needless to say—the Normans bought it.

May we help you solve your "Space Problem" too? We'd be pleased to show you the houses that will meet your own requirements.

IT'S MEANING NOW TOUCHES MOST EVERYONE...

When Memorial Day was instituted, it set apart a day for the memory of our nation's heroes who had fallen in our defense. Following the Civil War, the long period of peace made fewer the families affected.

Today, almost every family has those who have been members of our Armed Forces. Memorial Day means much to everyone of them — it affects us all. Honor all on this day set apart for that purpose — for your loved ones as well as others.

"No one could work for more than a day at any Quaker Oats Company plant without noticing how important safety is. Modern equipment, good safety practices and thorough safety education have paid off, through the years, in a safety record that any company can be proud of. Safety awards really mean something here!" says one of the Quakers, Sherman Cole, in Tecumseh.

Many of your friends and neighbors in this community work for The Quaker Oats Company. Like you, they depend on a wholesome, nourishing breakfast to start the day off right. And they're especially proud that the company they work for helps you do just that—through products like Quaker Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice and Muffets Shredded Wheat.

County TOPS Members Attend National Conv.

Of the 3000 delegates from Alaska, United States, Canada and Hawaii who attended the National TOPS Convention in Cincinnati, Ohio there were 11 from Lenawee County and 11 from Brooklyn, Michigan.

The National Queen for 1957 was crowned by the 1956 National Queen, Bonita Kolbe of Malinta, Ohio. The new queen, Miss Helen Gernenza of 3851 W. 115th St., Markham, Illinois lost 185½ pounds since March 14, 1956. She ped the scales at 195 pounds now and has to lose 45½ pounds to be a KOP. Miss Gernenza is a cook in a restaurant and because her doctor told her to diet or die within 10 years, she joined TOPS.

The 1956 princess, Betty Steele of Toledo crowned the 1957 princess, Margaret Mary Noble, also of Toledo who lost 32½ pounds to receive her crown. The youngest most active member of TOPS is freckled Nancy Honaker, seven, who formerly tipped the scales at 98¾ pounds and wore size 14 dresses. For convention, Nancy got a new size 8 dress to please her 82 pounds, losing 16½ since February 1957.

Next year due to the enthusiasm of the "Chubby Buddies" TOPS Club in Toledo and Detroit from which four male delegates attended the convention, there will be a King and a Prince crowned. The increasing desire to lose weight by men is fast traveling and anyone who desires to learn more about starting men or women's TOPS Clubs may write TOPS National Headquarters, 2306 South Howell Ave., Milwaukee 7, Wisconsin.

Taylor, Hudson And Dean Star In "Giant"

George Stevens' production, "Giant," opens June 12 at the Strand Theater. It stars Elizabeth Taylor, Rock Hudson and James Dean.

The film is an adaption of the Edna Ferber best-seller "Giant," the tenth of the authoress' works to have reached the screen. In WarnerColor, "Giant" was more than three years in production filmed on location at Virginia, Texas and California.

Elizabeth Taylor, often referred to as the most beautiful woman in the world, portrays Leslie Benedict, wife of Rock Hudson as Bick Benedict wealthy ruler of a vast empire of land. James Dean who rose to stardom in his very first motion picture, "East of Eden," for which he also won an Academy Award nomination, stars as Jett Rink, an ambitious ranch hand who by sheer energy and determination fulfills his dreams of riches, and becomes one of the wealthiest of Texans. It is reportedly Dean's finest portrayal.

Carroll Baker, an actress of exception talent makes her screen debut in the film. She was starred in Elia Kazan's "Baby Doll." Jane Withers, Chill Wills, Mercedes McCambridge and Sal Mineo also star.

There will be features twice daily at 5:30 p.m. and 9:12 p.m.

There's no need to pay a "fancy price" to enjoy fine-car luxury. Ford is lowest priced of the low-price three, yet offers values you'd expect only in cars costing far more!*
To start with, you can easily pay twice the money, and not find lines that can hold a candle to Ford's for lowness, loveliness, or just plain good taste.
But step inside. That's when you'll find the real evidence of Ford's quality!
And, on the way in, note that Ford offers door checks that hold doors open in either of two positions—for easy entrance or exit. A little thing. But, in a fine car, why not? Then, inside, notice how comfortable those plush, foam-rubber seats are. They'll stay that way. And on long trips. For they're scientifically contoured over non-sag springs. Your rear-seat passengers are treated extra kindly, too—with spring assists to help them open and close the doors—with the most leg room in Ford's field!
Fine cars are smooth—and that's another place Ford really shows its stuff!
Ford delivers its famous V-8 power smooth as a whisper. That's because only Ford takes the pains to electronically balance each engine while running under its own power. Not even the makers of the most expensive automobiles go this far to bring you super-smooth performance.
Ford rides fine-car smooth and quiet, too. You can thank the new "Inner Ford" for that. Ford, for instance, has a swept-back front suspension that actually "rolls with the punch" of every road bump.
Ford's rear springs automatically adjust to give the right ride for every road. And Ford keeps things quiet, with the most sound insulation in its field.
Fine cars are built to stay solid. So's Ford!
Ford has the only frame in its field to make use of rugged tubular steel beams. No car at the price offers so many roof-strengthening beams. # Field and Stream

During the last 16 years, more than 660 fishing sites have been acquired for public use on lakes and streams throughout the state. These sites assure access to fishable waters for anglers and their boats. The recreational opportunities provided by the program have grown more important each year as the number of fishermen increases while water frontage becomes more expensive and less available.

Many Michigan lakes would be closed to public use if access were not provided by development of a state-owned fishing site. Most of the present sites were purchased by the Conservation Department with money from the Game and Fish Protection Fund. The Fund, which also is used to purchase hunting lands for public use, is created by revenue from fishing and hunting licenses.

Other public fishing sites have been acquired by the state through land exchanges, gifts and tax reversions. Each year, available water frontage is studied and a number of selected sites are purchased to expand the program, providing needed recreational facilities. In addition, public access to fishing waters is provided by public forests, game areas, parks and recreation areas.

Broker Claims Home Buyer Gets More For Money Today

Victor R. Lundy, of San Diego, Calif., said the average cost of homes built in 1925 was $5,900 as against $12,500 in 1955. But, he said, when the construction dollar is translated to up-to-date values the average home of 1925 actually cost the buyer $2,200 more than that of 1955.

BETTER FEATURES

Lundy addressed the silver anniversary meeting of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers, an affiliate of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

He said the superiority of the modern home goes beyond price and features include better heating, cooling, plumbing and room arrangement, and protection against "encroachment by adverse influences." More thought is being given to outdoor living arrangements, he added.

William D. Davis of Kansas City, an appraiser, told the meeting grain farms are the most important segment of agriculture. He said there were 537,838 grain farms in 1954 with an average of 380.1 acres each and value of $40,004 each.

Factors involved in appraising farm values, Davis said, include records of weather hazards, tax rates and trends, and governmental and school services available to the owner and his family.

Discussing dairy farms, Davis said factors in their appraisal are the available market for milk, roads immediately serving them, governmental services, transportation services and utilities. Water supply is especially important, he added.

BUILDING PERMITS

With the coming of spring and the building season the zoning committee of Tecumseh Township wants the residents of the Township to know that a building permit is needed to build a home.

To get a permit a plan of the first floor is needed, this plan will be kept by the building inspector, who is, Clifford J. Curran, 9531 Newburg Hwy. (North Union St.).

Also required is a Electrical Permit, which can be secured from the City Engineer of Tecumseh. These permits are necessary before any building is started.

Rules Tightened On Metal Windows

Purchasers of FHA-insured homes are now guaranteed additional protection on their investments by the agency's adoption of new, tighter standards for aluminum windows, including specificiations of the Aluminum Window Manufacturers Association.

Manufacturers of aluminum windows used in FHA-insured homes must certify that their products meet both FHA and AWMA specificiations, according to the FHA.

You Can Patch Shellacked Floor

When a shellacked floor shows wear and tear in spots, it is possible to patch it without re-doing the entire area. With steel wool and a floor cleaner designed for the purpose, carefully remove all wax or oil polish from the sections that are to be repaired.

Let the surface dry thoroughly then cover the worn areas with two coats of shellac. The second coat may be applied within four hours of the first. You'll find that the patched areas blend in with the rest of the floor.

Mortar Should Dry Out First

If you are one of the thousands planning to build an outdoor fireplace this spring, don't figure on putting it to use as soon as the last brick or stone is in place.

If a fire is started too soon, the heat will dry out the mortar or concrete before it is properly cured. Postpone outdoor cooking two or three weeks—longer if possible.

How To Insulate Studless Walls

A popular method is to attach the blankets to the wall with furring strips. Nails and washers, nailing clips, or one of the common types of metal clips which stick to the walls with adhesive also can be used.

When the mineral wool is in place, insulation engineers advise covering it with a vapor barrier of waterproof paper. Lower sections of the walls can be protected by a wainscoating of wood or metal.

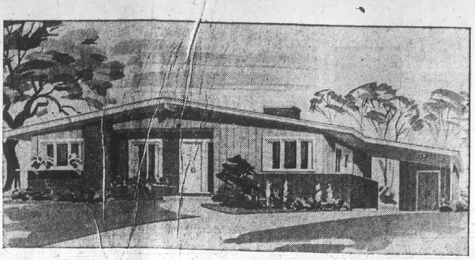
Few healthy individuals appreciate good health.



Although basically a three bedroom home, note how the plan provides for a fourth bedroom that can be included as a part of the original construction or as a future expansion project. The outstanding exterior and carefully planned interior give you a moderate cost home in keeping with today's modern living trend.

The living area of this home, with or without basement, is 1,220 sq. ft. Plans are available from local lumber dealers.

Colors Popular

Built-in kitchen and laundry appliances in colors were ordered by 32 per cent of the customers of one major appliances manufacturer in 1956. The company says it expects ot sell 40 per cent of its built-ins in color during 1957.

Good Ventilation Aid To Comfort

Short of installing a complete air-conditioning system, the average homeowner can make his house more comfortable in summer with good ventilation.

A house is well ventilated when its windows are arranged so that inside heat can escape through an opening at the top and cooled air can come in through an opening at the bottom.

Short Cuts In Killing Trees And Culling

Woodland owners looking for short cuts in killing trees can do the job in about 30 seconds per tree with a portable power girdler. Maurice W. Day of Michigan State University's Dunbar Forest Experiment Station made this time measurement when he tested the power girdler along with chemical methods of killing trees. With interest growing in improving forest stands, woodland owners are looking for quick ways to kill undesirable trees.

The mechanical method was the fastest in point of time per tree but girdled trees take two to three years longer to die than chemically killed trees. This machine makes a U-shaped cut about one-inch wide and 1½ inches deep around the tree. It won't work well with stump sprout clumps that are close together.

One of the chemical methods tested by Day has much to recommend it, especially with trees over five inches in diameter. Using an axe, Day made cuts around the tree to form a sort of frill. A 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T combination "brushkiller" was mixed with diesel oil and sprayed in the frill with a hand sprayer. This operation takes a little over one minute per tree. He also found that this same solution could be sprayed on the lower 18 to 24 inches of the trunk and exposed roots in less time than the frill method. This takes more spray and as a result probably would work better with small trees.

Before You Paint Remove Plates

Remove all electric switch and outlet plates when you paint a room. Paint these plates separately on a newspaper. If you paint them on the wall, your paint job will be marred the next time you take them off for any repairs. The painted edges will stick and break.

Windows Luxury!

Windows were once a luxury item in homes. Until the middle of the last century they were taxed in England, and early American colonists also were tapped by the tax collector for their windows.

NEWS OF THE FARM

Lenawee Co. Agricultural Agent's Column - - - - -

PRICE NEAR SUPPORT

Prospects are for a smaller difference between wheat market price and support price this year. An expanded export program for wheat is the reason.

As in the past, wheat prices will fall substantially below the loan rate during harvest season. The low point will likely occur in late June or early July. The loan rate in Michigan will be around $2 per bushel again this year, according to L. G. Hall, Lenawee county agricultural agent.

Wheat prices will move up again after harvest season and the average return to farmers for the 1957-58 crop year will be about the same as last year — near the support price of $2 per bushel.

Carryover of wheat this coming July 1 will be about 7 per cent below last year. Production is expected to be about 11 per cent below last season. Although this will be a reduction from the 1956 crop, total supplies will still be about 5 per cent above the 1951-55 averages.

WATER NEEDS VARY

Both air temperature and the amount of feed your dairy cows are getting affect the amount of water that they need, points out Clayton C. Ingerson, Assoc. county agricultural agent.

If a cow is on a ration designed to help her gain a pound a day, she'll need more water than if she were on a ration that was merely maintaining her weight. For instance, at 70 degrees, the cow gaining a pound per day will drink 10 gallons of water while the cow on a maintenance ration will drink six gallons. If the temperature was pushed up to 90 degrees, the gaining cow will need 17 gallons of water. A cow producing 35 pounds of 4 per cent milk per day will need 18 gallons of water at 70 degrees. At 90 degrees, she'll need only 19 gallons because her production will likely drop to about 25 pounds.

Agent Ingerson reminds dairymen that dairy cows require the greatest amount of water in proportion to their size of all farm animals. He also points out that if a cow is limited in water while in production she may never return to normal production during that lactation period.

Soybean Prices Near Supports

Average farm prices for soybeans in the U. S. for the next month or so are expected to remain at slightly above the $2.15 per bushel support price.

Total stocks on U. S. farms are nearly double a year ago and 56 per cent greater in Michigan, according to farm economists. Strong demand for crushing and export is expected to absorb the record 1956 crop.

Farmers intend to plant a few more acres in soybeans this year. As yields may not be as high this year as last, production will probably be about the same. Supports for the 1957 crop have been set at $2.09, six cents below 1956.

Mystery Farm Was Roy Benedict's

Mystery Farm No. 39 was identified by Mr. Clarence Aebersold as the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Benedict on Shepherd road next to the North Adrian Grange Hall. Mr. Benedict will receive a two year subscription to the Herald as did Mr. Aebersold for identifying it. Mr. Benedict will also receive a lovely picture of the farm by calling at Hayden Mills.

Urges Fewer Varieties Of Potatoes

Over the years, Michigan potato growers have produced a large number of varieties, often choosing them for high yield but not for cooking quality according to George Motts, agricultural economist at Michigan State University.

To narrow the field, M.S.U. scientists have recommended seven high quality, high yielding varieties for Michigan conditions. Included are Russett, Katahdin, Sebago, Green Mountain, Pontiac, Chippewa and Irish Cobbler. Each grower should choose one or two of these seven according to his soil and harvest season.

Everyone is unhappy when dozens of varieties are grown in a small area, Motts reports. Consumers can't keep track of differences in cooking quality and length of cooking time. Marketing is less efficient when shippers must handle many varieties in small lots.

Unless he chooses a high-yielding variety, the Michigan grower will have a hard time meeting out-of-state competition. Because the state's per-acre yields are less than one-half those in Idaho, Washington, and California, production costs per bushel in Michigan are much higher.

Good cultural practices are necessary with any variety. Certified seed, adequate seedbed preparation, seed treatment, spraying when needed, and careful harvesting and handling all help.

Sineces-

In years to come, Michigan potato prices to the grower may average no more than $1.50 per hundredweight, says Motts. Only efficient growers will make a profit under these conditions. In recent years, potato production throughout the country has become concentrated among fewer growers. Those who remain generally operate on a large scale with better soil, more capital, and better marketing practices.

Some of the group stayed in the city for dinner and the showing of "Desk Set."

Farm Safety Week July 21 – 27

"Safety Makes Sense" is the slogan for the 1957 National Farm Safety Week, according to farm safety specialists at Michigan State University.

Dates for the annual drive to cut farm accidents is July 21-27. Safety workers point out that the key to farm accident prevention is understanding the problem. During the week, programs will point up many of the causes of farm accidents and relate how they could have been prevented.

... Chevrolet with Turboglide!

Chevy's come up with the newest, sweetest, smoothest automatic drive—Turboglide. It's the first and only triple-turbine transmission!

Turboglide is something really new and different in automatic drives. In the first place, there's only one forward-speed position on the control panel. There's no "Low" needed.

Turboglide handles everything with the oil-smooth action of triple turbines. You travel from a standstill to top cruising speeds with never a lurch or lag to mar your motion.

When you see a steep downhill stretch ahead, you set the selector at "GR" (Grade Retarder) and Turboglide helps slow you down.

NO COMPETITION

It appears that the incumbents will be unopposed at the School Board election. Even though they may be the best men for the job, it is an appalling situation that there is not enough public interest to give them a little competition.

The School Board members hold positions of great responsibility and importance in any community. Too often the public forgets that these men are responsible for the major decisions governing their school system. Their job is unglamorous and their achievements seldom recognized, but their importance is great. What should require more public interest than education?

Workmen have nearly completed the addition to the Fire Hall. The building, large enough to house two vehicles, was constructed in such a manner that it can be bricked to match the older building at a future date when the old fire hall is remodeled.

The main reason for not building the fire hall at the new City Hall-Police Department location is because of the easy access of the present location to the volunteer firemen.

The Rev. Horace James has received an appointment to the Methodist Church at Capac which is located on Highway 21 about 45 miles from Flint toward Port Huron. The James' have been in Tecuymseh nearly 3 years and have won many friends during the time. They will be missed. Mr. Edward Pellowe, from Adrian College, will have charge of the service here at 10 a.m. Sunday morning. He is the son of the former Rev. Pellowe of the Adrian Methodist Church, who recently retired.

Rev. James Nixon is replacing Rev. James. He will have charge of the service June 23. The Nixon's have two children. They expect to arrive in Tecumseh June 20.

The new Methodist minister attended Albion College from 1940 to 1942. He was in the Navy Hospital Corp. from 1942 to 1945 and served 2 years aboard the U.S.S. Benham. Rev. Nixon received his AB from the University of Michigan in 1954 and his BD from Garrett Theological School in Chicago this year. He has been pastor of the Highland Methodist Church in Chicago while finishing his education and formerly served at Munith and Plainfield. His father and grandfather were both ministers, his father was also the district superintendent in the Michigan Conference Albion-Lansing district.

Finance Situation Is Brighter Than Assumed

Superintendent James McDowell reported, at the regular Board of Education meeting Monday evening, that according to advance information from Lansing, the school finance picture is somewhat brighter than previously assumed. In fact, it appears that there will be no deficit this year if State Aid for 1956-57 is paid to our School District in amounts indicated by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Reverend Bergman, from the United Lutheran Church of America, visited the Board to discuss the possibility of purchasing the Brownville School site for church purposes if and when it is abandoned. The Board requested that Rev. Bergman present a bid for the school at the next Board meeting. At that time pertinent information concerning the District's future needs wills be discussed and a decision concerning the matter arrived at.

The Superintendent reported that a "light easement" at the Ridgeway School has been purchased from John Maska for the sum of $600. The provisions are that Mr. Maska will tear down a barn adjoining the school property and agree not to rebuild on the land since the building obstructs the view from the school. Mr. McDowell also reported that a well has been completed at the Tipton School at a cost of $309 which is $74 under the estimate.

Three vacancies have occurred on the staff since the last Board meeting. These include a 2nd grade teacher, a High School teacher and a music teacher. It is the policy of the Board, in case of requested leave of absences due to pregnancy, not to grant them but to ask the teacher to resign and rehire at a future time if they desire and vacancies occur.

The matter of signing the bonds was discussed and a plan adopted for the same subject to the approval of the First of Michigan Corporation. They discussed the problem of banking the unused portion of the $1,900,000 bond receipts and authorized the Superintendent to consult with John Thompson from the United Savings Bank and act upon his recommendations.

A letter was read, that was previously authorized by the Board, to the Board of Supervisors requesting that the millage for the bonds be 8 mills on the state equalized evalution and that for operation it be 8 mills on state equalized evaluation.

The Superintendent was authorized to remodel and make additions to the Lipp home, owned by the school and located at 304 James St., for use as an office building since office space is drastically needed. The Board of Education office, Superintendent McDowell's office and Elementary Supervisor Earl Greene's office will be moved to the main office on the 1st floor of the High School. The office presently ocupied by Superintendent and used by the Board of Education will be turned into a conference room and a nurses' room when needed. The present Principal's office will be used by the annual staff. An office for the guidance director will be located where the attendance office is at the present time. A 16 foot addition will be built on to the east end of the Lipp house.

The house south of the High School on Maumee St. will be torn down.

1840 Not 1940

A typographical error appeared in the Kiwanis Club story of last week's meeting when Miss Edith Ingersoll addressed the club. The statement should have read that Tecumseh in 1840 had more than one-half the population that Chicago had in 1840 and that Tecumseh was the first settlement in Lenawee County.

Recreation Program Teams Ready For Week's Games

Nine hundred and seventy boys and girls participated in the recreation program at the various playgrounds last week.

The ball teams have been named. In the Junior Softball league, the Herrick Park team is the Bears, the Central No. 2 team the Cubs and the Tecumseh Acres team the Braves. In the Peewee league (red div.) the Herrick Park team is the Hornets, the Central No. 1 team the Bears, the Central No. 2 team the Lions and the Tecumseh Acres team the Bob Cats. In the Peewee league (blue div.) the Herrick Park team is the Cardinals, the Central No. 1 team is the Giants, the Central No. 2 team the Dodgers and the Tecumseh Acres team the Red Legs.

The Junior Minor league Herrick Park team is the Huskies, the Central No. 1 team the Seals, the Central No. 2 team the Lions and the Tecumseh Acres team the Indians. In the Junior Major League, the Herrick Park team is the Kiwanis team, the Tecumseh Acres team the Rotary team, the Central No. 1 team the Exchange Club team and the Central No. 2 team the Jaycee team.

Recreation Director Breniff reports that the girls are not attending practices as much as they should in the Girls Softball league.

The Senior Softball teams practiced. Herrick Park is loaded with former varsity High School athletes such as Bill Hansen, Ron Gurtzweiler, Lee Marsh and Richard Stephenson. The Central team is going to be tough also with such fellows as Ed Lewis and Bob Manley. Tecumseh Acres needs more ball players.

The Junior Softball league is going to be tough all the way director Breniff reports. Dave Merillate says that his Tecumseh Acres team is going to be especially rough.

Minor League practices last week brought out some boys that looked especially good. Among them were Kin Koelbel from the Herrick Park team, Jeff Osburn from the Central No. 1 team, Klinedenst, Petrovish and Gleen from the Central No. 2 team and Larry Whelan from the Tecumseh Acres Team.

In the Major League, the Exchange Club team is shaping up well. Coach Glenn Work has them really hustling. There has been attendance at the practices and they have practiced regularly. The Rotary team has been practicing hard but some of the boys have been missing practices. Director Breniff stated that such violations will result in players being moved dow nto the Minor league and Minor League players being moved up to take their place. The Kiwanis team has been rained out several times but coach Russ Hyatt had them ready to go for the first games Thursday. The Jaycee team has a good nucleus and should be tough.

All boys in the Major league should turn in their uniform and get their $5.00 deposit back when they leave on vacations since they will be automatically moved down to the Minor league at that time.

Both the red and blue divisions of the Peewee Softball league will be very rough if last week's practices are any indication. The first games were played Monday.

Any boy regardless of league age left off the list of teams, not registered or not participating in the program for other similar reasons is invited to see one of the coaches at one of the playgrounds to get placed on a team. The playgrounds open at 1:00 p.m. If it is impossible to see one of the coaches, Recreation Director Breniff said to call him at 133W. He said not to feel that it was bothering him since he wants all of the eligible boys in town to play ball. When there are more than 600 boys and girls in the program, it is understandable that some may accidentally have been left off some of the lists of teams.

Be sure to keep track of the schedule in the Herald for each following week's games as well as scores, batting averages and other interesting facts.

Growing Sport

Archery fishing has grown as a sport in Michigan in recent years. The special deer hunting license needed by archers shows a steady increase in state archer numbers and many of these find that spring is a fine time to arch-angle for rough fish such as carp, above. This sort of fishing is approved on certain waters under a regular fishing license.

Field and Stream

Nesting pheasants seem to be faring well this spring, but preliminary census information indicates breeding stock is down somewhat from last year.

The Conservation Department's annual pheasant crowing counts, now under way, have shown a slight decrease in the overall breeding population. Of course, pheasant numbers vary with areas and some counties apparently have larger populations than last year.

Victor S. Janson, Department pheasant specialist, said it is still too early to determine exactly what effect recent wet weather had on nesting success. Brood counts, conducted in late July, will supply this information.

"The bad weather this year came later than it did last spring, and wasn't as prolonged," Janson said. "Most hens probably had nested before the heavy rains and the bad weather apparently wasn't as damaging as last year."

Cold, wet weather during the spring of 1956 hampered nesting activities and Michigan experienced a statewide drop of about 15 percent in pheasant brood production. This drop was reflected during the 1956 hunting season when hunters took 1,125,000 ringnecks — a decrease of approximately five percent from the 1955 bag.

"The lowered production last year accounts for the decrease in breeding stock this spring," Janson explained. "However, the outlook for another successful pheasant hunting season this year is good, if the current favorable weather continues."

Conservation Department game biologists keep a close check on pheasant activity throughout the year, with a variety of census methods, including the crowing count survey from late April to mid-June, reports from farmer cooperators and the summer brood count conducted by rural mail carriers.

Christian Science Sunday Services

The healing and protecting power of effective prayer will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-entitled "God the Preserver of Man."

Scriptural passages will include the following from Psalms (145:18, 19): "The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth. He will fulfill the desire of them that fear him: he also will hear their cry, and will save them."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following selection will be among those read (231:8): "If God heals not the sick, they are not healed, for no lesser power equals the infinite All-power; but God, Truth, Life, Love, does heal the sick through the prayer of the righteous."

The Golden Text is from Hosea (12:13): "By a prophet the Lord brought Israel out of Egypt, and by a prophet was he preserved."

Scorching Start Seen For Summer Friday June 21

Summer starts officially in Michigan at 11:21 a.m. Friday, June 21, a day that promises to be a real scorcher for the whole Northern Hemisphere, according to a University of Michigan astronomer.

Prof. Hazel Losh explains that Michigan will receive the most heat from the Sun in any 24-hour period of the year June 21, when the Sun will reach its most direct position over the northern half of the Earth. Fortunately, the Sun then will be about three million miles further away from this planet than it was in January.

Despite the tremendous heat gain the Northern Hemisphere will experience June 21, the chances are very good that day will not be the hottest of the year, Professor Losh continues. Michigan will continue to receive more heat from the Sun than it loses every day until around August 1, so temperatures generally can be expected to keep climbing until then. June 21 will also be the shortest night in the year for amateur astronomers, with only about nine hours between sundown and sunup.

SUMMER PLEASURE

Easy Outdoor Meals—Iced Tea

Tc

Tiny Parmesan Meat Balls
Rice
Iced Tea

Special Summer Features: Parmesan Meat Balls are not sauteed; cooks in 20-minutes in a tomato sauce. Rice — ordinarily you'd use spaghetti for meat balls, but rice cooks without steaming up the kitchen. Pineapple — Mint Sherbet — cool, refreshing and low-in-calories. Iced Tea — new recipe prepares tea in half the time, and requires less cubes.

Iced Tea

Pre-measure ⅓ cup loose tea (or remove tags from 15 teabags.) Bring 1 quart of freshly drawn cold water to a full rolling boil in a saucepan. Remove from heat and while water is still bubbling, add all the tea at one time. Brew 5 minutes, uncovered. Stir and strain into pitcher holding one quart of freshly drawn cold water. (Do not refrigerate.) Serve in ice-filled glasses, with lemon and sugar to taste.

Tomato Sauce Piquant with Tiny Parmesan Meatballs

(Makes 8-10 servings)

1 lb. 12-oz. can Italian style tomatoes
1 can water
2 bouillon cubes
1 can tomato paste
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon oregano
3 cloves garlic, speared on to a wooden toothpick
¼ teaspoon tabasco sauce
¼ cup white cooking wine

Combine all ingredients except wine, in deep kettle. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer 1¼ hours. Add wine.

Ingredients for Meatballs:

1 lb. chopped chuck
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cayenne pepper
¼ cup grated parmesan cheese
1 egg slightly beaten
1 tablespoon onion juice
¼ cup bread crumbs

While sauce is cooking, prepare meatballs by combining ingredients and form into small balls about ¾ inch in diameter. (About 1 teaspoon meat makes 60 meatballs.) Drop into gently boiling sauce. Cover. Cook about 10 minutes. Pour over cooked rice or spaghetti.

Pineapple Mint Sherbet

(Makes about 12 servings)

1½ 6 oz. cans frozen unsweetened pineapple concentrate 2½ cups cold water
3 drops peppermint extract
4 teaspoons Sucaryl solution or 32 Sucaryl tablets
15 drops green fruit coloring
¾ cup non-fat dried milk solids

Set refrigerator at coldest point. Combine ingredients in a 2-quart mixing bowl in order given. Beat enough to blend. Pour into 2 freezer trays. Freeze 1-2 hours or until half frozen. Remove to large chilled mixer bowl. Beat until creamy, not liquid. Pour into 9" ring mold. Freeze until firm, about 4-6 hours. Makes about 12 ½ cup servings. Calories — 82, or 178 with sugar.

Survey Shows That Wood Still Has Major Role

Despite increased production of synthetics during recent years, wood continues as the leading material for most major components of home building, according to the latest housing survey by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The survey, covering single-family homes built during the first quarter of 1956, revealed that wood is still the most popular material for such items as framing, sheathing, finish flooring, subflooring, windows and kitchen cabinets.

Hardwood floors were found in 84 per cent of the first quarter living rooms, 81 per cent of the dining rooms and 85 per cent of the bedrooms. Wood sheathing was used on 38 per cent of the first quarter homes, compared with 29 per cent for the nearest competitor.

Better than four out of five homes featured wood subflooring and the use of lumber framing for exterior walls, while nearly nine out of 10 first quarter homes contained wood kitchen cabinets. In 57 per cent of the new homes, all or a majority of the windows were wood-framed, compared with 29 per cent for wood's closest rival.

Insulation Stops Ghost Streaks

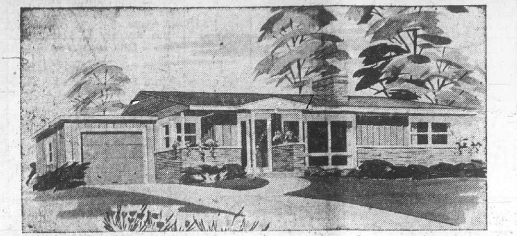
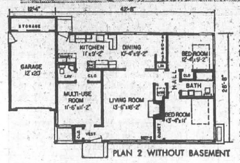
Dark streaks in a ceiling are called "ghost marks" and appear most frequently in houses that are not insulated.

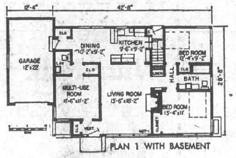
The streaks are caused by warm, dust-laden air which tends to move to and through the colder surfaces between the framing members.

Insulation puts a stop to "ghost marks" by making the temperature of the walls and ceilings uniformly warm. It also saves winter fuel and makes the house more comfortable in all seasons.





PLAN 2 WITHOUT BASEMENT



PLAN 1 WITH BASEMENT

Here is a ranch home that offers you the choice of a third bedroom now or in the future as needed without detracting from the beauty of the original home. In addition to appealing features such as bath and a half and natural fireplace, note the efficient traffic pattern that makes this home comfortable to live in and easy to maintain. The exterior is both modern and attractive.

The living area of the plans is 1,232 sq. ft. Plans are available from local lumber dealers.

Liberalization of FHA Terms Will End GI Loan

A housing industry spokesman today predicted the death of the GI home loan program if Congress passes pending legislation easing down payment requirements on government-backed loans.

The spokesman for the National Association of Home Builders also said that unless Congress raised the GI interest rate "it means the end of the GI loan."

The administration recently hiked the FHA interest rate from 4½ to 5 per cent but Congress thus far has balked at passing a similar increase in the GI interest rate.

The Senate and House both have passed slightly different bills easing down payment requirements, and a conference committee composed of members of both chambers is trying to hammer out a compromise acceptable to both. However, whatever form the compromise takes within the framework of the two bills, it will signal the end of the GI loan.

The NAHB spokesman said the GI interest rate of 4½ per cent "just cannot compete" with the FHA rate at present. He said any further liberalization of FHA terms will sound the death knell of the GI loan. In addition, he pointed out that next year is the end of eligibility for World War II veterans who make up the majority of potential GI loan takers. Korean veterans have about seven more years of eligibility.

Under the Senate FHA down payment liberalization, housing officials expect a big spurt in the $15,000-house buying bracket. Most new houses are in this category. The bill calls for a 3 per cent down payment on houses up to $10,000, 10 per cent on the next $6,000, and 30 per cent on the next $4,000.

The House bill differs only in the second, $6,000 category. Here the down payment needs would be 15 per cent instead of 10 per cent.

Under the Senate bill, a $20,000 house would require a $2,100 down payment. A $15,000 house would call for $800 down. Terms of the House bill call for a $2,400 down payment on a $20,000 house and $1,050 on a $15,00 0dwelling.

Owners Prefer More Entrances

With the growing trend to indoor-outdoor living, home buyers have developed a pronounced preference for more doors leading out of the house, according to the Institute of Home Designers.

The institute reports that 1,500 home owners in Long Island, N.Y., were asked where they would want doors located in their next house.

In addition to the front entrance, separate kitchen entrances were wanted by 81 per cent. Basement entrances were a "must" with 52 per cent, and 11 per cent also wanted doors from the outside into other areas such as dining rooms.

Modernizing Bath Is A Sound Investment

Because many people judge the age of a house by the appearance of the bathroom, the replacement of out-dated fixtures with attractive new equipment increases the value of the house far more than the cost of the project.

Householders who expect to place an older house on the market would be well advised to bring the bathroom up-to-date before offering the property for sale, the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau suggests.

The increased value of the property is only one of the advantages of bathroom modernization, the bureau points out. Equally important is the pride all members of the family will take in the attractiveness of the modernized bathroom with its handsome and colorful fixtures and glamorous wall and floor treatment.

Sleeping Habits Of Pets Tests Home Heating!

Why does your dog or cat, or both, insist on jumping up into a chair to sleep?

Because the floors are cold, says the Better Heating-Cooling Council.

Reporting that a survey was made among cats and dogs in all walks of life, the council says high percentages answered with "woofs" and "meaows" on the question of cold floors in homes. Those not replying to the questionnaire were listed as "hush-puppies."

Seriously, the council says, a high percentage of homes have floors that are uncomfortably cold in winter because of inadequate or improperly installed heating systems.

Cats, dogs and ankles can expect cold floors when a heating plant heats only the air and not the floors and exposed walls, says the council which is especially interested in such things as radiant baseboards.

Soaps Are Not Recommended For Ceramic Tile

Most household stains on ceramic tile can be quickly removed with a damp cloth. Tile contractors will suggest that for more stubborn spots you try an ordinary soapless detergent and water, and then rinse and wipe clean with a soft dry cloth.

Soaps are not recommended for use on ceramic wall and floor tile. They react with the soluble calcium and magnesium salts in hard water to form insoluble scums and films. Repeated cleanings would build up thicker scums on the tile. If this has already happened, the homemaker can remove the scum layers by a thorough cleaning with a detergent.

Use a fiber brush and scouring powder to clean the cement joints between tiles. But don't expect to restore the joints to their original white and spotless condition. The cement tends to turn gray with age and the homemaker should not expect to change it completely.

On occasion, if scrubbing does not do the trick, bleaching with hydrogen peroxide or common hair bleach should be tried. On tougher jobs, steel wool or a clean steel brush is required.

Work carefully, though, when using a steel brush or steel wool so that you don't wear away any of the grout. And always try simple scouring before you use the more drastic methods.

The University of Michigan graduates a larger per cent of its enrollment than do most other institutions in the U.S. Eighty per cent of the freshmen who enter achieve their educational objective of either a Bachelor of Arts degree or admission to one of the professional units. The national average is 50 per cent.

THE BIG SCHOOL PROBLEM

Stewart Alsop, the liberal-minded writer on current affairs, recently made a little tour of some suburban schools. He was motivated in this by the proposal that the federal government provide funds for classroom construction.

At the beginning of his trip, Mr. Alsop was inclined to agree with the proposal. But at the end of it, he was no longer so sure.

One reason for that is that the school situation, while serious in many places, "is not quite so desperate a crisis as it has sometimes been painted."

Another is that "If the federal government does move in, the federal government will stay in, despite the President's fond hopes."

Still another is that "surely there is something to be said for the notion" that the citizens of a state "should be financially responsible for the education of their children."

Finally, Mr. Alsop came away from his tour with this impression—"that the teachers and officials I met, all admirable people, were a little too much interested in the buildings the children were taught in, and not enough in what they were taught."

All of these moderately-phrased observations are important—and the last is the most important of all. We will put the cart before the horse with a vengeance if we lay heavy emphasis on the physical characteristics of our schools—and only secondary emphasis on what goes on in the classrooms.

ORIENTAL MYSTERY

As might have been expected, Red China has moved promptly to exploit the Taipeh riot in which the American Embassy was destroyed (although the State Department says the code-room had not been broken into or our codes "compromised", as was reported earlier), and offices in the USIA building completely gutted. Peiping is taking double advantage in renewing both its attacks on Chiang and its demands that Americans go home. Moscow chimes in, citing the riot as the result of American contempt for Asians.

But we have yet to hear that it was the Reds who organized the six-hour reign of terror and destruction—and not the Nationalist Chinese themselves. Nor has anyone explained how—with our vast Central Intelligence Agency lurking everywhere—we could be caught so flat-footed . . . unless US officials wanted Chiang in the doghouse.

We hope that Foster Dulles asks CIA boss, brother Allen, some time.

WE KNOW WHO'S STAYING

The resignation of Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey, reluctantly accepted by the President, will, according to Chairman Clarence Cannon, of the House Appropriations committee, start a "general exodus" from the cabinet. Presumably he has in mind Secretary of State Dulles and Secretary of Defense Wilson.

Asked by a newsman about "your own personal plans for the future," Mr. Dulles told his news conference: "My personal plans for the future are to serve as Secretary of State." Nor has Mr. Wilson admitted to any plans he may have for leisure or a more comfortable job. As for Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, it is pretty well established by now that he is not a resigning type.

We can be quite certain, however, that Rep. Cannon was not thinking of the "Secretary of Peace," Harold Stassen.

"BAD LUCK"

We still possess a residue of inherited fears despite the height attained by our modern civilization. Because the mental impressions formed over thousands of years cannot be corrected overnight, there are still many worshipers at the shrines of the occult, the mysterious, and the supernatural. Nonetheless, credulity is one of the most charming characteristics of the human race.

"Would you care to list our house for sale?" Mr. Jommer asked on the phone. "We'd really like to sell it."

"Yes, we would," I replied, "at a salable price."

"O.K.," Mr. Jommer said, "look it over and give us your opinion."

Later that day, we inspected the house and suggested "about $8900"

"I don't know," Mr Jommer said, "some friends told us it should bring $9,500."

"Well, frankly," I replied, "the real answer is not what your friends say it's worth or even what I estimate it will sell for. The final test is the market place. It's really worth what an informed buyer will pay."

"That's true," Mr. Jommer said, "how about $9,000?"

"Fine,," I said, "let's try it."

The house was somewhat out of style and didn't appeal to younger families| Luckily however, an older couple liked it. The house actually sold for $8,500 cash within the 90 day exclusive listing period.

"I'm well pleased," Mr. Jommer said as we handed him his settlement check. "On a tight-money market I feel lucky to get cashed out, even though we did accept a little less than we first considered."

Naturally, we too were pleased that Mr. Jommer found our selling service satisfactory The important thing to remember is that we will work just as hard to produce "acceptable results" for you. Why not give us your home to sell, on an exclusive listing basis?

Electronic Range To Be Shown At Gripton's

The first showing in this area of the Westinghouse Speed-O-Lite electronic range, which cooks foods in a wink and without external heat, will be displayed and demonstrated locally at G. L. Gripton's Hardware in Britton June 15 from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Miss Selma Patterson, Westinghouse Home Economist, will be on hand to show how this revolutionary range prepares meals in minutes instead of hours, automatically and without burning.

Mr. Gripton, of Gripton Hardware, said the electronic range will cook a five-pound beef roast in only 30 minutes, 20 chocolate cookies in two minutes or a poached egg in 45 seconds. "A precooked frozen packaged dinner can be on a serving plate only four minutes after it's removed from the freezer," he said.

The Westinghouse electronic range cooks by means of microwaves, which are merely a kind of high-frequency radio energy. A particular characteristic of microwaves is that when they strike a substance which will absorb them such as meat and other food, they are converted into heat. Foods absorb the energy and consequently become hot. The only heat produced is in the food. The air inside the range, the range itself and the utensils remain at room temperature, except for such small amounts of heat as they may pick up from the food.

"Just consider the possibilities of this range," he said. "Foods may be served in the same dishes they're cooked in — no messy pots or pans to wash and no greasy skillets to soak."

NEWS OF THE FARM

Lenawee Co. Agricultural Agent's Column - - - - -

The broiler grower should be sure that his vaccinations against Newcastle disease and infectious bronchitis are on schedule.

Two vaccinations are needed against Newcastle and only one against infectious bronchitis. Unless one of the two vaccines used includes killed virus, applications should be at least ten days apart. Time of application varies with method. Vaccines of both diseases may be given to a large flock in drinking water, by spraying, or by dusting. One-at-a-time vaccination can be done in the nostril or on the eye.

1. Inject vaccine in the muscle. The killed-virus type should be applied by the birds' tenth day or the live-virus vaccine between the tenth and fourteenth days.
2. Vaccinate in the nostril before the chicks are one week old.
3. Apply in the drinking water when the broilers are between four and fourteen days old.
4. Apply as a dust during the age range of three to ten days.

Spraying is not recommended for the first application against Newcastle. It can be used for the second vaccination, which should be completed usually when the birds are about one month old. Only when live-virus vaccine has been injected in the muscle for the first application is a second vaccination unnecessary.

Infectious bronchitis vaccination should be given individually or by dusting, or spraying, or in the drinking water.

When a live-virus vaccine is used against either disease, a mild reaction may result in the loss of a few birds from five to ten days after application. Ingerson suggests that losses can be reduced by adding an antibiotic to the drinking water.

Irrigating Forage Pays In Some Cases

Dairy farmers who have a limited acreage of light soil and are increasing herd size faster than feed supplies are most likely to benefit from irrigation. That's the belief of Ray Hoglund, farm economist at Michigan State University.

Most dairymen will likely find it more profitable to look for other ways to boost net income. Renting more cropland and improving forage production practices are two alternatives. Hoglund points out that if irrigation is to show a profit, the value of applying water, extra fertilizer, seed and labor and additional harvesting: Feed crops are low in value compared to small fruit and truck crops, high value crops that can make profitable use of irrigation.

Supplemental Roughage Best For Poor Pasture

How much value is there to feeding hay or silage to cows on pasture? Preliminary tests in Kentucky indicate that pasture must be rather poor before supplental roughage does much good according to extension dairy specialists.

Cows that were fed all the roughage they wanted in a two-hour period before turning on pasture ate less pasture. But overall, they didn't eat more total dry matter in the period from May through September. But after mid-July, when pastures drop in quality, cows getting either hay or silage tended to produce the most milk. Pasture quality ranged from excellent to poor as the season progressed.

Any decision on feeding supplemental roughage while cows are on pasture will rest to a large extent on the condition of the pasture as affected by moisture and fertility.

Mystery Farm Owned By Lawrence Blum

Last week's Mystery Farm was identified as the Lawrence Blum farm located at 2701 Occidental Rd.

Mr. Blum and his wife Rosalynde were married in 1929 and have owned the farm for nearly 18 years. He is a farm and manufacturer's representative for Chicago Steel and Wire Co. His hobbies are farming and golf.

Raymond Solarski of 301 Island Drive, Tecumseh, was the first person to identify the farm. He was given a free two year subscription from the Tecumseh Herald. Mr. Blum will be given an aerial photograph and a two year subscription to the Herald from the features sponsor, Hayden Mills.

Wheat Quotas Up For Vote On June 20

Michigan wheat growers will again help make the decision whether the 1958 U.S. wheat crop will have marketing quotas. They'll cast ballots to make a decision on June 20. Eligible to vote in the referendum are all growers who will share in the 1958 wheat crop from a farm on which the wheat acreage to be harvested, plus any acreage placed in the wheat acreage reserve, will be more than 15 acres.

Marketing quotas have been approved for each of the last four years in national referendums. A 66.7 per cent favorable vote is required. Last year, 87.4 per cent voted in favor and many eligible vofters did not cast ballots.

A favorable vote will bring a national support price of not less than $1.78 per bushel for eligible producers. This is 75 per cent of parity. To be eligible for this support price, growers must stay within the acreage allotment. Growers who exceed their allotment will be subject to a penalty if they have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest. The penalty will be equal to 45 per cent of the May 1, 1958, parity price or probably a penalty of about $1.13 a bushel for wheat in excess of the allotment. If the vote is unfavorable toward quotas, there will be no restrictions on wheat marketings. The support price will be 50 per cent of parity for those who comply with allotments.

The 1958 allotment will remain the same as 1957, except that Michigan's share has been boosted about 8,000 acres to 965,408 acres. If the allotment had been set to bring production in line with demand, only 23,144,654 acres could be alloted in 1958 instead of 55 million acres allotment. Legislation requires the Secretary of Agriculture to proclaim marketing quotas when the available supply for the 1957-58 marketing year is actually 56 per cent above the normal supply.

Sgt. T. B. Baldwin In Exercise

Army Sgt. Thomas B Baldwin, son of Mr.. and Mrs. Ned N. Baldwin, 311 W. Chicago Blvd., Tecumseh, Mich., recently participated in a practice parachute jump with the 11th Airborne Division's 17th Cavalry in Germany.

Sergeant Baldwin, an assistant squad leader in the 17th's Troop C, executed the jump under simulated combat conditions. He entered the Army in November 1954 and completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. The sergeant is a 1954 graduate of Tecumseh High School.

Container May Be Worth More Than Goods

Most shoppers have wondered about the cost of the brilliant array of packages and containers stacked head-high in their favorite market.

The suspicion that some containers may cost more than the contents has been confirmed by James Goff, director of Michigan State University's unique packaging technology course. Newest example of this, he reports, is the aerosol container for shaving cream. "The can itself may cost from 35 to 45 cents," Goff says. "The remainder of the 79 cents average cost must cover the propellant, marketing, overhead and profit in addition to soap cost."

Another case of the package costing more than its contents, he adds, is that of individual servings of dry cereal — which may cost four to five times as much as the same amount of cereal in one large package. The obvious answer, according to Goff, is that the customer is buying a product for its conveinence. With plastic squeeze containers, such as those used for deodorants, jellies and cheeses, "there's no waste, no evaporation and less mess," he points out.

The package of the future may not include today's tin can. "The tin can of the future will be rectangular and may not be made of tin at all." "The round type of container takes up more shelf and warehouse space than the modern world can spare. The milk bottle became square for this reason."

Glass with its eye-appeal is replacing the tin can, but Goff believes that paperboard is the most promising material to replace both tin and glass just as it has in the dairy industry. Better moisture-proofing of paperboard will increase its use.

Modern packaging brings modern problems. Designers seek to control package size to improve marketing efficiency, and want eye-appeal.

The soap industry, for example, is constantly searching for a new wrapping to help sell its product. According to Goff, soap products are sold almost entirely on package appeal alone. Americans accepted the hygienic worth of soap so long ago that it is no longer a selling point.

WHY re-enlist in the small-car army?
READ THIS STARTLING FACT
5 out of 10 Smaller Cars wear a Pontiac Price Tag —yet none gives you Any of Pontiac's Advantages

PONTIAC GIVES YOU UP TO 8.9% MORE SOLID CAR PER DOLLAR!
Not one of the smaller cars can give you the heavy-duty construction, the road-hugging heft and solid security that surround you in every Pontiac. Yet Pontiac's the nimblest heavyweight you ever managed—and your Pontiac dealer can show you more than six dozen advanced-engineering reasons why! Pontiac has gone all out to make this genuine big car the best behaved beauty that you ever had the pleasure of bossing. You'll find Pontiac's exclusive Precision-Touch Controls make steering and braking the surest, easiest you've ever experienced! Park it, cruise it, try it in stop-and-go traffic . . . this is driving the smaller jobs can't duplicate!

PONTIAC GIVES YOU 4 TO 7 INCHES MORE WHEELBASE!
The small cars extend bumpers and fenders to look big—but Pontiac puts the extra length where it counts—between the wheels! Pontiac's longer stride brackets the bumps instead of riding on them. And this extra length shows up inside, too, in stretch-out space for six footers. Add to Pontiac's bonus in length its all-new suspension system and you have an exclusive Level-Line Ride no car at any price can surpass . . . and a built-in sense of direction and security that will spoil you for the smaller cars forever!

PONTIAC'S PERFORMANCE TOPS THE BEST THE SMALL CARS CAN OFFER—BY A WIDE MARGIN!
Not one of the smaller cars can measure up to Pontiac Performance. Whether you judge a power plant by engineering statistics or on-the-road performance, Pontiac's Strato-Streak V-8 stands head and shoulders above anything in the low-price field. Your Pontiac dealer will be happy to show you a complete facts-and-figures comparison—then an eye-opening test drive in traffic or out on the highway will supply all the heart-lifting proof you need that Pontiac has separated the men from the boys when it comes to performance!

—AND PONTIAC HAS ALWAYS BEEN FAMOUS AS ONE OF AMERICA'S TOP TRADE-INS!
Maybe it comes as a surprise to you that so much more car can be yours at the same price you've seen on the smaller cars. But there's the fact! And Pontiac is a wonderful investment, too! As you know, it has always commanded a top trade-in. So why not step out of the small-car class and into a Pontiac . . . there's nothing in your way. Your Pontiac dealer has the keys and an eye-opening offer waiting for you right now!
So why not look and feel like a million—instead of a million others?

NOW! If you want the ultimate in both economy and extraordinary performance, new Tri-Power Carburetion is available at extra cost on even the lowest priced Pontiac models! It's America's newest power advance and exclusively Pontiac's at so low a cost!

40% Of Coffee Sold By Kroger Is Instant

If your breakfast cup of coffee was the instant variety, you are participating in what appears to be a national trend.

Instant coffee is one of the fastest-growing food trends in the country, according to Jean Allen, home economist for the Kroger Food Foundation. Her report is based on personal contacts with homemakers in 21 middlewestern and southern states, as well as sales in her company's 1400 retail stores.

Coffee is America's biggest import and has been our country's favorite beverage ever since the Boston Tea Party. But today, more and more cash registers are ringing up sales for the instant variety. Instants now account for nearly 40 per cent of total coffee sales in Kroger stores, Miss Allen reports.

In response to this demand, the retail food company recently completed a million-dollar plant in Cincinnati just for processing of its two brands of instant coffee, both of which are now being introduced under their new formula in stores in this area. Capacity of the plant equals more than two million cups of coffee per day.

Editor's Corner . . .

BY PHIL BELLEVILLE

REGRETS EXPRESSED

The Tecumseh Herald would like to express its regrets to the Tecumseh Jaycees for not being able to publish an advertisement this week pertaining to the ticket sales and prizes for the annual Homecoming in July. Even though there is no private gain involved and all profits are spent on such worthy projects as the Teen Age Road-e-o, Junior League Baseball, Boy Scouts and the Teen Club, local postmaster, Jack Metcalf, saw fit to send a Homecoming ticket advertisement that appeared several weeks ago in the Herald to Washington. The reply was that the advertisement was not mailable.

Other postal authorities unofficially advised us that the law pertaining to indirect and direct publicity of drawings that are sponsored by local church service clubs or other organizations, where the profits go for community betterment and youth activities, in practice are pretty much subject to the discretion of local postal authorities. It is worth noting that the Fenton Independent several weeks ago carried a front page feature story directly publicising a local charitable drawing. This is a general practice throughout the State.

I wonder why it is that horse race betting is openly sanctioned in the State of Michigan for private profit when charitable drawings often involving as little cost as 5c per ticket with proceeds going to community betterment and youth activities are officially illegal. The question is especially crucial when it is realized that, in most cases, the law is not enforced.

SERIOUS PROBLEM

While crossing Chicago Blvd. at the stoplight this week, this editor overheard a very interesting and often repeated remark from a family that was obviously strangers visiting Tecumseh. The remark was, "isn't it strange that this community has such a large and growing residential section while it has a business section no larger than is found in towns one half as large." From what I could gather, they had been unsuccessful in trying to buy merchandise that they thought should be available in a city with 6500 population.

It seems obvious to me that unless local merchants keep up with the expanding market and new businesses come into town, shopping habits will be permanently established in larger outside areas where all of the family needs can be supplied. Once these habits become permanently established, Tecumseh could well turn into a "bedroom community" with local payrolls being spent out of town. This is a serious problem at the present time. A Chamber of Commerce with cooperation would be a good start if we might be allowed a bit of wishful thinking.

City Council Shown A New Subdivision Plat

Harry and Murray Day were present at the regular City Council meeting Monday evening with a proposed plat for a subdivision on N. Occidental between the Tecumseh Lumber Co. and Whelan Implement Co. just north of Monroe road.

They asked about the possibility of city water and sewers. The council assured them of water but are unable to put sewers in at present because of the lack of funds, however, they were given assurance that planning would start imediately for sewers sometime in the future.

A resolution was read from the State Highway Department, asking for a 6 inch sanitary sewer lead under trunk line M-50 for the new city hall. The resolution was adopted.

Permission was granted to Milogke Sarvin, new owner of the Top Hat, to park a trailer at the back of his place of business, according to the new trailer ordinance, which is on a temporary basis.

Bids for a new police car were opened from Schneider Brothers and Butler Motor Sales. Butler Motor Sales was low bidder with a price of $950.00 difference on a new Ford with a 1956 Plymouth trade-in. Schneider Brothers bid was $990.00 difference.

A communication from the Planning Board on their recent meeting read stating that the shopping

Louis S. Schneider Died Monday Evening

Tecumseh citizens were saddened this week to hear that Louis S. Schneider of 115 S. Union Street passed away Monday evening at 10:30 p.m. in University Hospital, Ann Arbor, Michigan where he had been a patient since May 23. He was born in Adrian Jan. 16, 1895 the son of Louis Barnhardt and Margaret Smith Schneider.

He is survived by his wife, Alice, one son, Louis L. Jr. and three grandchildren, all of Tecumseh. He was preceded in death by one brother, Karl.

Mr. Schneider was the owner of Schneider Brothers Garage, established 40 years ago. He was a member of the Underwood-Orr Post No. 34 of the American Legion having served with the 310 Engineers and the Polar Bear Division in North Russia in the first World War, was the first to receive a life membership in the Legion and served as first vice-commander in 1919. He has held every office and committee chairmanship in the Post including Post Commander twice. In the District he was equally active holding all offices and chairmanships including District Commander in 1937. In the Department, he was State Child Welfare Chairman for six years and served on many other committees. He was a charter member of Lenawee County Voiture No. 997 40 and 8 and there again worked hard on child welfare. He was Chef de Gare of the Voiture during the early years of the organization and also served on various committees. Mr. Schneider was a member of the National Distinguished Guests committee of the American Legion at the present time. He is also a member of the Masonic Lodge, Elks, a life member of the Rotary, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Episcopal Church. Mr. Schneider was a graduate of Tecumseh High School in 1914 and attended Michigan State College.

Mr. Schneider was always interested in Civic activities and only in the last few years turned the duties of the Officer of the Day for the Memorial Day parade over to another. He had done this work for a good many years and thoroughly enjoyed helping in any way that he could the citizens of his community.

Funeral services will be held Friday, June 21, at Collins Funeral Home at 2 p.m. with the Rev. E. C. Dickin officiating. Friends may call at the residence Wednesday and Thursday. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery with the American Legion in charge of graveside services.

Recreation Program Is Well Covered By Tecumseh Herald

Be sure not to miss the Sports Page of the Herald this summer since every week the following week's recreation program schedule will be published as well as a complete report of Major, Minor, Junior, Senior, Peewee and Girls' ball games in the local program will be given.

Starting next week, batting averages of the top 5 men on each team will be given as well as other pertinent statistics. Complete picture and news coverage is given on the whole excellent recreation program. Be sure not to miss it.

New Pool Record

A record of 467 children in attendance at the community swimming pool was set Monday. The previous high was 385 set last year

Boy Narrowly Escaped Drowning

Donald Penner narrowly escaped drowning Saturday when he was pushed into the deep end of the community swimming pool by an unknown boy. Ray Sluyter, Jr., who passed his Senior Red Cross Life Saving test only Friday, pulled him out from the bottom of the pool.

The City emergency vehicle was called but the boy revived before it arrived. He was given oxygen afterwards.

Drag Races To Start This Sunday

Drag Races that proved so popular last year in Tecumseh, will begin again this Sunday, June 23 at Meyers Airport, just north of the Tecumseh City Limits. Trials will start at 8 a.m.

There will be several good cars in the races and a good crowd is anticipated.

9 Boys Left For Boy's State

The Fraternal Order of Eagles, the Tecumseh Products Co., the United Products Workers, the Ottawa Machine Products Co., the Rotary Club, the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the local American Legion each sponsored one boy. The Exchange Club sponsored two boys. The sponsors select the boys after the High School Principle calls a meeting of all interested boys with the proper qualifications and a list submitted to the sponsoring organizations. The boys that are chosen have outstanding leadership records in their High School. G. W. Spangler has done a fine organizing job on the local level.

At Boys' State, they will be taught practical principles of government on the local, county, state and national level. Before returning home, each boy will have a chance to hold an elected office and experience the duties and problems of that office and its relation to the others.

Sunday, June 23, will be Sponsors' and Visitors' Day. Parents are urged to visit boys but no boys are permitted to leave the campus.

School Census Shows 4403 Children 0-19

The school census just completed shows a total of 4403 pupils, ages 0 through 19 years of age. This is an increase of 6.45 percent over the 1956 census. There was a total gain of 21 children under 5 years of age and a gain of 246 in children 5 through 19 years of age. The greatest gain was in 10 year olds with an increase of 78. The greatest loss was in 12 year olds which was a decrease of 24.

The City of Tecumseh had a combined total of 2545 children 0-19 years of age in 1956 and now there is a total of 2702 or a net gain of 15 percent. In the rural areas of our district, there were 1592 children 0-19 years of age in 1956 and now there is a total of 1701 or a net gain of 110. There was a total gain of 6.1 percent in the city and a total gain of 6.9 percent in the rural areas, so the growth over the entire district is approximately the same or 6.45 percent.

High Winds Fell Trees

Tecumseh Herald Rephoto

Truesdale Apartments, (above) owned by Howard Truesdale, located at the corner of Logan and Ottawa Streets, were damaged when a tree fell on the roof during the sudden thunder storm Thursday afternoon.

A tree also fell on the roof of the home located at 115 Pottawamatie Street. Little damage was reported.

Branches and trees were down over a considerable part of Tecumseh causing disrupted telephone and electric service in some areas.

It is worth noting that, in nearly every case, the trees were completely rotten on the center with only the outer shell supporting the weight of the tree.

School Building Program Is Well Under Way

The Tecumseh Public Schools' Building Program for which the citizens of the area voted a $1,900,000 bond issue last March is progressing rapidly. The bonds, which were sold to the First of Michigan Corporation of Detroit last month, have been duly signed and delivered so that now $1,900,000 has been deposited to the Building and Site Fund for the expenses necessary to purchase the land, build, furnish and equip the voted seven projects. None of this money may be used for operational purposes.

Mr. Touborg, President of the Board and Dr. Helzerman, Secretary of the Board, had to sign each of the 1900 bonds. This was quite a project taking approximately seven solid hours of writing. As reported in last week's Herald, the balance of the $1,900,000, which is not used for current bills on the project, is being invested for the Board by Mr. John Thompson so that the District will lose little interest until the money is completely paid out on the projects.

The house at 311 N. Maumee is being torn down at present and it is hoped that demolition will be complete within two weeks. The addition to the high school will form another wing at this location.

The Patterson School project, which has been promised for September, will house the children formerly at the Baptist Church and some of those at Central, as well as the additional rooms needed for this year to house the increased school population in the city. The Herrick Park school has been promised for January of 1958 and will further relieve the pressure at Central. It is expected that there will be over 1000 junior and senior high pupils in the High School Building but there will be no relief in that area until the fall of 1958.

Bids for the Tipton School, Macon, and Ridgeway additions will be taken in July and construction is expected to begin by September first or sooner. The last two projects to be bid will be the Tecumseh Acres school and the additions to the high school, which will be bid in September. These should be well under construction by November and all projects are to be ready for occupancy by the fall of 1958. It is only because the Herman Brothers, The Dart Company and the Perkins Electric have agreed to rush the project because of our dire need, that the Patterson School additions will be done this fall. The addition was necessary immediately or we would have had to request the churches for space for five classes.

Dr. C. N. Broderson Here 27 Years

Dr. C. N. Brodersen celebrated his 75th birthday anniversary yesterday, June 19, working in his office as usual. The Dr. has been a chiropractor in Tecumseh for twenty-seven years and his wife has been here for twenty-five and neither have been ill in all of that time. The only time that he was not in his office was one afternoon after having some work done at the dentist's:

He says, "I don't have to but I like to help people and it has been profitable to me. You cannot sprinkle the perfume of happiness on others without spilling a few drops on yourself."

Dr. and Mrs. Brodersen spend many weekends at their cottage at South Branch.

A block on Shawnee St. is being done by Arnold Lee with a bid of $1.90 per foot and .10 per foot rental for the curb forms. Bids will be in next week for the bituminous work to be done. ## Flying Fish!

Last Friday, hundreds of carp were lined up under the bridge on N. Evans St. trying to get through the dam into Red Mill Pond. However, to get under the bridge, they first had to jump the dam shown in the picture with the large carp in mid air. Water was released from the pond so that there was enough pressure to keep them from entering. However, it did not keep them from trying.

More Steel Will Be Used

The next 25 years will see the greatest changes in home building in history, several spokesmen for the housing industry are predicting.

They see electronic servants, new designs, new materials and mass production methods of construction.

In this quest for the "home of the future," house hunting families can expect to find steel playing an inucreasingly important role. Earlier this year, delegates to the National Association of Home Builders in Chicago saw model homes with steel sections for panels frames, joists and roof trusses.

Steel framing, in combination with large expanses of glass, was used to build a dramatic appearing experimental house in California. More than six tons of steel went into the home, including the framing, flat steel roof and steel framed sliding doors that are electrically operated.

On the drawing boards for tomorrow's houses are steel frames and structures tailored for economy, strength and durability.

High Costs Spur Trading In Used Homes

Increasing numbers of home buyers are shopping for existing homes in established neighborhoods, a recent survey of the new and used home markets discloses.

Main reason for the popularity of used homes in the hefty price tag on most new homes, surveyors found. The high cost of construction confronting builders these days, of course, dictates the new-house prices.

Many used homes have plenty of trouble-free "mileage" left in them but like any purchase under consideration they should be examined closely for soundness on these key points:

Bathrooms—These areas of the used home probably reveal age and condition more conspicuously than any other type of room. Obsolete fixtures should be replaced, tile wainscgots extended to ceilings and storage space built into unoccupied corners.

Wiring—Homes in the higher brackets are especially likely to be wired inadequately for the host of appliances used throughout the home today. Capacity of wiring should be increased and outlets added if necessary.

Kitchen — Here inadequate storage space and work surfaces are the most frequent signs of antiquity. Waterproof and scorchproof ceramic tile counters and generous cabinets, shelves and closets are economical ways to bring dated kitchens up to the minute.

Exterior—Since even home-buyers are subject to judging books by their covers, fresh paint and landscaping should be considered in old home face-lifting.

Barbecue Boom

All signs point to a boom in back-yard barbecues this summer.

One California concern, which makes charcoal, says in its annual report: "Not since the burning of Rome has there been greater interest in outdoor fires."

Discomfort Can Be Helped By Stopping The Sun's Rays

Now is the time to inoculate the home handyman with spring fever vaccine and plan measures to stem summer heat waves.

Attic fans, room air-conditioners and cool drinks are effective remedies for combating discomfort after heat strikes. But there is a fundamental preventive — stopping the sun's rays.

Here are several prescriptions:

Extend the roof so that it hangs over the south wall. (Overhangs are ineffective in other directions because of the low angle of the sun). The amount of overhang to protect a south-facing window from the sun depends on the latitude in which the dwelling is located, the height of the window and the calendar period during which protection is desired.

Walls or fences make effective screens for the low sun on east and west exposures. A terrace surfaced with a light shade of quarry tile is an ideal companion cooler. Spraying the waterproof tile surface lowers the temperature by evaporation.

Light-colored jalousies with slate set at 45 degrees are 70 per cent effective in reducing heat from the sun. Harmonious designs should be selected to minimize the effect on the appearance of the house.

Awnings are from 65 to 75 per cent effective in blocking the sun's rays. Awnings protect windows on east, south and west walls during most of the day.

Trees are especially good screens for the roof and east and west walls. Planting pattern should follow the shape and height of walls. Of course, mature height of the tree and outline of the branch spread must be considered. If possible, plant deciduous varieties because they shed their foliage in the winter and admit the sun when it's welcome.

Air Conditioner Pays For Itself In Ten Years

The monthly operating costs of full home central system air conditioning equipment during the cooling season averages just under one cent per square foot, according to a new national survey.

A central unit in today's popular erated for less than $72 during an average six-month cooling season. Generally speaking this means that the entire house can be cooled for about $12 a month during the cooling season.

Turning to the cost of equiping the house, with a central system air conditioner, to estimate the expenditure at between $6 to $10 for each square yard of floor space, or 67 cents to $1.10 per square foot.

Much of the "first cost" of the home air-conditioning equipment actually can be written off in benefits and savings effected for the entire family over a 10-year period.

In this category, increased valuation of the house, better health, economies in cleaning and redecorating, lower summer driving mileage for the family car and less expenditure for outside entertainment during the hot weather season. Translated into dollars and cents savings these benefits will pay a substantial return on the original investment made for air conditioning equipment.

Consultants Say Colors Play Important Role

Show a color consultant the colors a family has in its home, and without seeing the family, he can give you a fair estimate of how well it is adjusted to modern living.

Color plays a more important part in people's lives than they realize. Certainly, no one claims it can alter a normal person's personality, but it can be a source of irritation or a tranquilizing influence that affects his enjoyment of life.

The best thing you can do with color you don't like, is to get rid of it. A Chinese red on the walls of a small room, for example, might be all wrong. It may cause a subconscious irritation that will plague you as long as you are in the room. So paint the walls a different color.

The proper use of color brings psychological benefit by adding variety to day-to-day living. In the city, liberal use of green paint in decorating makes up for lack of foliage on the outside. But in the country, a little red on the house or barn provides relief from the green surroundings.

MILITARY TEAMWORK BEST

Our first Secretary of Defense, James Forrestal, said: "Whether it be in business, government, or military operations, I mistrust the principle of relying on a single genius to make all basic decisions."

The assertion that a single chief of staff system is efficient, economical and desirable from a national standpoint is not supported by history, fact, or experience. The concept has fatal defects from military, political and economic standpoints.

Our Joint Chiefs of Staff organization has in practice demonstrated the genius of the American people for democracy. This system has solved the problem which has long plagued democratic republics, the difficulty of being militarily strong without becoming militaristic. Other advantages of this system are many and certain.

It has demonstrated that where speed of decision is required, it can meet the test.

It assures our nation that vital decisions are arrived at after a sound deliberative process. Our national survival is based, not upon the whim of an individual, but upon the decisions of the best military minds our nation has available.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff organization assures the proper development and employment of our land, sea and air forces.

Fable and Fancy

The pseudoscientific has always been more attractive than reality. Not too many years ago, the weapons of fable and fancy alone supported man in his conflict against disease. Today, however, a far more powerful ally for longer life is found in the research laboratories of medical science.

Realty Views

"We don't have much money to start on, but we'd like to get started owning our own home," said Jerry Grademan one afternoon.

"That's fine," I assured Mr. Grademan, "we'll be glad to help you if we can. It so happens we have a few homes which can be purchased with small down payments. There's one especially which should fit your requirements to a T."

The Grademan's looked it over and agreed.

"It's almost exactly the kind we hoped to find," he said. "I know we'll want a better home someday. But I figure the best way to begin building up an equity in a home is to make a down payment. A certain amount of our monthly payment will find its way back to us as a hidden savings account."

"You've used all my sales arguments," I replied. "Sign here."

"O.K., I will," he said, "because I think you're doing us a favor to find such a good place we can easily handle."

Maybe you've been dreaming of a home "someday." Why don't you come in and see if "someday" isn't just another name for NOW!

"THE FIRST STEP TOWARD A CURE IS TO KNOW WHAT THE DISEASE IS"
— * (Author's Name Below) —

Research scientists have now perfected some chemical re-agents that enable physicians to make a positive diagnosis of certain diseases. Often the cause of a sickness still has to be determined by skillfully eliminating what it cannot be. Sometimes more than one visit is necessary to accomplish this.

To impatiently rush from one physician to another is unwise. You can usually get well much more quickly if after choosing your physician, you give him the necessary time to find out what is wrong, so that he can help you most.

Child Gets Intelligence From Parents

The intelligence of a child is due in large part to his parents, contends a Michigan State University scientist.

Dr. Karl A. Stiles, noted geneticist and zoology department head at M.S.U., says a fortunate combination of genes—invisible particles passed from parents to offspring through reproductive cells — may produce a high intelligence potential.

He cited the case of a woman with a high I.Q. of 137, a reader of Shakespeare and writer, who was married to a mentally handicapped man at the moron (I.Q. 52) level.

Their children, all brought up in the same environment of a squalid, windowless house and bread and milk diet, ranged in intelligence from the moron class up to college level I.Q. of 124.

Abraham Lincoln, Dr. Stiles points out, had only about a year's schooling and a limited environment, but produced a literary masterpiece unequalled by most scholars in the "Gettysburg Address." He believes this was due to "fortunate" genetic endowment.

Human traits usualyy are influenced by both heredity and environment, Dr. Stiles emphasized.

Lenawee Co. Agricultural Agent's Column - - - - -

Fed cattle prices will not rise any substantial amount this summer and early fall as they did last year.

Prices will likely vary from week to week as volume of marketings increases but these declines in prices are not indications of a general price decline, according to a report made by farm economists at Michigan State University.

Geo. K. Dike, Dist. Marketing agent, says the report showed that farmers are feeding more cattle for summer market this year than last. The price rise of $3.50 during the month of August, 1956, has encouraged this trend. Prices should average about the same in the next two months as they did in May.

Total cattle slaughter is expected to run below last year, although fed cattle slaughter may be larger than or equal to last year's suaughter in the next few months.

More cattle will be held back as stockers and feeders in the plains states this summer and fall. During the last year, the drought forced cattlement on the ranges to liquidate some of their breeding stock, snow and rain in the past few months have greatly relieved the drought situation and continued improvements is in sight.

Cold storage holdings of beef on April 30 were 15 per cent below the 1952-56 average for that date.

Pork supplies per person will be below a year ago.

People have about 5 per cent more disposable income than last year.

Agent Dike says the report also indicates that prices for feeder cattle will drop only moderately this summer because of the heavy demand for feedlot replacements. This decline is expected to be about $1 or $2 per hundredweight.

—o—

Hogs Hit Summer Market Earlier

Hogs are moving to market earlier in the summer months than they were five years ago.

In the period 1947-51, the high price period was during August. But from 1952-56, the high price point has moved to June, as farmers aimed for the August high prices.

According to John Ferris, farm economist at Michigan State University, prices should strengthen some in June although there will be no sharp advance. Prices through the summer should remain above the $16 per hundred average received by Michigan farmers last year.

The owner will receive an aerial photograph and a two year subscription to the Herald from Hayden Mills, Inc. by stopping in at the Mill and then the Herald.

Electrons May Aid In Grain Pest Control

Bread made from wheat that was irradiated to control grain pests is not greatly objectionable to the taste, at least at treatment levels sufficient to control many of the common pests.

These results were obtained by foods and nutrition and agricultural engineering researchers at Michigan State University when they asked a group of tasters to judge bread samples made from irradiated wheat or flour. The irradiation was done with the M.S.U. electron beam generator.

Researchers had previous success in using the generator to control insects in stored grains such as wheat. But the final test of the usefulness of the machine for this purpose is the acceptability of the treated product for human use.

The tests showed that the tasters were prejudiced against irradiated bread. They almost always said that they disliked the irradiated product even when they couldn't actually tell the difference by taste.

But the test results were promising because they showed that the irradiation level needed to ctontrol the insects and the level where the tasters could actually tell whether the sample was irradiated or not were about the same. This level was high enough to kill some of the more common pests although it would not control all insect pests. The taste breaking point was where the chance of telling the difference between irradiation or not was 50-50.

Farmers Face Big Issues On Wheat Ballot

Farmers have two issues to decide in the June 20 wheat referendum, according to T. O. Brittain, Chairman, Lenawee County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The first issue is whether marketing quotas will be in effect, carrying with them penalties on "excess" wheat from farms (with more than 15 acres of wheat harvested as grain) on which the allotment is exceeded. The second issue is the level of the available price support.

A two-thirds favorable vote is required to approve wheat marketing qoutas. Once qoutas are approved, penalties for production in excess of the farm's qouta are in effect for all farms in commercial wheat States which harvest over 15 acres of wheat for grain. The farm quota is generally all the wheat produced on the acreage allotment. Under quotas, also, price support on the 1958 wheat crop will be available at a minimum national average of $1.78 per bushel to those farmers who are in compliance with their farm allotments.

Mr. Brittain explains that if more than one-third of the voters disapprove quotas, there will be no marketing quotas and no penalties for excess production. However, acreage allotments will remain in effect in the commercial area, and the price support will be available at 50 percent of parity to those farmers who comply with their allotments.

Wheat marketing quotas and acreage allotments operate only in the 36 States designated as "commercial" wheat States, which includes Michigan. States must have aloltments of more than 25,000 acres of wheat to rate as a commercial wheat State.

Mercury Base Fungicides More Harmful To Bees

Fungicides with mercury bases are more poisonous to honey bees than the synthetic materials such as ziram and ferbam.

Entomology researchers at Michigan State University tested 14 fungicides and found that mercury materials were generally quite poisonous while the synthetic materials were less poisonous and in some cases, non-poisonous.

As a result of these tests, Louis G. Hall, Lenawee county agricultural agent cautions using the most poisonous fungicides and suggests these practices. Do not apply a spray poisonous to bees when trees or plants are in full bloom. Poisonous material that may get stored in the hive may also continue to kill the brood over a long period of time. Mow or otherwise destroy dandelions or other flowering orchard cover that might become a hazard to bees after spraying. Avoid leaving puddles when spray equipment is emptied to be cleaned. Notify the beekeeper if his bees are in danger. Spray in the evening after the bees have returned to the hive. Apply dusts only when the air is still to lessen drift to blossoms in nearby fields.

R. S. Moore Passed Away

The hearts of Tecumseh residents were again sadly moved this week by the death of another business man, in fact the dean of Tecumseh merchants, Mr. R. S. Moore. He passed away Wednesday morning at 3 p.m. in St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor where he had been a patient since June 16. Mr. Moore's health declined rapidly in the last month but he was the oldest member, 86 years, to attend the alumni banquet this year held June 1.

Robert S. Moore was born on a farm west of Dundee Jan. 7, 1871, the son of Henry and Ann Waterson Moore. He was one of 11 children all of whom have preceded him in death except one brother, Timothy, who lives in Monroe. Mr. Moore came to Tecumseh in 1886 and graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1890.

He began his business career in the grocery store of C. E. Williamson and dealt in wool, feed and grain, coal, hay and produce. In 1914 Moore Bros. organized the lumber and coal business. In 1918 the name was changed to R. S. Moore, Mr. Moore having purchased his brother, Harry's interest, and to R. S. Moore & Son Co. in 1923 when Robert H. Moore became asociated with his father in the business.

Mr. Moore was a member of the Baptist church, a life member of the F. & A. M. and the O. E. S. of Tecumseh, a member of the first hospital board, has formerly been village clerk and treasurer and at one time was a director and later president of the Lilley State Savings Bank. He was a charter member of the Tecumseh Rotary and a member of the National Lumber Dealers Association as well as of the Michigan Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

Mr. Moore married Grace Heck in 1892 and she preceded him in death, January 28, 1955.

He is survived by one son, Robert H.; three grandchildren, Mrs. Shirley Moore Fielder, Robert D. and Grace Elizabeth; five great grandchildren all of Tecumseh and one brother, Timothy, of Monroe.

Besides his wife and nine brothers and sisters, he was preceded in death by a daughter, Charlotte, who died in infancy.

He made his home with his son and wife, Robert H. Moore, on Red Mill Drive preceding his hospitialization.

Funeral services will be held at the Green Funeral Home Friday at 2 p.m. with the Rev. Alvin Brazee officiating. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

Tecumseh business places are requested to close from 2:00 to 3:00 Friday afternoon.

Local Board Requested 2nd Lowest Operational Rate In The County

Tecumseh Public Schools will have the second lowest operational tax rate in the county for 1957-1958. Only Blissfield with a rate of 7.4 mills is lower than Tecumseh. Although Madison also has a rate of 8 mills, Tecumseh Schools also operate the Public Library in addition to the schools on an 8 mill operational tax rate which means that the schools actually operate on about 7.6 mills.

Superintendent James McDowell states that the operation of the Tecumseh Schools and Public Library on a low rate of 8 mills does not necessarily mean that the schools could not be improved if the rate requested were increased. However, for the present, he said, since the quality of the staff has been constantly improving due in part to the fact that the Tecumseh Schools have the best salary schedule in the County and thus have attracted many advanced degree personnel and in part to the character of the community, the Board requested an increase of only six-tenths of a mill over last year. Actually due to the large classes necessary in the schools at present due to lack of classrooms, the teachers themselves are actually over-load-

Group Discussed Merits Of County United Chest

A citizen's committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hanna, Rev. Edward Escolme, George Green, Jr. and Mrs. T. Rentschler of the Tecumseh Community Fund Board, besides members from Britton, Palmyra, Deerfield, Onsted and Adrian, attended a dinner meeting in the Baptist Youth House last Thursday evening. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the merits of a Lenawee County United Chest. All communities in the county were invited to send representatives to this meeting. Howard White, the chairman, presided and Steve Hriska was the secretary.

After considerable discussion, the group agreed that there are many advantages in such a plan and among them are the following: 1. More equitable raising of funds for charitable purposes with emphasis placed on the potential giving of each community. 2. Better distribution of funds. 3. More effective planning of services for areas of the county having no local community chest financial support.

"Raise the money where you earn and spend it where you live" was suggested as an appropriate slogan. While no decision

New Church Will Open Sunday

The Tecumseh Missionary Baptist Church will open its doors for its first regular church services in the new building this Sunday. All of the construction work, except the laying of the outside walls, was done by church members. Some of the volunteer workers are shown above.

The building, 35 feet wide by 74 feet long, stands on four lots at the corner of Sunset and Cairns St. Auditorium, nursery and offices are on the first floor and there are seven Sunday School rooms in the full-sized basement. The main auditorium will seat approximately 275 people, including the space in the choir loft.

The alter area and vestibule of the church are finished in knotty pine. Present plans also call for pine paneling four feet high along the walls and a hardwood floor to be completed within 60 days, according to Rev. Edgar Owens.

The Missionary Baptist Church was organized August 8, 1954, by Rev. Owens with 11 members. Services were first held in the Oddfellows Hall in Tecumseh. Later, the Pythian Hall was rented and has been used until the present time. There are now 117 members in the church.

Plans for the building were drawn by Rev. Owens and approved by Claude Sampson, Jackson architect. The basement was dug in the fall of 1956. Work was resumed early this spring through contributions of time and money by the church members.

The new building was first used Saturday, June 15 when a special service was held to ordain Burton Cosby for the ministry.

Rev. Owens was formerly pastor of the Monroe Baptist Church and Francis Street Baptist Church in Jackson. For the past two years he has been engaged in mission work in Jackson. Since the organization of the church in Tecumseh, he has been commuting from Jackson on an average of twice a week.

In the near future the pastor plans to make his home in Tecumseh with his wife and daughter,

Bond Sales Up In Tecumseh From Letter Scheme

Government bond sales in Tecumseh have been affected bw a scheme which promises to yield buyers $38,400 in defense bonds providing the "chain" is unbroken.

The Adrian Federal Savings and Loan Association reports its bonds sales have increased 500 per cent recently. Seventy-six bonds were sold during the week of June 18-25 at the United Savings Bank. This is the approximate number sold during the same period in May; however, none of the bonds sold last week were to regular customers of the bank.

Kenneth Hansen, Federal Bureau of Investigation agent for this area, is investigating the scheme. He stated that since the chain letter is being passed by hand, there is no violation of mailing laws. However, the receipts for the bonds are being mailed to the person whose name heads the list and this is a violation of the mailing laws since the person sending the receipt and the one receiving it are taking part in a lottery. He is going to consult the United States attorney concerning the matter.

Following is the detailed explanation as it appeared in the Bryan, Ohio, newspaper. The letters were distributed under the heading "This Is A Give Away Campaign."

"You give the person giving this list a receipt for the purchase of a $25.00 defense bond. In his presence you also mail a receipt for the purchase of a $25.00 defense bond as a gift to the first name on the list below and his or her estate as beneficiary."

"Make two copies of this sheet, eliminate the top name and add your name to the bottom. Thus the name that is presently number two becomes number one. Give two copies to two friends keeping the receipt of the purchase of the $25.00 defense bond in the envelope and stamp and go with them to the bank where the defense

BY PHIL BELLEVILLE

PREVENTION BEST

It is about time our Legislatures pass laws to effectively deal with deviates potentially guilty of crimes against children such as the recent horrible example in Detroit. Each time these horrible attacks take place, the public is aroused to see that effective legislation passes but each time forgets about it before it can be accomplished The time for talk has ended. Let's have some action.

Some authorities suggest that indefinite sentences are a solution to the matter. That is, by naming no set number of years for a sentence, the deviate could be held and given psychiatric treatment until it is certain that he is ready to be released into society. Under present law, sometimes the prisoner must be released when it is certain that he is not ready to go out into society. In my opinion, the above solution has definite limitations.

Many people say that capital punishment is the only solution. Besides the moral implications, I think that it is not the solution on a practical level. A real solution to the problem is to keep these "people" from committing these crimes, not what to do with them after they commit them. To think that capital punishment would frighten deviates into not committing their acts against society is merely wishful thinking. No rational person would commit such a crime and an irrational person is not usually frightened by consequences.

When such crimes happen, the police usually have a long list of known deviates. The point is that quite often such persons are well known to society before they commit more serious crimes usually leading to the murder of a child. I think that such persons should be removed from society and be made to undergo psychological treatment as soon as their tendencies are known. If they do not respond to treatment, they should never be returned to society. Society should not have to live with known deviates until a crime is committed. They should be dealt with before they have a chance.

On June 22, a car driven by Ronald Gurtzweiler, Tecumseh, ran into the left rear of a vehicle driven by Alfanso Sabrado, Tecumseh, when he stopped to pick up a hitch hiker. About $50.00 worth of damage was done to both cars.

Blood Bank In Tecumseh

Herrick Memorial Hospital and the Tecumseh Hospital Auxiliary announced this week the foundation of a blood bank at Herrick Memorial Hospital. Laboratory technician, Ray Shelton, is shown with it.

The 27 cubic foot bank has a capacity of 320 pints of blood. Its seven inside shelves (see picture) revolve so that the oldest bottles are used first. It is equiped with such safety devices as a high-low temperature alarm which sounds if the proper temperature is not maintained and a constant temperature recording graph.

The purpose of the bank is to provide facilities for the storage of blood so that it will be immediately available to members of the community in cases of accident and illness. It is hoped that the original blood for the bank will be provided by members of the community and that as the blood is utilized it will be replaced by the friends and relatives of the sick or injured. In this manner, blood will be available at all times for the patients in the hospital without cost except for the ordinary service charge. The only alternative to this is to purchase blood in which case the cost would have to be passed on to the patient. It is hoped that a cooperative effort on the part oif the community will make the later alternative unnecessary.

In order to meet the emergencies when the volume of blood of a certain type exceeds the amount of that type available in the blood bank, it will be necessary for the blood bank to maintain a donor list. The list will consist of names of individuals in the community, who are willing to do their share in providing blood in the cases of emergencies or disasters and their blood type.

Persons eligible to contribute blood must be healthy, have an acceptable medical history, and the following qualifications:

1. Age: 18 through 59 years
   a. Donors age 18 through 20
      1. unmarried minors must present the written consent of a parent or legal guardian.
      2. Married minors and minors on active duty in the armed forces (including reservists during regularly scheduled drill periods do not require a release from parent, guadian spouse or commanding offcier. National Guard members are not considered on active duty in the armed forces unless called up for Federal service.
   b. Donors 60 years or older
      Donors in this age group may be accepted if they have written permission from their private physicians and otherwise meet the requirements.
2. Sex:
   Both males and females are acceptable.

The idea of a community blood bank is based upon the cooperative effort of neighbors. It will significantly lower the cost of medical care for individuals in need of blood. Once the bank is established it will depend upon the relatives and friends of the recipients of the blood to replace the amount utilized by each individual. In this way the bank is maintained as a community project.

This blood bank will go into full scale operation after July 1, 1957. Please do not call the Hospital, members of its staff or members of the Hospital Auxiliary to donate blood at this time. Cataloging of blood types and particular hours and days for making donations will be set up within the next two weeks at a that time additional information will be published in the Herald.

A blood bank in one's own town, particularly in a community no larger than ours, is a wonderful life saving thing. Think about what you have read here today and when calls go out for donors to build up and maintain our blood bank let's each of us do his part.

Holloway Exchange To Be Integrated

The entire Holloway system was re-done, including replacing the telephones and rebuilding the outside plant, poles and wires. A supplementary directory will be issued due to the number of changes.

Letter To The Editor

June 19, 1957

Brookside Cemetery
Tecumseh, Michigan
Gentlemen:—

Saturday, June 1, I visited your cemetery and my attention was drawn to lots of Bradley & Wilson near Abner Wilson, each marked PERMANENT CARE.

I believe if you would take the time to view these two lots you will agree that PERMANENT CARE does not mean what it was supposed to have meant to the departed. There are perhaps many OTHERS whom YOU have failed to keep YOUR obligation with.

Brookside Cemetery has had the name and reputation of being TOPS but it's quite evident that some persons or officials have been on the job too long and gotten stale.

Cordially yours,
Frank A. Osborn

PERSISTANCE

About mid-May, Nolan S. Walker, an Oldsmobile Motors executive, got tired of setting up the garbage cans in his East Lansing back yard each morning and vowed to catch the culprit that was upsetting them.

He went to nearby Rose Lake Wildlife station, borrowed a live trap, set it in his back yard, and on the night of May 22 caught the troublemaker — a full-grown raccoon.

He put the trapped animal in the trunk of his car and returned to Rose Lake. Bialogists there tagged the animal and released it two miles east of the station.

For a short time, all was serene along residential Kedzie Drive. Soon, however, another rash of well-rummaged barbage cans swept the neighborhood.

Again Walker journeyed to the wildlife station, borrowed a live trap and set it in his back yard. On the night of June 3 he again scored a capture and—you guessed it—his guest was the same raccoon caught in the first trap.

It had traveled the 10 miles from station to garbage can in eight or nine days.

Maybe this ends the story and maybe not. At least for the moment, the local wildlife is subdued and the forces of civilization are in the ascendancy.

REMINDER

Fishermen are reminded that a lost or destroyed fishing license can be replaced for 50 cents by any license dealer.

In order to obtain a duplicate permit, an affidavit must be signed stating that the original licence was lost or destroyed.

LITTLE THINGS

"It's the little things in life that tell," said Dora as she dragged her kid brother out from underneath the sofa.

GEARED TO MIDWESTERN LIVING

"Lasting Value is the thing that sold me on Olds!"

Attendant: Well, I've looked at Olds from every angle, underneath, under the hood, and I can tell you—Olds really knows how to put 'em together!

Owner: Yes, and Olds has style that you know will stay in style. Ever check on how much more you get for an Olds trade-in?

Attendant: You get more than lots of higher priced cars bring.

Attendant: Sure, take that Rocket Engine*. . . there's still nothing quite like it. I always talk it up, even though the new J-2 Rocket does mean I pump less gas.

Owner: When you add it up, and take a look at the price—it really makes sense to own an Olds.

Attendant: That's for sure. I'm driving a Golden Rocket 88, too! And more and more of my customers are going over to Oldsmobile.

Ralph Comfort Showed Movies To Rotarians

Ralph Comfort furnished the entertainment for Tuesday night's Rotary Club meeting by giving a talk about India and Formosa as well as showing moving pictures of that area. He told of the economic conditions, living standards, customs, etc., which was educational as well as very interesting. He stated that a family could live on the income from 4 or 5 acres in India. The pictures showed brick making and the plowing rice fields which particularly interested the members.

This was the largest attendance at a meeting in some time. Only four members being absent. Six birthdays of members were celebrated.

Extension Club Plans Picnic

The June meeting of the Tri-Town Extension Club met with Mrs. Jack Colson. During an informal business meeting, plans were made for a picnic to be held July 15 at the Ousterhout cottage at Wamplers Lake.

Mrs. Hoyt Whelan, a member of the descendants of the Mayflower, showed slides of her trip to England and Holland. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Lessons Are To Be Given

Mr. Duane Furbush will again be giving swimming lessons at the "Pit" in all phases from beginners through life saving. Classes will run for the next eight weeks. Enrollments will be taken during the morning between classes and in the afternoon while he is on duty as a life guard.

He will take enrollments for adult classes and life saving both Junior and Senior today and Friday, June 27 and 28th and Monday of next week. The foregoing classes will be held at the convenience of the majority. Emphasis as always will be on water safety in all phases of swimming.

Those who love to argue should get a book of facts.

Wilfred Waldron Reports Oddity

Wilfred Waldron reports an oddity in Michigan this week. Last Sunday he drove to the east side of Clark Lake near Brooklyn, Michigan to see the springs he had heard were working. A small geysed-like spring was rising above the surface of the water about 3 to 4 feet, 50 to 75 feet from shore, just as though it were issuing from a pipe. Jay Ferman was with him and says that sometimes in an especially wet season, as many as three or four of these springs will be spouting at the same time. A number of the cottagers have flowing wells in that area.

Local Board

ed and, although on a somewhat better salary than in other areas in the county, still are saving the community money in operational costs according to Mr. McDowell. The average elementary teacher has between thirty-five and forty children and some classes in the secondary school are as high as 50 to 60 pupils. This overcrowding will be remedied with the completion of the new schools by the Fall of 1958. With the opening of school in the Fall of 1958, the Board hopes to be able to place not more than 30 pupils in any elementary room and to cut the class size in the high school to not more than 35 pupils.

The operational rate for the last three years has increased by little. In 1955 the rate was 6.8 mills and was increased six-tenths mills to 7.4 mills, and again this year from 7.4 mills to 8 mills including the Public Library. The bond rates, however, have changed considerably during the same period and will again change for 1958. In 1955 the bond rate for the district was 6 mills and due to the increased area of the district due to annexation the Board was able to reduce the rate 1.4 mills to 4.6 mills for 1956 and still meet its obligations. However, for the year 1957 the Board found it necessary to request an increase from 4.6 mills to 8 mills (for one year only) to meet the balance of the 1952 debt requirements of $146,008.73 and $108,000 in interest on the 1957 debt voted in March of this year. However, following the collection of the 1957 taxes, the Board will again be able to decrease the bond debt rate for then only the principal and interest on the 1957 bonds will be due for 1958.

The actual requests for 1957-1958 for school funds passed by the County Board of Supervisors are as follows:

Millage Based on State Equalized Evaluations—

| School | Oper. Rate | Debt Rate | Tot. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Adrian | 12.5 | 6.25 | 18.75 |
| Addison | 8.5 | 5.00 | 13.5 |
| Blissfield | 7.4 | 5.4 | 12.8 |
| Britton-Macon | 8.4 | 3.6 | 12.0 |
| Clinton | 9.0 | 5.1 | 14.1 |
| Deerfield | 10.0 | 4.0 | 14.0 |
| Hudson | 8.5 | 6.0 | 14.5 |
| Morenci | 8.5 | 5.0 | 13.5 |
| Onsted | 9.0 | 4.5 | 13.5 |

City Manager Addressed Local Kiwanis Club

Richard Hicks introduced City Manager Ed Nelson at the Kiwanis Club meeting Wednesday. Mr. Nelson gave a talk on the City of Tecumseh's expansion, the work on streets, sewers, water supply, etc. He stated that so far this year 52 building permits have been issued.

The Kiwanis plan to have a lunch stand at the Jaycee Carnival and will complete plans at Tuesday night's board meeting. Members will meet tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 to erect new Kiwanis signs at the entrance of the city.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS from The Bible

But if any man love God, the same is known of him.—(I Corinthians 8,3.)

The man who loves God—and lives that way—doesn't need to go about professing it. His goodness shows in his face, in his every word and deed, for he reflects the love of God upon his fellowmen, by expressing true brotherhood.

Your Fireplace May Be In Need Of Remodeling

The fireplace that contributes so much cheer to a living room can also date it badly.

The design and orominent architectural features in a home changes from decade to decade, and generation to generation, just as furniture and clothing styles change.

But whereas furniture and clothing wear out and are replaced, the fireplace stays right there and often gets more old-fashioned in appearance year by year.

FACE-LIFTING

A face-lifting can make such a fireplace as modern as tomorrow, but first you should review its over-all performance. A fireplace that smokes most of the time may need considerable structural work to make it perform right. Estimates should be obtained on that cost.

Now study the present design carefully. Is the fireplace squat? Are its materials out of keeping with the room? Is the mantel too high, too low or too shallow? Does the fireplace lack emphasis?

Do the actual remodeling with a standard material that is fireproof. One of the most popular is quarry tile, which has a pleasant color and won't be stained by smook or soot.

Key the size of the fireplace to the size of the room. A small fireplace seems lost in a large room. One architect gives small fireplaces emphasis by facing them with tile and running material the entire length of the wall.

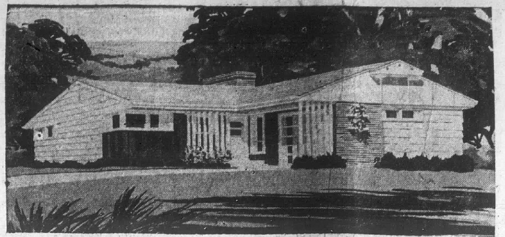
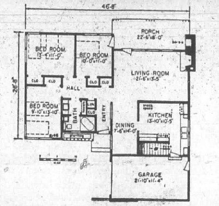
It's a good display spot. On the other hand, it often seems to cut the fireplace in two and many architects today are eliminating it.

Don't overlook the possibilities of built-ins on the fireplace wall. Properly done they will give the fireplace and the wall added emphasis.





This three bedroom ranch type home features an attractive bath, dining room and well planned kitchen and living room with fireplace. An outdoor living porch adjacent to the garden view living room includes a barbecue pit that will appeal to every member of the family.

The living area is 1,305 sq. ft. Plans are available with or without basement from local lumber dealers.

Sliding Door Use Has Mushroomed

The use of sliding glass doors in homes has mushroomed across the country in the last five years.

In 1951, approximately 250 sliding glass doors a month were being produced by less than a dozen manufacturers, most of which were located in southern California.

Today, these same manufacturers are producing and selling 30,000 sliding glass doors every month.

Although the nucleus of the sliding glass door industry is still centered in southern California, the doors are now in use in every state.

HAVE WIDE USE

The Sliding Glass Door and Window Institute points out that only one home in every 12,000 had sliding glass doors or windows in 1951, whereas today one in every 10 homes is equipped with them.

Originally used only to integrate the living room to the patio, sliding glass units now are being used to integrate kitchens, dens, dining rooms, hallways, bedrooms and living rooms with the outdoors.

Good Lighting Is Important For Kitchens

Even the most beautiful of kitchens actually may be a drab and gloomy place to work if it doesn't have sufficient well-placed lighting.

If windows are large enough and in strategic positions, they may give adequate natural light in daytime.

But in most cases sufficient daylight won't be provided and of course, use of the kitchen after dark requires that both kitchen work and eating areas have good artificial illumination.

With this in mind, it's important to plan the location of lights when you're plotting your new or remodeled kitchen.

For the work surfaces, small separate fixtures are necessary to give the homemaker the utmost in convenience and efficiency.

For this reason many wall cabinets for kitchens are constructed today so handy fluorescent lights can be installed unobtrusively beneath them, directly above work surfaces where meal preparaton, cleanup and other kitchen tasks are performed.

Some are designed so lights can be installed to illuminate both the counter and the cabinet interior.

In most cases, however, the cabinets are styled so the light fixtIres fasten onto the bottom, out of view.

At the same time you plan the location of kitchen lighting, be sure to include enough electrical outlets to accommodate all of your appliances.

Terraces Are Desired Items

Only a few years ago the addition of a terrace was considered impractical by all except families with large budgets and ample landscape. Today, however, the increasing skill of the family handy man and the emphasis on outdoor living are bringing the pleasures of outdoor terraces into focus for more families.

Ideally, experts recommend that terraces should be located near a shade tree. Adequate shade, they say, is even more important to a terrace than nearness to the house. Privacy can be achieved by installation of screening type fences.

Paint Preparation

When preparing to paint a wall from which wallpaper has been removed, be sure to wash off any sizing or paste that may remain. When the surface is dry, apply a coat of wall primer and allow it to dry overnight.

A new coat of paint can be applied the next day.

Romans Had Inspection Law

Records of a building constructed by Socrates in 341 B.C. tell of these specific requirements:

"He shall set the joints against each other, fitting, and before inserting the dowels he shall show the architect all the stones to be fitting and shall set them true and sound and dowel then with iron in each course and one to the stone in each coarse and one to the stone in the corner."

FHA Applications In May High For The Year

FHA mortgage insurance applications for nearly 49,000 dwelling units during May topped all monthly totals for the past year — the largest volume of applications since the 50,000 units in May 1956 —according to Federal Housing Commissioner Norman P. Mason.

Included in the May applications were 16,900 units in new one-to-four-family homes, 25,500 units in existing homes and 6,400 units in rental or co-operative housing projects.

Housing starts under FHA inspection totaled 15,000 in May, about one-fourth higher than April volume and the largest number of starts in any month since October, 1956.

THE WAY THEY DO THINGS IN RUSSIA

The proposal that the TVA be authorized to issue revenue bonds to finance power plant construction has been given considerable support, on the grounds that this would take the burden off the backs of the taxpayers at large. However, it would not correct the basic inequalities in the Tennesese Valley Authority set-up — as several witnesses before the House Committee on Public Works have made clear.

The revenue bond proposal is nothing but a new device for perpetuating and enlarging TVA as a producer and seller of socialized power. It would in no way get away from the fact that TVA is a tax-free government agency engaged in a monopolistic commercial business venture which has destroyed taxpaying private enterprise. Nor would it get away from the fact that TVA — regardless of how it gets future funds — represents hundreds of millions of tax dollars taken on a purely compulsory basis from citizens of every state in the union.

One spokesman before the House Committee pointed to the one sound solution to the TVA problem. That is to eventually sell TVA's power facilities to local ownership and operation, on the best possible terms. This, of course, will take time. Meanwhile, Congress should require that TVA adopt a rate structure which would cover all costs of production and transmission, repayment of and a fair rate of interest on the taxpayers' investment in power facilities, and the full equivalent of all federal, state and local taxes that a private enterprise carrying on the same business would pay.

The friends of TVA, and the partisans of socialized power generally look on such proposals with horror. But the fact remains that if it is the job of the government to provide the TVA area with subsidized power, it is the job of the government to do the same thing for all the rest of the country. Then, by the simpliest extension of logic, it is the job of government to supply us with everything—food, clothing, entertainment, whatever—on a subsidized and socialized basis.

That's the way they do things in Russia and the rest of the communist world.

TOO MANY CAPITALISTS!

Every so often, when the bosses in the Kremlin push the proper button, the Soviet press, which is one of the most rigidly controlled institutions on the face of the earth, embarks on slashing attacks against the United States. And,, almost invariably, "Wall Street" comes in for vicious denunciation.

That is a perfectly logical phenomenon. For "Wall Street" is symbolic of the kind of economic democracy which is part and parcel of a lasting political democracy — and both these democracies are non-existent under communism.

There are "Wall Streets" all over America — places where people can, if they so choose, invest a part of their savings in the stock of companies in which they have faith. Millions upon millions of people — most of them of moderate means — have done exactly that. The number of capitalists grows each day. The stock exchanges and brokerage houses of the present don't exist for the few — they exist for the many. The welcome mat is out to the small investors as well as the large. And the rules and laws regulating the securities industry — imposed both by the stock exchanges and by government agencies — are designed to give the public maximum protection against fraud or misrepresentation.

The Communist bosses are not fools. They are fully aware of the fact that a nation in which great numbers of people voluntarily buy a personal stake in free enterprise becomes an ever more-powerful bulwark against Communist doctrine and ideology. So no lie is extreme enough when it comes to attacking "Wall Street". There are way too many capitalists in America to suit the dictators.

HARD WOOD, STEEL, COPPER AND BRONZE...

Demons of Disease

It has taken man many centuries to realize that disease has "natural" causes and that a cure takes place in a "natural" way. For many years, all internal disease was considered to be the revengeful work of gods or demons. Magic and exorcism were therefore used to rid the body of the offending demon.

Today, however, diagnosis and treatment of disease have a sound, scientific basis. Your physician is trained by education and experience to care for you in times of illness. We supplement his service by filling your prescriptions promptly.

Realty Views

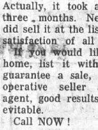
Three months ago, an out-of-state owner of a Tecumseh house, wrote to a few friends here and asked them how she should go about selling the house.

According to her letter to us, "I received several suggestions, but surprisingly, they all mentioned your firm. So I'm placing the property in your hands. Look it over and report back."



After a thorough inspection of the home we replied that we thought it would sell "in the neighborhood of $13,750." We did not know how much she had paid for it, but this seemed to be a fair market figure.

A couple of days later, we received a long distance call from the owner. "Go ahead and sell it," she said, "the price you've suggested is acceptable. Naturally, the quicker, the better, that's why I phoned."

Well, if this were "fiction," I'd tell you we sold it the next day. Actually, it took awhile — about three months. Nevertheless, we did sell it at the listed price to the satisfaction of all concerned.

If you would like to sell your home, list it with us. We can't guarantee a sale, but with a cooperative seller and a willing agent, good results are almost inevitable.

Lenawee Co. Agricultural Agent's Column - - - - -

HAY READY

Hall points out that when only 1/10 to 1/3 of the plants are in bloom the crop will yield 15 to 25 per cent more protein than when it is in later stages of maturity. Besides this, cows can digest early cut hay more completely than mature hay.

"When hay is cut at this early stage a dairyman can hold up milk production with less grain and protein supplement. This saving really shows up next winter" says Hall. He adds, "The saving in protein alone can amount to as much as $25 a cow."

Grasses such as timothy and bromegrass mature earlier than legumes. To get the most feed value from all hay, meadows that are mostly grass should be harvested first .

The clovers change fast from bud stage to full bloom and are hard to catch at the right stage. If they become too mature, leaves fall off and much of the feed value is lost.

Alfalfa allows the widest range of harvesting time. The protein content seldom drops below 13 per cent even when harvested late. However, alfalfa produces the most protein and other nutrients per acre when it is cut early because a larger second crop can be be harvested.

Hall adds that the same facts about early cutting hay apply to hay crop silage. The earlier cut crops, properly stored, produce the best feed.

STOPPING BLOAT

Bloat can strike mighty fast and cost you some dead cows when they are first turned on young alfalfa or Ladino clover pasture, so don't let other work stop you from keeping a close watch on your herd, warns Clayton C. Ingerson, Assoc. county agricultural agent.

Ingerson says that bloat is caused because these soft young legumes fail to stimulate rumen movements. This allows feed material or thick froth to block off the passages making it impossible for the cow to belch up gasses that are formed. He adds that grass pasture or bromgrass in a mixture with legumes helps reduce the danger of bloat.

Agent Ingerson points out that the best way to cope with bloat is to prevent it. He recommends a three point program:

1. Feed cows all the hay they will eat each day before they are turned out to pasture.
2. For the first few days limit the cows to about two hours on pasture during the morning and two hours in the afternoon.
3. Keep an eye out for cows that show signs of bloat, a big, abnormally extended stomach. When bloat does strike be ready to apply a treatment.

For mild cases tie a rope around the head and through the mouth. When the cow chews on it the activity promotes the flow of saliva and induces belching.

Farm Management Will Make Survey

There will be a farm management research project for this area. Your County Extension Service is cooperating with the Agricultural Economics Department of Michigan State University in a study of possibilities for more successful farming over the next 5 to 15 years.

To begin this study, a few simple facts about the present situations on farms in Lenawee County are needed. If you live in the south half of the county, a research worker may visit your farm in the next few weeks to ask for data on livestock numbers, crop acreage, labor supply, hog management practices, etc. The interviewer will probably not require more than about 10 minutes, and information from individual units will be confidential. Dean McKee, Dick Wheeler of Agricultural Economics Department or someone working with them will be making the farm visits, and will much appreciate your cooperation.

Lee Taylor's Owned The Mystery Farm

Mr. and Mrs. Lee W. Taylor are the owners of last week's Mystery Farm. The 120 acre farm is located on Pocklington Rd. It has been in the family for 3 generations.

An unusual event in the history of the farm occurred in 1947 when the house burned down. A new one was built.

Lee W. Taylor and his wife, Irene, have to children: Peggy, 4 years old in September and Patti, 1 year old in July. They belong to the Tecumseh Grange. Mr. Taylor does custom trucking for neighboring farmers on the side.

The farm was identified simultaneously by two different people on each of the Herald's telephone lines, Thurs. Mrs. Harvey Shiels and Raymond Lorenz will each receive a two year subscription from the Herald. The Taylor's received an aerial photograph of their farm and a two year subscription to the Herald from Hayden Mills.

Beware Of Sharp Seed Salesmen

Beware of buying unrecommended varieties of seed grain for Michigan planting, particularly if an itinerant seed salesman offers it with a repurchase agreement used as bait to dupe the unwary.

This is the advice of the Michigan department of agriculture's seed analysis section. Chief Seed Analyst John E. Garver has recently received several complaints from farmers who paid a premium price for grain seed from peddlers and received substitute varieties or otherwise had difficulty with transactions.

In some instances peddlers have solicited a considerable volume of business from contacts made at various county fairs.

Garver says several farmers have been bilked by offers of peddlers to buy back the seed the farmer produces at a substantial premium above feed prices. An impressive looking contract is offered to back up the repurchase agreement but the contract is actually an option to buy any seed the company wants. Options to buy the grain back are seldom if ever exercised, Garver said.

In some places in the state peddlers are making farm to farm contacts selling wheat for fall delivery. In the past the varieties offered have not been on the recommended list of the farm crops department of Michigan State University, which field tests new varieties parts of the state before making recommendations.

Tecumseh F.F.A. Contour Farming Project Underway

The Tecumseh Future Farmers of America have finished putting in their crops and are now starting to cultivate. Each year the boys try to do something different in the line of new educational experiences. This year they have a total of ten acres which were contour farmed.

At the present time the field looks interesting to the boys and a lot has been learned. There is not a straight row on the entire ten acres. At the plots on Munger Road, there are three acres each of oats, corn and soybeans. They also have four acres of soybeans on Adrian Street and four acres of corn at the sewage plant.

The FFA officers called a special meeting to plan the crop work schedule for the summer. If everyone does his share of the work each member will work only once or twice during the summer. The earnings from the crops are used for awards and a trip to the Livestock International at Chicago.

At the first summer meeting, the new officers took over and reports on the Pig Chain, Feeder Pigs and the Broiler Projects were given. The new officers for the coming year are: President, John Dewey; Vice-President, Wayne Lembrick; Treasurer, Jerry Munger; Secretary, Jack Allen; Reporter, LeRoy Burleson and Sentinel, Ron Roe.

At an officers' meeting on June 19 a recreational-educational trip to Niagara Falls and Buffalo, New York was planned. The FFA members voted to have the officers work out next year's program of work on the trip. The trip was planned for this reason instead of sending the officers to the leadership training camp as was done in the past.

Mystery Farm Identified As N. Sedelbauer's

The unidentified Mystery Farm in the June 13th issue of the Herald has been identified as the Norbert Sedelbauer farm located on Carson Highway, route 1, Tipton. He has owned the farm for nearly 2 years. It was first identified by Mrs. James Baker of route 1, Tecumseh who received a free 2 year renewal to the Herald.

Norbert Sedelbauer and his wife, Phyllis, were married May 14, 1954. They have two children: Lynn, 1½ years old and David, 3 mos. old. They attend the Methodist Church in Tecumseh and belong to the North Adrian Grange. The family received an aerial photograph of the farm from Hayden Mills and a two year subscription to the Herald.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon on "Christian Science" will include the following from Romans (15:4): "For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope."

TEEN CLUB

Tecumseh youth have an opportunity for wholesome entertainment every Tuesday and Friday evening not often presented in communities of 6500 population. The Teen Club meets every Tuesday and Friday evening from 7:30 to 11:30 in the Sage Building. However, even though these facilities are available, they are not being utilized. The average summer attendance has been around 15.

I don't know whether the fault lies with the parents, young people or the lack of adequate facilities. For the benefit of the parents, the Teen Club is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and through the generous donation of the third floor of the Sage building by Mr. C. F. Sage. The third floor has a large dance floor as well as adequate room for ping pong and other activities. Two couples of adult chaperones are on hand every meeting night. The purpose of the Club is to provide wholesome supervised entertainment for the youth of Tecumseh on an inexpensive basis. An admission fee of .15 is charged members and .25 is charged non-members.

Reports are that many young people stop in briefly during the evening but soon leave when they find the crowd is small and entertainment limited. Thus perhaps a partial solution to the problem would be for various private individuals, civic groups and others to donate such needed facilities as furniture (especially chairs and cushions), additional ping pong tables and other recreation needs. An especially needed piece of equipment at the present time is a juke box. They would eventually like to have a soda fountain. Sam Sisson has donated two pool tables and it is hoped that others will follow suit with other needed things to make the Club a success.

However, an immediate help would be for the Tecumseh youth to start taking advantage of the available facilities and pull together for improvements. They should also realize that the best way to get a crowd is to stay long enough to count themselves as part of it.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Letters to the editor are features found in nearly every newspaper. In general, newspapers print any signed letter in good taste that is not libelous in nature. The printing of these lettres should not be interpreted as sanctioning of them and agreement of them by the newspaper or its staff. They are merely part of what we Americans call the "right of free and public speech."

Only One Ticket Issued Last Week

Only one ticket was issued during the past week by the Tecumseh Police Department. It was isued to R. H. Smith, Route 3, Morenci, for speeding 45 mph in a 35 mph zone on N. Evans Street.

Vanous Casper, Tecumseh, appeared before Justice Robert French, July 1 on a reckless driving charge. He pleaded guilty and was fined $45.00 and $8.60 costs. Lawrence Martin, Clinton, appeared before Justice French on a drunk and disorderly charge the same day. He pleaded guilty and was fined $20.00 and $8.60 costs.

Boy Accidentally Fell From Auto

Little Michael Gunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gunn of Tecumseh-Clinton Road, was badly bruised when he accidentally fell from the car as his mother was backing away from the Clinton Country Market on Monday. Apparently the youngster pushed against the door handle releasing the latch. X-rays show no broken bones but he remained in bed

New Apartments Are Being Built

The 48x25 ft. structure is of cement block construction and will be completely modern, including Youngstown kitchens and gas heat. It is expected to be completed in approximately 30 days.

New Officers Installed By Exchange Club

The Tecumseh Exchange Club had their last regular meeting for the summer Wednesday evening in the Eagles Hall. Regular meetings will resume after Labor Day.

New officers for the coming year were introduced and installed by President Wallace Whiting. Albert Musch, the new president, was given the gavel after Mr. Whiting complimented the group for their fine co-operation during the year. The new president named the committees for the coming year.

Mr. Whiting was presented the past president's pin by Owen Partridge who spoke of his excellent contributions to the club before and during his term of office.

Bids On New City Hall Are To Be Refigured

The main topic of discussion at the meeting of the City Council on Monday, July 1, was the bids on the proposed new City Hall building. Bids from four different companies were within 2% of each other.

Several changes in the plans, which would reduce the cost of the building project approximately $9,700, were made. It was decided to eliminate the excavation, which the city would do itself, build partitions and doors on the job instead of getting them ready made and to leave the basement unfinished.

Some of the jail equipment such as the iron grilling on the front and the plumbing will be roughed in. One vault door will be eliminated and the one used in the present buiding will be transferred. No stone trim will be put in the Z-shaped rear of the building; however, it will still be used on the front and two sides. The installation of public toilets and sidewalks were also eliminated for the present time.

The council decided to leave the aluminum windows and entranceway and the present heating system which will allow the future conversion to air-conditioning. Terrazzo tile flooring, to be used in all public spaces, was also put back into the budget.

It was decided to return these changes to the four low bidders to refigure and submit in time for the next meeting on July 15.

The contract for the collection of the city's garbage with Jones Hauling Service will be terminated as of August 1 and a contract with H. W. Dillon will be entered into, to be efective when the Jones contract is terminated. The new service is to begin Oct. 1.

The council approved the resolution for the city to resurface a road on the property of Regina Gallo from South Adrian St. to the swimming hole, in return for a 60 foot wide, 65 foot long strip of land she granted to the city of Tecumseh. The resolution was approved with the revision that no maintenance on the road be supplied.

The reappointment of Guy Belding to the Cemetery Association for a term of three years was accepted.

Bids on bituminous concrete pavement were listed by E. J. Nelson, city manager. The contract was awarded to low bidder, Ayling Asphalt with a over-all bid of $7,472.15. They will begin work next Friday. Other bids were: Ann Arbor Construction Company — $9,380.12; Atlas Paving, in Toledo — $11,235 and Monroe Asphalt Pavers—$13,660.

The city manager was authorized to purchase fluoride to be used in the water supply. He reported that all of the Poly Phosphate has been used and fluoride could be here in about a week.

Progress on the plans for additions and improvements on the hospital were reviewed. The future rebuilding of the Blood Road Bridge and the widening of the Maumee St. Bridge was also discussed.

Councilman Purkey reported on a meeting he attended recently in which a posible county-wide building pool was discussed. Under this plan, the entire county would be under one building inspector to insure a uniform inforcement of the building code. The proposed program would begin with the towns and villages and later extend to the townships. Delegates present at the meeting were asked to discuss the idea with their city council and get its opinion before the next meeting this month.

Work On Streets Occupies City

City employees are shown working on curb and gutter in Herrick Park. City Manager E. J. Nelson in his report to the City Council Monday evening, said that in addition to the work in Herrick Park, a block has been completed on Shawnee St. and work has begun on Pine street.

In the past two weeks, a considerable amount of seal coating has been accomplished. North Maumee St. from James Street to the bridge has been done as well as one block on South Union and from Nakomis to the North city limits and Russell road from Union to the railroad and a single seal on Cummins St. from Otttawa to Maumee. More will be done this week providing good weather continues.

Bids were opened Friday for bituminous concrete pavement. Ayling Asphalt was low bidder with a price of 85c per square yard or $8.50 per ton. The contract has not been awarded as yet. The streets that the city proposes to repair are Patterson from Evans to Ottawa, Ottawa from Chicago to Logan, the two south alleys and bituminous street and curb on Park St.

The new water tower has been filled with water but there are several small leaks that the builder will have to repair. It was rust proofed and wired for a light at the top this week.

Mr. Nelson reported that when there is a heavy rain, the Logan Street storm sewer will not take the load. He recommended that a 24 inch tile be carried from Division St. to Maumee St., a distance of 1300 feet. The cost will be approximately $8,000. It is almost a necessity since Oneida street floods after each heavy rain.

Homecoming Is To Take Place Tuesday - Saturday

The Tecumseh Jaycees will sponsor their annual Homecoming July 9-13. Reports indicate that it is bigger than ever this year. It will include 12 major rides and will be held at the corner of N. Evans St. and Brown St.

Special attractions will include Sagebrush Shorty who will be on the carnival grounds Saturday, July 13 at 3:00. He will present his magic act, give away pictures of himself and give away two bicycles as part of his program.

Kiddies' day will start at 9:00 Saturday. From 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. races, games and other entertainments will be held at the Central Athletic Field. The carnival will open at 12:00 with rides at 1/2 price for children.

Other interesting features will include a dunking tank where prominent local citizens will be the target for a dunking when a ball hits the target. Many Tecumseh service and other organizations will have stands and concessions in a large tent provided for the purpose on the grounds.

Library Has Picture Loan Now

Names such as Picasso, VanGogh and Winslow Homer are now listed along with Hemingway and Charles Dickens at the Tecumseh Public Library. As funds have become available, the library board has purchased copies of paintings by well-known artists. At the present time, there are nearly a dozen ready to go out on loan to library patrons.

The copies include such favorites as "Mademoiselle" by Renior and "The Voyage" by Feininger (both shown above), Dufy's "Springtime in Paris" and a landscape by Constable. All are beautifully framed. Any adult who lives in the school area may borrow a picture for a month, subject to one renewal and may thus enjoy in his own home the work of several good artists.

Marvin E. Jackson, dispatcher at Rumpf Truck Lines, Inc., has the distinction of being with the company for 25 years. With the exception of Wilbur Rumpf, owner of the trucking company, this is the longest amount of time any of the present employees have been there.

Jackson, 44, was born in Monroe County. His family spent some time in Ridgeway township, then moved to Adrian, where he attended school. He came to Tecumseh in 1930 and started work at Rumpf Truck Lines in 1932.

Until 1955, he was a driver, traveling between the terminals in Toledo, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor and Tecumseh. He has been dispatcher here for the past year and a half.

Jackson lives with his wife, Christine and children, Beverly Ann, 20 and James, 18, at 509 E. Chicago St. His main outside interest is in gardening.

The growth in the truck line during the past quarter century was pointed out by Jackson. When he started work they had only one truck. At the present time there are 30 trucks and 70 trailers in operation.

Wed In Church Of Nazarene

MRS. R. J. BUSCH

The wedding vows of Miss Shirley Anne Holdridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Holdridge of 502 Orchard Lane and Roger James Busch, grandson of Mrs. Walter Abbott of 203 N. Democrat St., were solemnized Saturday, June 29, at 4:30 p.m. at an impressive ceremony in the Tecumseh Church of the Nazarene.

The altar of the church was beautifully decorated with baskets of white glads and Majestic daisies. Rev. Bernard Gill, pastor of the church, officiated and Thelma Ellinger of Jackson sang "O Promise Me," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Rita Hodges, also of Jackson.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was lovely in a floor length gown of lace and tulle over white taffeta. The dress featured a strapless bodice with bouffant skirt and lace jacket with a small collar. The fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a tiara of iridescents and seed pearls. She wore a single strand of pearls and matching earrings and carried a white Bible, a gift of her parents, topped with white orchids, shattered carnations, white roses and ribon streamers with babybreath tied in lover's knots.

Attendants were her sisters, Mary Jo and Della Faye Holdridge, both of Tecumseh. Mary Jo, the maid of honor, wore a ballerina length dress of pink nylon net over pink taffeta with a low neckline and cap sleeves and a pink floral head band. Della Faye, the bridesmaid, wore aqua nylon net over aqua taffeta, fashioned the same as the maid of honor's with a yellow floral head band. They both carried cascade arrangements of spring flowers.

Mr. Busch was attended by his friend, George Tilton, as best man and the ushers were Charles and Jerry Holdridge, both brothers of the bride.

A reception for the 150 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. A five tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom flanked with tapers and spring flowers was featured on the bride's table.

For their wedding trip into Northern Michigan, Mrs. Busch wore a sheath dress of baby blue nylon with a matching duster and white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return, the couple will make their home at 107 S. Maiden Lane in Tecumseh.

In Troop Exercise

LT. N. W. O'HARA

1st Lt. Norbert W. O'Hara, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. O'Hara of 207 W. Pottawatamie St., Tecumseh, Mich., and husband of the former Miss Beverly M. Brown of Britton, Mich., took part in the first extensive troop exercise in the current series of atomic tests, June 28, at Camp Desert Rock, near the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada Test Site.

The 4th Marine Corps Provisional Atomic Exercise Brigade conducted the exercise in connection with a series of comparatively low-yield tests being held by the AEC and the Department of Defense.

The mobile brigade moved into a rapid assault against an imaginary enemy occupation force after the enemy had been hit with an atomic explosion.

Part of the brigade, using the Marine Corps' latest conception of "vertical envelopment," dropped on the enemy position by helicopter. The airborne Leathernecks then joined up with Marines who moved in on the objective in amphibious tractors and the Corps' newest armored vehicle, the "Ontos."

The brigade used the tests to train Marines in physical protection measures and to instruct them in the effects of atomic explosions on clothing and equipment.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

As one who, as a florist, has had eighteen years past association with conditions in Tecumseh Cemetery I can state with authority that it has never been in better condition than at the present time. What basis there can be for the charges made in this paper last week, by Frank A. Osburn in his letter to the editor, it is impossible to imagine. Those of us who have generations of forebears resting there are continually grateful for the excellent care their graves receive.

Signed,
Clara M. Waldron.

Sunday Christian Science Service

The supremacy and all-power of God—divine Life, Truth, and Love—will be emphasized at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Selections to be read from the Bible of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God" include the following from Joshua (1:9): "Have not I commanded thee? Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed: for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (228:25-27): "There is no power apart from God. Omnipotence has all-power, and to acknowledge any other power is to dishonor God."

The Golden Text is from Joel (2:27): "Ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the Lord your God, and none else."

What Will It Be Like?

Life In The Amazing Eighties

America's "growingest quarter century" the next 25 years is going to be amazing. Population growth will push our population to 250 millions from the present 170 million. Science, technology, medicine, new business methods, new markets and new communities will produce a nation of a 100 million job holders, twice as many college students as now, 130 million automobiles and a four-day work week.

In 1982 machines may do much of your work but not your thinking. A new breed of workers will develop and those who can truly be masters of the machines will be the ones who move ahead.

White-collar workers will be far more numerous than blue-collar. People who run things, managers and proprietors, will almost double in number. Stores, banks, real-estate firms, insurance companies, utilities and government will all step up their hiring to a gerater degree than manufacturing industry. Pay will almost double today's levels, in today's dollars.

The 1982's dollar will be worth much less than today's. Inflationary pressures will be high government spending, rising wage levels and constant need for capital.

In coping with inflation, choose the industries with the greatest promise of growth when you invest. You won't get rich quick, but your dollars will grow as the industries do.

It will be an even smaller world in 1982. No country or city will be more than 24 hours away. Travelers will ride in supersonic jet planes at speeds two or three times that of sound. Cruising speed will be 1,500 miles per hour. Commuters will go in airplanes that rise straight up, then go straight forward.

Cars may have fuel-injection motors which do not need carburetors. They will have 25 per cent more horsepower than today's cars, and may even be without transmissions. Parts may be sealed, so you may never need a grease job.

Some trains may be atom-powered and built to go at two miles per minute. Others will rocket along on monorails.

A new kind of house is on the way. It will blend into the outdoors and bring nature inside, and it may be round instead of square. Color will be everywhere, and if you get tired of the color of an interior wall, you will replace the wall with one of another shade.

Push button windows will close automatically if it rains. A whish of air will clean and dry the dishes in three minutes. Elecgtrostatic dust gatherers will keep the house shiny. If it's a hot summer, you'll use a blanket that keeps you cool. Your newspaper will be as colorful as a slick magazine.

Some clothing will be made of paper products and disposable after a couple of wearings. The refrigeratory will have lost its importance, since most foods won't need refrigeration, but will be irradiated, chemically treated, or dehydrated.

For every student in public school and college today, there will be almost two students enrolled 25 years from now. The same ratio will apply to teachers. As many as three college professors for every one today will be needed.

A great deal of teaching will be done by TV and films. Schools will be open 12 months a year. Courses will be speeded up and technical training will be a must.

What will all this cost? At least 50 billion dollars a year for all the colleges and schools in the nation. That's 35 billion more than today.

One third of all power produced will have its source in the atom.

New plastics, paint, textiles, metals, medicines, building materials and chemicals will result from experimentation with atomic processes. Nuclear ships, planes and trains will be in use by 1982. Offices and apartments may be heated by a low-pressure atomic reactor.

A new science of the sun will emerge. Energy gathered from sun rays will be used to power homes and factories, drive ships, provide fuel for remote corners of the earth.

Other electronic miracles will be specially adjusted phones that will enable you to get your party when you dial only one numeral or letter; typewriters that respond to the spoken word; machines that translate from one language to another.

The total output of goods and services will be approaching one trillion dollars a year by 1982. Retailers will thrive. Their biggest lines will be appliances and recreational equipment. The sea will be exploited for materials and farmed for food.

There won't be as many farmers, but they will grow and reap more and work shorter hours. New machines, fertilizers and chemicals will help. Over-all, farm production will increase by a third.

If all this sounds too fantastic, the last 25 years have brought wonders you wouldn't have dreamed of in 1932. Among them, the splitting of the atom, commercial TV, regular transatlantic air service, discount houses, major league night baseball, Acrilan, Dacron, streptomyicin, aureomycin, other drugs, electronic calculators, jet airplanes and 100-acre shopping centers.

Bad Environment Principal Cause Of Delinquency

"An important part of the pattern of growing up is learning how to discharge tension," says Associate Prof. Max L. Hutt of The University of Michigan Department of Psychology.

"I disagree with the claim that such things as crime shown in comics and on television or that the current fad of 'rock and roll' contributes very much to delinquency. Rather, I believe that they're useful outlets for getting rid of tension and anxiety. Except for periods of rapid cultural change and stress, juvenile delinquency is likely to result from conflicts within the personality," the professor notes.

"There are various causes of delinquency, the most prominent of which is a bad environment," says Professor Hutt. "Gangs, parental troubles, poverty, and a lack of recreational facilities are all part of an unfavorable background situation.

"To counteract unfavorable social situations, treatment must be directed toward improving economic and living conditions, providing recreational facilities divorced from control of the law, church and school and the maintenance of a protective organ the police. Help for and re-education of parents is essential. Although the basic idea is to help delinquent youth, they must also be taught to respect authority.

"Where a person is seriously in conflict with himself," says the professor, "he may go either way; that is, become a delinquent or straighten himself out. In this situation, comics, television, and rock and roll could very esily have an adverse effect."

Most Of The Ball Games Were Rained Out Last Week

Due to rain last week, only 762 participated in the recreation program. All of the Monday daytime, Thursday and Friday games were rained out. So far, twenty four games have been rained out this summer.

Only Minor and Major League games will be made up due to the lack of available diamonds. There will be no games July 4th even though they were announced in the schedule. All 2:45 p.m. Minor League games will be played from now on at the Tecumseh Acres diamond.

There was a Minor League makeup game Wednesday at 4:00 with Tecumseh Acres vs. Central No. 1. In the Major League, the Rotary Club played the Exchange Club at 5:45. (The Rotary and Exchange teams will play twice this week due to the fact that the schedule is two weeks behind.) The Junior Softball game was moved to 7:30 p.m. Wednesday and the girl's game cancelled.

Other makeup games will be held Friday, July 5. In the Minor League, Tecumseh Acres will play Central No. 2 at 4:00. In the Major League, the Rotary Club will play the Exchange Club at 5:45. The Girls Softball game has been set up to 7:30.

On Monday, June 24, the Tecumseh Acres Braves defeated Central 9-8 in extra innings in the Junior Softball League. Terry Hendricks was credited with the win. Good hitting by Tim Whitney, Del Pockey and Tom Harrison aided the cause.

Tuesday, June 25, in the Minor League, Tecumseh Acres outplayed a good Central No. 2 team and won 3-0. Jack Dick showed good pitching and hitting by striking out 11 and hitting a home run and a triple in two times at the plate.

The Herrick Park Huskies defeated Central No. 1 by the score of 11-1. It was the first win of the year for the Huskies. Much of the credit should be given to Walt Zarnock who pitched a 2 hitter. The Huskies are improving every week and with the addition of Dan Green and Merl and Bob Miller, who have been out with the mumps, should start to win some games.

All of the Herrick Park teams have suffered due to illness. The Herrick Park Major League team lost its 3rd baseman, short stop, 2nd baseman and right fielder with the mumps.

In the Peewee League (blue division) the Tecumseh Acres Bobcats defeated Central No. 1 Wednesday 3-2. Lemerand pitched a good game and had fine support from his team members. The Herrick Park Cardinals swamped Central No. 2 with an 18 run barrage. They won 18-0. Pat Smith and Gary Easton each had 3 for 4. Smith, the winning pitcher, allowed only 3 hits and struck out 5 batters.

In Junior League Softball Wednesday, Herrick Park and Central played to a 12 to 12 tie. Central came back with 7 runs in the final two innings after being behind to tie the game. Jim Curth had 3 for 5 for Central and Dick Solarski had 3 for 5 for Herrick Park.

Your children will have as much fun as these at the Jaycee Annual Homecoming July 9-13.

FEE INCREASES

Small game hunting seasons in the southern lower peninsula will open October 21 this year, instead of October 20, and the rabbit season in that region has been extended one month—through March 1.

These are two of the changes made in conservation laws by the 1957 legislature.

Hunting license fee increases — resident small game, from $2 to $3; resident deer and bear (firearm or archery), from $3.50 to $5; resident trapping, from $2 to $3; nonresident small game, from $15 to $20; nonresident archery, deer and bear, from $10 to $15; and camp deer permit, from $3.50 to $10.

Fishing license fee increases — resident annual, except trout, from $1.50 to $2; nonresident annual, except trout, from $4 to $5; nonresident 15-day permit, except trout, from $3 to $4; and resident or nonresident trout stamp, from $1 to $2.

All other hunting and fishing license fees remain unchanged. The new license prices will be effective this fall for hunting licenses and January 1, 1958 for fishing licenses.

Other laws enacted by the legislature will make slingshots legal hunting weapons this year and require a gun to be broken down or encased whenever carried in an automobile as well as ban use of .22 caliber rim fire rifles for taking deer. This will also authorize the Conservation Department to establish five experimenal game areas, where season lengths and bag limits may be varied for research purposes and allow leasing of Great Lakes bottomlands for oil and gas exploration and drilling.

TOO LATE!

Conservation Department game biologists Gene Gaslay and Edward Mikula have a feeling they were born "60 years too late."

The two Department workers recently were inspecting some old buildings which are being torn down at the Tobico Marsh state game area when they came across some newspaper mats dating back to September 24, 1897.

"Hunters, Attention. We have just received a carload of Rival Loaded Shells, 10 and 12 gauge, that are selling for 35 cents a box. We also have a quantity of second-hand guns that we are selling very cheap."

A box of shells today, of course, costs about ten times what it did in "the good old days" of 1897.

Recreation Program In Its 4th Week

Miss Edith Buffett, director of the summer recreation program, helps Dennis Mastie, 8, begin weaving his basket while Larry Graham, 8, stands by with extra material.

The new summer recreation program for students in the Britton public schools is now in its fourth week. Under the direction of Miss Edith Buffett, the program is held Monday through Friday from 1-5 p.m. on the school grounds.

The program is open to pupils from kindergarten through high school, with the majority of those attending in the elementary grades. High school girls assist with the handicraft projects. Attendance thus far has averaged about 250 per week.

So far the children have completed projects of making and painting plaster molds, basket weaving, hammered copper pictures, and name tags. Future plans include leather work, billfolds, dog chains, lanyards and wooden receipe holders. A nominal fee is charged to cover the cost of handicraft materials.

Among the activities offered are archery, shuffleboard, jacks, softball, volleyball, badminton, checkers, marbles and individual games. Once a week, on Wednesday, the elementary school children visit the bookmobile library to take out reading material. A wading pool, two feet deep and 15 feet wide by 25 feet long, is used on warm days.

A competitive spirit arose when the youngsters made badges to be given to the winners of various activities. On the first day, the winner of each event was awarded a badge. Now anyone can challenge the title holder and, if he or she is defeated, the badge changes hands.

Miss Buffet, director of the program, teaches girls physical education in grades 5-12 during the school year. She also has charge of the driver education classes for the older grades. Through working in church groups, she has gained previous handicraft experience.

Lee Keeling, of Keeling Motor Sales, first approached Miss Buffett with the idea of a summer playground. It was developed during the school year and put into effect on a trial basis on June 10. It is a six-week program, ending July 19. Miss Buffett is hired by the village of Britton.

Corn With And Without ARCADIAN URAN Nitrogen

ARCADIAN URAN non-pressure Solution
CONTAINS 32% NITROGEN

For fast side-dressing, use equipment wide enough to cover several rows, or have your ARCADIAN URAN dealer do the job. Simple tractor attachments enable you to apply URAN as you cultivate. URAN Nitrogen soaks into the soil fast to feed roots fast. When topsoil is dry, application deep enough to reach moist soil speeds results.

Corn grows over a long season, and needs a ready supply of nitrogen for several months. ARCADIAN URAN is quick-acting and long-lasting, and feeds this crop well. Use enough on corn to supply 75 to 150 pounds of nitrogen per acre. URAN Nitrogen pays, and it pays best when you use enough.

PROPOSED 23RD AMENDMENT

A proposed 23rd amendment to the Constitution of the United States, known as the Gwinn amendment, consists of one clear sentence: "The government of the United States shall not engage in any business, professional, commercial, financial, or industrial enterprise except as specified in the Constitution."

The possibilities within that simple statement of principle are literally enormous.

The government has billions upon billions of dollars invested in business enterprises of many kinds, all of which are performing functions that can and should be handled by private enterprise. These socialized businesses could be sold, and the money used to reduce the national debt, or to cut taxes, or both.

But that is only the beginning. Government business enterprises are tax-free, in an age in which private business corporations pay up to 52 per cent of all their profits in federal taxes alone. On top of that, it is common for government business enterprises to operate at a loss, which means that they must be subsidized by all the taxpayers. Once they were sold to private enterprise, the subsidies would end and they would become major taxpayers. The gain to the nation over the years would run into tens of billions.

One big reason for the government's financial plight today is that is has gone far beyond Constitutional provisions, and into fields where it does not belong and where its presence is wasteful and destructive. This is not just a matter of economics — super-government is the greatest enemy of human freedom that exists. The proposed amendment would give us the kind of government envisaged by the founders.

THE BEDROCK

America was conceived as a land in which the individual would be paramount.

No matter how productive we become, how high we are able to lift ourselves in a material way, how clever the ideas advanced by our scientists, inventors and social thinkers, we can never afford to lose sight of the fact that individual liberty and responsibility are the bedrock on which our American system was built.

Fred had a surprise for his family as they gathered around him on "Family Discussion Night."

"I received a big raise today," he announced with a grin. "Now maybe we can buy something extra we've been putting off for lack of funds. Any suggestions?"

"How about a vacation to northern Michigan?" said son Billy. "The whole family would enpoy that."

"It's a good thought," Fred agreed, "but personally I've had my eye on a boat and trailer. That would be lots of fun for all of us."

His wife, Helen, nodded. "Both ideas are worth considering," she said. 'But I can think of something we would get even more pleasure from."

"What is it, Mommy?" asked young Pamela.

"A larger, nicer home," she replied. "Both you and Billy could have your own room. And, there would be a nice big yard to play in. Dad would have a place for his workship. And we'd all like a spacious living room, and a recreation room for games and TV."

"You've got the best idea at that, Fred said. "We'll go down to Kohler Real Estate in the morning and find the right kind of a home."

Engaged To Van While Rock's Wife

Imagine being engaged to Van Johnson and married to Rock Hudson during one hectic week!

That's what happened to blonde and beautiful Martha Hyer, who is co-starred with Hudson in "Battle Hymn," the Universal-International picture based on the life of Col. Dean Hess, filmed in Technicolor and CinemaScope, which opens Tuesday, July 9th at the Strand Theater.

Martha's shooting schedule on "Kelly and Me," another U-I pictpre, in which she is Van Johnson's fiancee, overlapped her appearance before the camera as Hudson's wife in "Battle Hymn."

The situation caught Martha with both her rings and her rinses switched. She hardly had time to enjoy her leading men under conditions which would have most girls swooning. She had time only to swoon over the confusion of "bicycling" between sets as a platinum blonde in the morning and a chestnut coiffured minister's wife in the afternoon.

It became so chaotic at one point that Martha wore her Van Johnson engagement ring in a scene of domestic felicity with Rock Hudson, and the scene had to be refilmed.

NEWS OF THE FARM

Lenawee Co. Agricultural Agent's Column - - - -

PLASTIC SILAGE COVERS

Plastic covers can help preserve better quality silage in a bunker, trench or stack silo, but they must be put on right, says Clayton C. Ingerson, Assoc. county agricultural agent.

Agent Ingerson points out that a cover over a horizontal silo helps preserve the silage by avoiding the loss or addition of water. When silage gets too wet from rain it may rot; when it dries out it will mold, he says.

However, putting the cover on right can be a tough job. The wind can raise havoc with a large sheet of light plastic when you're trying to put it on and can cause the cover to bellow after it's on if it isn't weighted down properly.

Ingerson recommends weighting them down with hay or straw and then putting boards or poles on the hay to hold it from blowing off. He also advises tucking in the edges so no air can enter to cause molding.

These plastic covers will be most practical in southern Michigan where there is a lot of rain, freezing and thawing during the winter. He points out that in northern Michigan, where it stays frozen all winter, a farmer might just as well cover his silo with 4 or 5 inches of soil or sawdust and soak it down with water. It will take a little more work but cost less he says.

The reason covering with soil is not as practical for southern Michigan is because when it rains and thaws the mud is hard to remove and moisture can seep into the silage. The soil is easy to take off when it's frozen. By using a manure loader it can be lifted off in large chunks or slabs.

The plastics are available in several weights. About six mils is average. Heavier types may be used for several years and don't bellow as easily as lighter covers. However, it is very hard to save a cover from year to year where there is a lot of ice and snow. A farmer trying one for the first time may be wise to start with a less expensive type to be used only one year, he says.

Many new developments are yet to come in the use of plastics for preserving silage. For example, this year manufacturers have a new plastic cover containing fibers which help prevent tearing.

APPLE MILDEW

Powdery mildew of apple is showing up in varying degrees of severity in most of the state's apple growing areas.

To protect against the disease use wettable sulfur spray or a Karathane spray as part of the cover sprays until the growth stops. Sulfur and Karathane only protect against powdery mildew and do not control it immediately.

To control the disease in orchards that have established mildew problems, growers must follow the protective spray program closely for at least two years.

Powdery mildew has become a problem particularly on the Jonathan, Rome Beauty and Cortland varieties. The outbreak is apparently caused by weather conditions and the swing in recent years from sulfur to organic spray materials. Growth of the fungus is encouraged in temperatures between 50 and 80 degrees with the relative humidity.

Squires Family Owned Mystery Farm

Mr. and Mrs. L. James Squires were the owners of last week's Mystery Farm located at 8447 Ridge Rd., Route 1, Britton. The 135 acre farm is called "Squire Ridge." They purchased it in February of 1956 from Charles Ricica. Former owners include Frank K. Smith and Albert Todd before Smith.

Changes in recent years include a new silo, cleared woods and paved barnyard. The Squires are in the dairy business raising Holstein cattle. They are starting a registered herd with the prefix "Squire Ridge" before the name.

The Squires have a daughter Jamie Ann, 1 year old. They belong to the Tecumseh Grange and go to the Milan Methodist Church.

William J. Miller of Route 2, Britton first identified the farm. He was given a two year subscription from the Tecumseh Herald. The Squires were given an aerial photograph of the farm and a two year subscription to the Herald from Hayden Mills, Inc., the contest sponsor.

Soybean Meal Supply Large Good Feed Buy

A record supply of soybeans and good crop prospects are making soybean oil meal a good feed buy for Michigan farmers, according to a report from John Ferris, farm price forecaster at Michigan State University.

Ferris points out that farmers have been paying less for this protein feed this year than last. During May the cost of soybean oil meal averaged $3.80 a hundred compared to $4.25 during May 1956. He expects this cost to remain relatively low for the next few months.

Listing the reasons for this favorable situation he says, "the supply of soybeans left from last year's crop is still very large. By next September we expect there will still be between 15 and 30 million bushels on hand. This is a sharp increase over the supply of 3.7 million bushels at the end of last September.

"Besides this large carryover the soybean crop this year is expected to be at least as large as last year's record crop if yields are normal."

Ferris adds that other protein feeds have also been lower in price this spring and will probably continue below last year for the next two or three months.

Take A Break Avoid Accidents

"You're not being lazy when you take a short break from farm work in the morning and afternoon — you're being smart because it may help you avoid a serious accident!"

According to safety studies, fatigue is an important cause of farm accidents. The highest percentage of farm work accidents happens during the late morning and mid-afternoon hours when fatigue or boredom with a tedious job is likely to occur.

Experts suggest that you take a five or ten minute break between 10 and 11 a.m. and about 2 or 2:30 in the afternoon. Chances for accidents appear to be at their peak about these times.

Vets Ingenuity Protects Tail

A veterinarian in San Angelo, Texas, had a dog patient which repeatedly bruised its tail, according to a report in the Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association.

The veterinarian wrapped two pieces of sponge rubber around the tail and fastened the edges with rubber cement. The collar thus fastened cushioned shocks when the animal wagged his tail against an object and it quickly healed.

Nitrogen On Corn Pays Dividends

A $1 investment in nitrogen fertilizer for corn can return between $2 and $5 in the fall according to extension soil scientists at Michigan State University. One bushel of corn must have about one and one-half pounds of nitrogen. With thicker plantings, more nitrogen is needed. Some can be provided by plowed-under legume sods and manure.

Nitrogen should be applied just before or, preferably, soon after planting. The job should be done at least by the knee-high stage, generally by June 25. With anhydrous ammonia and pressure solutions which must be applied under the soil surface, special care is needed to avoid root injury.

Enough lime should be put on to keep the soil pH at 6.0 or above. Adapted fertilizers should be used at a rate averaging 200 pounds for all years of the rotation to get top corn yields. With shallow application by the conventional split-boot type planter, seldom should you apply more than 150-200 pounds of a complete starter fertilizer. New deeper planting implements permit the use of up to 300 pounds.

To make good use of nitrogen fertilizer, between 14 and 18 thousand plants per acre are needed on good soil. This amounts to one stalk per 12-15 inches in 40-inch rows.

Erosion control and maintenance of adequate organic matter in the soil are also important. In selecting your nitrogen fertilizer, be sure to look at the cost per pound of elemental nitrogen. Costs per ton, bag and gallon can be deceiving.

Take a five or ten minute break from farm work between 10 and 11 a.m. and about 2 or 2:30 in the afternoon. Chances for accidents resulting from fatigue or boredom are highest at these times.

Survey Shows Newspaper Ads Are Welcome

A survey conducted by Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., that 61 per cent of American housewives would prefer television without commercials.

Commenting on this fact, Robert J. McBride, director of research for the Detroit Free Press, said:

Mr. McBride then presents this completely logical statement:

"The advertiser gets the best results when his message is welcomed and desired."

"If she arrives home remarkably refreshed, I refer you to the lower, more comfortable seats, the wider wrap-around windshield and the other peace-of-mind features of her new "Inner Ford." If she's just a bit more spoiled, don't blame her. With optional power steering, power brakes, power windows and seat—who wouldn't be?
"And if she is constantly raving about the savings her new car brings her, she's merely confirming what I've been telling her about Fords for years! Sure, we're a two-Ford family now. ## Farm Real Estate Values Up In U.S.

Farm real estate reached a record total market value of $109.5 billion on March 1, with a gain of 3 per cent in the preceding quarter, the Department of Agriculture estimated last week.

The new record high, 7 per cent above a year earlier, represented the largest increase for any 12-month period since 1951-52 when the post-Korean conflict peak in values was set.

The new record total market value represents a national average of $94.52 per acre, compared with $88.63 a year earlier. Farm buildings were valued at $24.6 billion, or 22.5 per cent of the total farm real estate value, and the average value per farm was more than $5,000.

Increases were reported for 38 states and "essentially unchanged" values for 10 states.

"Despite the substantial improvements that have been made in recent years to many farm buildings, particularly dwellings, market prices for land with buildings have not increased as much as have prices of land without improvements," the department said.

"The trend toward fewer and larger farms, which has been greatly accelerated in the last 10 years, is primarily responsible for this. Buildings on farms that are combined with other farms have little economic value to the buyer."

Haeussler Homes Have Many Features

This week's building feature, on Seminole Drive, is a light yellow frame with tan brick trim. It was recently purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Steuwe.

Birch kitchen cabinets with solid cord doors are an outstanding feature of this yellow frame house with brick trim built by the Haeussler Construction Company.

The basic house, 28 feet wide by 48 feet long, has a one-car garage, paved drive, sidewalks, fireplace, bath and a half and built-in stove and oven. All storm windows and doors supplied. A curb and gutter will soon be put in.

A model of the basic house, on Seminole Drive, includes a living room, kitchen, dinette, three bedrooms, bath and a half and utility room. There are six closets in the standard house. The living room has an oak hardwood floor and features a brick fireplace and mahogany paneling on the walls. The bathroom has a large storage closet.

This model sold for $14,500 on a lot 70 feet wide by 135 feet long. In the future, the basic lot will be 105 feet wide by 135 feet long and buyers may add both land and house space to this if they desire. Heating is oil perimeter.

Dimensions are: living room - 15.2 x 17; dinette - 11 x 8; bath - 12 x 7; bedrooms - two 10.3 x 11.8 and one 9.8 x 11.8 and one-car garage - 12 x 20.

Haeussler Construction Company is an experienced builder of homes costing from $6,000 to $60,000, according to Jack Osburn, local real estate broker. Customers interested in building a home can pick their own room colors and have a choice of siding or brick on the front of the house.

Extras can be added at the request of the customer. The first addition desired is usually a basement, followed by a two-car garage, built-ins, a garbage disposal and automatic washer and drier.

Inside features are: birch kitchen cabinets, built-in stove and oven, and mahogany paneling on the living room walls.

Increasing needs for living space for a growing population, a high volume of business activity, and a slowly rising general price level, are among the factors behind the increase in the market value of farmland.

Increased demand for land for residential, industrial, service, and recreational areas was estimated to absorb about one million acres of farmland a year.

Modernize Homes With Sliding Window Walls

Wall-height sliding panels of plate glass—because of their direct association with modern architecture—can do more than any other single improvement to modernize an old house, some architects feel.

Otto Wenzler, architectural consultant to Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co., says sliding window walls result both in a feeling of modernity within the house, and a look of modernity without. He lists these "modernizations" which can be accomplished through a single installation:

Room expansion — by allowing the lawn, patio or terrace to become part of the room's living area during fair weather.

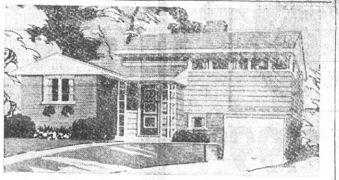
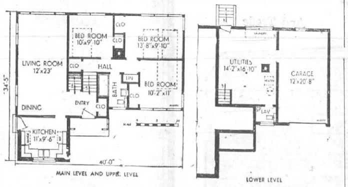
Cool interior temperatures in summer and "natural" warmth in winter, especially if windows are properly oriented and equipped with overhangs, and if they use double-pane insulating glass. Such windows allow the low-lying sun of winter to warm the home, but block direct rays of the high summer sun.





MAIN LEVEL AND UPPER LEVEL

LOWER LEVEL

In addition to the charming exterior, this three bedroom design includes a "garden-view" living room and "toward-the-street" kitchen. The lower level garage area could be used as a recreation room, instead, if desired.

The living area, lower level including garage, is 568 sq. ft., the living area on the main level is 487 sq. ft. and the living area on the upper level is 568 sq. ft. for a total of 1,623 sq. ft. Plans are available from local lumber dealers.

64 Quarts A Day

Removing moisture and lowering the relative humidity in the homes lessens the possibility of damage to the house and household belongings.

Fill Holes In Wood

To cover deep holes in wood surfaces, follow this method: Fill the cavity with wood plastic. Sandpaper it until it is level with the rest of the surface. Stain it the desired color, and when dry, cover it with white shellac.

Storage Walls Have Wide Use And Save Space

In every room in the house the storage wall is being drafted for service. In many cases it has displaced some pieces of furniture, thereby increasing the usability and livability of rooms. It has also cut down on housework by reducing dusting and "cleaning around" jobs.

A storage wall set down in one corner of a family room can be given a multitude of jobs.

One such storage wall was installed as a room divider between a kitchen and a family room. It includes a complete music wall, a refreshment bar and space for a myriad of odds and ends.

On the side of the wall facing the family room, a floor level opening was made large enough to hold a television set which may be rolled out and faced in any direction. Built into the island wall and hidden behind magnetic latched doors when not in use are a radio, high fidelity equipment, record storage compartments, phonograph and a tape recorder.

Facing the kitchen, the storage wall was used for shelves to hold kitchen china, linen and other handy items. The shelves are covered with sliding doors. Also included was a tiny refreshment bar large eonugh to admit the person serving. The upper half of a door folds inward and the lower half supports the serving surface.

These storage units can be designed and built at any time, although in the case of smaller homes it is recommended that they be installed when the house is built.

A homeowner handy with tools can asemble a storage unit as a week-end project in many cases.

Careful attention should be paid to details and corners and joining should be workmanlike, for the finished product must have all the charm and beauty of a good piece of furniture.

Many persons prefer to finish storage walls in natural wood, with the grain and texture of softwoods adding character and distinction to the installation. Or, the units may be stained, painted or pickled, depending on the particular taste of the home owner.

Protect Ladders

Wooden ladders should be protected with occasional applications of a clear varnish or penetrating sealer to keep them in good condition.

Never use opaque paints, however, since these may hide splits or other dangerous defects.

CENSUS TO BE STARTED IN AUGUST

Initial Phase Of The Health Study To Begin

Interviewers from the University of Michigan School of Public Health will start interviewing Tecumseh residents and residents of the Tecumseh area (as determind previously by the researchers and announced in the Herald) August 13 in one of initial phases of the Community Health Study to be done here.

The interviewers, 12 to 15 in number, will do what amounts to a complete census. They are all trained employees of the School of Public Health and none are residents of Tecumseh. They will all carry proper identification cards and letters explaining the project from director, Dr. Horton. None of the information collected will be divulged except for purposes of the study. The census will take from four to six weeks to complete.

Information requested by the interviewers will include name, address, sex, relation to the head of the household, birth date, highest education completed, whether the home is owned or rented, family income level and name and address of local relatives, to compile family groupings. Information on chronic conditions and physical imparements in the family will be filled out on a questionnaire to be mailed to the School of Public Health after completion. The interviewers will also leave calendars for each family to keep reporting all illness during August and a period thereafter. The first one will be mailed to Ann Arbor, at the end of August. Others will be picked up later.

This is all basic information needed for the Health Study and must be completed before other work can be started. Complete public co-operation will speed the progress considerably.

Interviewers will be here after August 13 every day until the census is completed. It is hoped that the major phases of the Study will begin in November.

EYEBROW RAISER

A recently released study, made by William J. Arn of the Bowling Green State University Graduate School, is guaranteed to raise a few eyebrows in todays progressive educational camp. The study, covering 162 graduates of the Blissfield, Michigan, High School, indicates that rural schools of the "little red schoolhouse" type, in one instance, produced students superior to others of city school background.

Two groups of 81 graduates were selected. The first group consisted of those who received their elementary school education in the rural multigraded classrooms (those which lumped several grades under one teacher). The second group was composed of those who received their elementary school education in urban self-contained (one grade to a teacher) classrooms. It was carefully determined that students comprising the two groups were about the same in learning ability.

Arn found that students of the rural group were superior at both the ninth grade and graduate levels and found no evidence that the students coming from rural multigraded schools fell down in any way on entering urban high schools where each class had a different teacher. The rate of achievement of the rural students continued throughout high school.

One of the reasons for this result, the researcher concluded, is the effects of an enriched curriculum which served to motivate the learning processes of the more intelligent rural students who were not contained to a rigid course of study designed for one grade level. "These students could profit from the studies and experiences of students in advanced grade levels of the same classroom." Another reason is that over a period of years, the teacher was afforded an opportunity to know the pupil and his family intimately. The previous knowledge of the student's personal characteristics and academic strengths and weaknesses saved a lot of time as the student advanced from one grade level to another. This familiarity between pupil and teacher provided a better learning atmosphere, according to Arn. He also felt that younger students may have gained a direction and purpose for their immediate studies and acquired information which they would be required to know in later years from observing the instruction and recitation of older students in advanced classes.

He asserted that students in the urban self-contained classrooms often are slowed down by the learning rate of the less intelligent. "Left more to his own resources, to sink or swim, the rural student apparently had developed better study habits and greater ability to stand on his own feet when he reached high school.

Right or wrong, it certainly gives us something to think about.

Mead And Hodges Re-elected To Board

Aden E. Mead and Dwight Hodges were re-elected to membership on the School Board for a three year term at Monday's election. It was announced at the Board meeting Monday evening. Only forty-three votes were cast in the election.

School Board officers elected at the annual meeting for 1957-1958 are: president, Jens K. Touborg; vice-president, Aden E. Mead; secretary, Dr. Ralph F. Helzerman; treasurer, Dwight B. Hodges; and trustee, Virgil C. Tucker.

Rev. Robert Bergman, Harry Farrell and James Tonneberger presented an offer of $9,500 for the Brownville School property. The matter was tabled until the special meeting Tuesday, July 30, to allow for further investigation. The Central Auditorium was rented to the group for a four-week period beginning Sunday August 4.

It was decided to lodge a formal written complaint, if necessary, with the City Council to have the weeds cut on the Naser property adjacent to the Patterson School. The Board agreed to the Warren Holmes Co. request that they set July 30 at 8 p.m. as the date for opening bids for the Macon, Tipton, and Ridgeway Schools.

Following some discussion of complaints by neighbors that children are cutting through back yards from Oneida Street to Ottawa Street, across school property, the Board voted to install a cyclone fence across the east boundary of their land. The owner of the unfenced portion, William B. Hotrum, will be notified of the Board action.

Fluoride Treatments For Children Underway

Fluoride treatments for the children of Tecumseh began July 9 and will continue through August 1. In the picture, Eugene Bonofiglo, U. of M. dental student, is giving Nancy Anderson the first step in the treatment. Next the fluoride is applied and Michelle Anderson is letting it dry. Isobel McCombs awaits her turn.

Treatments are being given Monday through Friday from 9-12 a.m. and 1-4 p.m. in the first grade room in the basement of Central School. Four sessions, scheduled at least 24 hours apart, are necessary to complete the treatments. The initial one is to clean the teeth and put on the first application of fluoride. The following three add more fluoride.

Mrs. Robert Anderson, chairman of both the county and the local group, stressed that if children already have an appointment to have their teeth cleaned by a dentist, they should go ahead with it. The cleaning before the fluoride treatment is applied is not the same type of cleaning regularly given by dentists and is not designed to take its place.

Mrs. Anderson also emphasized that the fluoride to be put into the water supply will not substitute for this treatment. The maximum effect of the water fluoridation will be felt by those who are born after it begins.

There is a charge of $2.50 for the set of four treatments. This is a minimum expense covering equipment and medicine. The same treatment would ordinarily cost between $10-12, according to University of Michigan dental student Eugene Bonofiglo, who is administering the program.

The treatments were made available to any of the children in the community; however, they are recommended for last year's kindergarten, second, fifth and eighth graders because these are the ages at which certain teeth erupt and will afford them the maximum protection. The fluoride gives the teeth enamel a protective covering which helps prevent decay germs from entering.

Approximately 315 children are taking part in the program this summer. Those who had previous signed up for it were notified by card as to their appointment dates two weeks ago. No additional youngsters can be taken during this session.

There are four treatment centers in the county with four schools under each center. Thus a total of 16 areas is covered. Present schedules are set up to take care of six children per hour for each treatment.

Assisting Mrs. Anderson in the local group are: Mrs. George Mc Combs, co-chairman; Mrs. Joseph Dziachan, Catholic school chairman; Mrs. Clyde Mitchell, Appointment chairman; and Mrs. Clifford Knudson, Mrs. Robert Sage and Mrs. Mahlon Sebring.

150 Planes Here For Dawn Patrol

Approximately 150 planes from Michigan, Ohio and Indiana arrived for the Dawn Patrol Sunday, sponsored by the Tecumseh Civil Air Patrol and the Tecumseh Flying Club at the Tecumseh airport.

Chairman of the event, Richard Jacobs, stated that the first arrivals, at 6:40 a.m., were Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Ross of Port Huron, Michigan. They flew in with their 65 hp Aeronca Champion, two place airplane.

Breakfast was served to approximately 300 people in the morning. The program consisted of a U-control model airplane contest, a Signal Corps demonstration by the Ypsilanti branch and new and old aircraft.

Combined Libraries Worked Successfully

The first year of combining the school libraries with the Public library has just been completed. According to librarian Jule Fosbender, the plan has worked out very well since with all of the ordering and processing done in one place, there is a better idea of what is on hand, what is needed and how to meet those needs.

The total circulation increase over 1955-56 is 20,112. A total of 57,918 books, magazines, pamphlets, music and records were circulated to the adults and children of Tecumseh. Some 4,126 persons were on-the-spot-readers. The librarians helped to find answers to 1,577 reference questions.

| | Disc. | Added | Total |
|---|---|---|---|
| Public Library | 1074 | 1894 | 12,318 |
| High School | 3 | 665 | 2,050 |
| Central | 89 | 243 | 1,308 |
| Patterson | 0 | 282 | 1,030 |

There is at present a total of 16,706 books in the library system.

The Public Librray has 1815 registered borrowers, including those people in the recently annexed small school districts, to whom service is offered without charge. Last year there were two paid non-resident fees.

During the year, $628.42 in fees, fines and book sales was taken in. Four hundred seventy-five dollars and forty-four cents was turned in to the Board and $152.98 was spent on miscellaneous supplies.

The storyhour and book club was held during the sumer of 1956 with a membership of 160 in the club and an average attendance at the storyhour of 71. The vacation loan was again offered and a visit to the hospital with books was made each week.

The Book Fair was held during Book Week and featured Mrs. Margaret Bradfield, a children's illustrator, who did chalk talks at the schools. The library table tops were recovered and a new typewriter, file and card catalog were added.

Two new services for the people of Tecumseh were initiated at the Public Library. A collection of long playing records, which may be rented for 25c a week, was started. The loan of framed pictures is now available.

The Library Board met once a month to discuss the problems of the library and make plans for the future. The two things to which a great deal of time was given are lack of space and getting library service to the people of the newly annexed districts. When the basement becomes available for library use, plans have been made for some remodeling to relieve the need for space. A bookmobile is under consideration as a way of reaching the additional clientele.

The Board and the librarian presented a program on library service at the Patterson P.T.A. They also visited the new Blissfield library building. Mrs. Laine Holden was appointed to the Board to replace Jack Savage who moved from Tecumseh.

Plans are set up so that the Herrick Park library will be ready to go on the shelves when the school opens. The high school library show the greatest increase in its collection of books.

Everyone entering the contest will be admitted free to see "Spirit of St. Louis," the story of Lindbergh's transatlantic crossing, at the Strand Theater Friday and Saturday, July 19 and 20. There will be a matinee Saturday at 2:00. Models entered in the contest will be on display in the theater lobby during this engagement. ## Blood Bank And Call List To Be Established

Starting Monday, July 15, from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m., the out patient department of the Herrick Memorial Hospital will be open for all people wishing to donate bood. All donors will receive wallet sized donor identity cards; however, not all donors will be asked to give blood immediately. Names will be put on a donor call list and everyone volunteering will receive a card. Prospective donors are asked not to call the Hospital about giving blood but to come and be registered. Blood is only kept in Hospital refrigeration approximately 28 days therefore the donor list will make blood easily accessible when the necessary supply at the Hospital becomes depeted.

Those volunteering this blood must be in general good health, between the ages of 18 and 59. Those between the ages of 18 and 20 must have the signature of the parent or guardian.

Members of the Hospital Auxiliary Blood Bank Committee will do the clerical work and welcome any person wishing to work on the program. Call Mrs. Robert Mohr at 817-M if you can give some time to the program.

Annual Report Given On The School Year

Superintendent James McDowell gave his annual report at the annual school meeting Monday evening held in the High School. He said that enrollments in Tecumseh Schools in June showed increases of 158 in the secondary school and 672 in the elementary schools whereas last year the increases were fifty and fifty-eight respectively.

Actual total enrollments in the secondary school in June were 842 and the elementary school 1643. This increased enrollment was largely due to the annexation of seventeen rural districts.

A staff of 119 persons served these children; 47 elementary teachers, 25 secondary teachers, 3 music teachers, 4 physical education teachers, 2 art teachers, 1 secondary school librarian, 1 guidance director, 1 full time elementary principal, 1 part time elementary principal, 1 elementary coordinator, 1 secondary principal, 4 secretaries, 1 maintenance engineer, 11 custodians, 10 bus drivers, 4 cafeteria workers, 1 field custodian and one superintendent of schools. Since the Tecumseh Public Library is also operated by the Board of Education and there are two librarians the total number of persons employed by the Tecumseh Public Schools is 121.

Although there is an acute shortage of classroom space even though classes have been held in the basement of the Public Library and the Baptist Church House and all our schools badly overcrowded and classes were held in widely separated areas and bus service was increased, the overall average of personnel was about 21 pupils to one adult employed or the same as in 1955-56.

Tecumseh Schools have an outstanding attendance record for 1956-57; 93.9% in the elementary schools and 96.6% in grades seven through twelve. The latter is exceptional for secondary school attendance and an increase of almost 1% over last year's excellent record of 95.8%.

Classes have been held in 20 locations; High School Building,

Letters From Our Readers

Letter to the Editor:

A few days ago I read the answer to the recent letter in your paper regarding the neglect of a certain lot in our local cemetery. I've lived here twenty-four years and have been proud of the way our cemetery is kept. But I wonder what people coming into our much lauded town from the north Evans St. think of our bountiful crop of obnoxious weeds and brush. The pile by our house, by the bridge, has been there three weeks. It's been some time since we could see East and South of us because of the high weeds. I believe we have an ordinance to the effect a notice be published in local paper for certain number of days before weeds are to be cut. Certain people and places are taken care of. Why the neglect in enforcing it? A stop sign is completely covered by weeds near Junior High. We could take a lesson from Adrian. Their North Main St. approach to town is neatly landscaped and they are to be congratulated.

Let's clean up the weeds.

Dear Sir:

I identify this "Mystery Farm 44". I have been watching them all. My brother (Sherman Blauch) subscribed to the paper for our mother (Mrs. F. J. Blauch) while she was up here last winter and the time is nearly ran out. Of course I know I wont be the first one but could have been if I had been closer. I am the daughter (Edna Blauch Benscoter). It is my father farm (F. J. Blauch) and he sold it to a Mrs. Moll and sons just before he died in 1948.

I hope I am right.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Edna (Chas.) Benscoter

Annual School Report Given

Brownville, Baptist Church, Basement of Library, Patterson, West Branch, Central, Ridgeway, Macon, Sutton, and ten one room rural schools. By careful planning and a redistribution of children, it was possible to place one grade in each classroom in the elementary schools with the exception of Kelley which was annexed in October after school had begun. All seventh and eighth grade pupils attended classes in the high school building which is sorely overcrowded and will be more so next year for over 1000 pupils are anticipated in grades seven through twelve. Two rural schools were closed; Holloway, because of its location on a very busy highway and Newburg because of inadequate heating and distance by bus from the majority of the homes of the children attending that school.

The 1957 school census for our district shows that there is a total of 4403 children 0 through 19 years of age. This is an increase of 6.4% over the 1956 census. There was a total gain of 21 children under 5 years of age and a gain of 246 in children five through nineteen years of age. The greatest gain was in 10 year olds with an increase of 78 pupils. The greatest loss was in 12 year olds which was a decrease of 24 pupils. These children will be housed in classes as close to their homes as possible this year and by the fall of 1958 should be housed in well equipped schools of modern design near their homes. In March of 1957 the Board of Education was successfully supported by the people of this district in its plans to bond for $1,900,000 for plant increases and these should all be completed by the 1958-59 shool year.

Music, art and physical educaiton programs were offered both in the elementary and secondary schools as in the past. Extra-curricular activities in the secondary school consitaed of football, basketball, intramural basketball in upper grades and secondary school baseball, track, golf, Future Farmers of America, Varsity Club, Girls Athletic Association, debate, forensics, student council, class plays, annual staff, professional writing for awards, Spanish Club, wrestling, school newspaper, cheerleading, marching band, Future Nurses Club, Future Homemakers Club, and Future Teachers Club. A Regional Basketball Tournament was again awarded Tecumseh and the Indians were able to win this tournament. In the Southeastern League, of which Tecumseh is a member, the team was second in football, tied for second in basketball, tied for first in track, and was fourth in baseball. Two semesters of adult education or evening school programs were offered under the direction of the night school principal and all were well attended. Young adult farmer classes were held in the evening weekly and other educational and civic minded groups were served by the school.

The Public Library has operated through the services of a special library board appointed by the Board of Education and two full time librarians. Improvements in physical aspects of the building and equipment as well as the addition of new books and services has resulted in greater use by the public of the library facilities. Children's programs have been well received and have helped to augment regular school instruction in reading and in engendering a love of books.

Teachers' Club Committees met with the administration upon matters of common interest and through discussion recommendations were formulated which were presented to the Board of Education by the Superintendent. Changes in Board Policies occurred in the fields of professional advancement, professional needs and salary schedules. These policies are printed in the Board's booklet entitled, "Professional Personnel Policies" which states clearly the many policies by which the Board governs its actions concerning all personnel. Custodians, cafeteria personnel and secretaries are now on contracted salaries with recognition for type of service rendered as well as years of service and experience.

Bus service to city as well as rural areas was increased and the student activity bus was used almost constantly for athletics and field trips. Elementary as well as secondary pupils have made use of the bus as it is an invaluable teaching tool.

Parent-Teacher Association activities were left to the desires of the parents and teachers of the various buildings. Some P.T.A.'s were very active while some buildings had none. The Patterson School Fair was the outstanding P.T.A. money-maker of the year. For many of the schools, their P.T.A. has been able to assist materially in planning and augmenting the school program and has done much to engender cooperative effort in solving the educational problems of their children.

The special services of a psychologist and a speech correctionist were again made available to the children of local schools through cooperation with the County. Plans have tentatively been made to enlarge this program to assist the many children with difficulties in hearing, sight, and other physical and mental disabilities who cannot be educated in our public schools at present.

The Board of Education met seventeen times during the year. The Board retired $110,000 of the 1952 Tecumseh School Bonds in addition to the regular yearly payments well in advance of their due dates. The Board was also able to retire $6,000 of the Ridgeway District 1953 Bonds in addition to the regular yearly payments well in advance of their due dates. This was made possible by the increased evaluation of the school district (now over 34 million dollars) and the prompt payment of school taxes by the community. The Board purchased the Schwartz property at Tipton as the site of a new elementary school, the Lipp property on James Street as a Board Office and Administration unit, the Teske house on James Street as a maintenance office and supply depot, and a light easement at Ridgeway so that the addition may be seen from the street. During the year the Board sold the Bradley School as its location made it of little value as a school. The Board augmented a new program in guidance with a special director engaged for that purpose. The program has been well received and has improved guidance services to all secondary pupils.

J. J. Walper Passed Away Monday P.M.

Mr. J. J. Walper, prominent Lenawee county businessman and banker, passed away Monday afternoon in St. Vincents Hospital in Toledo after a year of failing health. Mr. Walper is the father of Dalton D. Walper of 110 Adrian street, Tecumseh.

Mr. Walper was born on a farm in Ogden Township August 20, 1873, the son of Catherine and Ludwig Walper. He was 83 years old at the time of his death. He began working in the grain elevator business when only 18 and later built and operated grain elevators in Riga, Blissfield, Ogden Station, Britton and Deerfield. All but the Britton elevator were sold in 1918. In 1935, Mr. Walper's son, D. D. Walper, entered the business as a partner and is now rebuilding the elevator which was destroyed by fire in the fall of 1956. Thousands of bushels of grain were lost in the fire and Mr. Walper's health began to fail rapidly after this.

Mr. Walper purchased an interest in the Walper Furniture Co. in Adrian in 1924 with his son Norman of Adrian entering the firm. He also owned farms in Lenawee and Monroe counties for many years and for the last 30 years has been a vice president and director of the Jipson-Carter Savings Bank in Blissifeld. He helped to organize the bank.

The Walpers lived in Riga for a number of years and moved to Toledo in 1921. He made many trips into Michigan because of his business interests as well as his family ties. He retired from active business about 8 years ago turning over the operation of his business interests to his sons. Mr. Walper marrierd Carrie Dreher in 1896 and she preceded him in death in 1953.

Besides the two sons, Norman and Dalton, Mr. Walper is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Eileen Myers and Mrs. Stuart Miner of Toledo; five grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 11 a.m. at the Bennett-Westgate Mortuary in Toledo and burial will be in Woodlawn cemetery. The directors and officers of the Jipson-Carter bank will be honorary bearers.

Makeup Games Played Wednesday And Friday

There will be makeup games this week for the Minor and Major Leagues at Central and at Tecumseh Acres. Besides the games made up Wednesday, Central No. 2 and Central No. 1 will play at 4:00 at Central. At 5:45, the Jaycees will play the Exchange Club. At Tecumseh Acres, the Rotary Club will play Kiwanis Club at 5:45 p.m.

The Central No. 1 and Tecumseh Acres game Friday in the blue division was a double forfeit due to the lack of players. Friday afternoon, Herrick Park defeated Central No. 2 22-8. Herrick Park sewed up the game with 13 runs in the first inning. Bob Brown had 3 for 3 to lead the attack.

In an exciting Junior Softball game Wednesday, the Central No. 2 Cubs trounced Herrick Park 33-5. Leading the attack for Central were Richardson with 4 for 6, Dick with 5 for 6 and O'Neil with 3 for 6 including a home run. The Park attack was led by Neitling who banged out a home run.

The Tecumseh Acres Minor League team added another victory with a 4-2 win over Central No. 1. Dick and Chase shared the pitching and each got 2 hits.

On Tuesday, the Herrick Park Minors slaughtered the Central No. 2 team 19-2. Hitting well for Herrick Park were Gary Lee with 6 for 6, including a home run, Roger Hebert with 5 for 5, including three doubles and Randy Fergus with a bases loaded double. Dan Green pitched a two hitter.

On Wednesday, the Tecumseh Acres Indians gained another victory with a 13-1 win over Central No. 1. Chase and Work let the hitters.

The Central Girls Softball Team defeated the Tecumseh Acres team 18-15. Tucker was the winning pitcher and Kunkle was the leading hitter for Central.

In the Major League, the Exchange Club team finally got over their slump and took their first game of the season Tuesday. They defeated the Kiwanis team 7-5. Behind the able pitching of Dennis Beemer, a total of 7 hits were slammed out. The batting power came from Andy Risner, Ronald Anderson and Tim Sisson. T. Morden was the losing pitcher, in a tough game to lose since both teams played very well.

The makeup game on Wednesday was played to a tie between the Exchange and Rotary teams. Harold Butler for the Exchange Club and Dan Sniffen for the Rotary were the leading hitters for the day. Both boys collected 3 for 4. Sniffen pitched for the Rotary and R. Anderson for the Exchange team. The excellent pitching was backed by good all around playing by both teams. The final score was 5 to 5.

The Rotary team squeezed by the Jaycees Tuesday 5-4. Max Quinn was the winning pitcher. Grant Baughey had 2 hits for 3 times at bat. The Rotary team had 8 hits and 5 runs and the Jaycees had 6 hits and 4 runs.

The Kiwanis team, strengthened by the return of Gary Lee and Dan Greene, fought off a fifth inning rally by the Rotary, to defeat them 7 to 6 Friday, an honor ternoon, Herrick Park defeated bestowed on no other team this summer.

In the exciting fifth for the Rotary, Baughey singled. Lemerand batted for Snyder and tripled Baughey home from first. Max Quinn singled off Dan Green's glove scoring Lemerand and bringing the Rotary within one run of the rattled Kiwanis. At this point with two out, Jim Brown gave way to Dan Greene who finished the inning walking Derby, then getting Jim Lawson to line to Mike Deaner at first base.

With one out in the sixth, the Rotary drove Dan Greene from the mound with runners on first and second. Gary Lee then put out the fire, getting Sniffen to pop to the mound and getting Baughey out on a nice running catch by Jim Newell, Kiwanis second baseman.

The Kiwanis jumped off to a four run lead in the first inning on four hits and an error. The big blows of the inning were doubles by Golat, and Newell.

The Kiwanis team concluded its scoring with three runs in the third. The big blow this time coming off the bat of Dan Greene who homered past the right field fence.

Newell, Golat, and D. Greene had two for three for the winners. Lemerand and Snyder tripled to lead the losers at the plate. Jim Brown lasted 4⅔ innings to get credit for the win, his second against one defeat. Kohl was the loser going all the way.

Major league statistics and other material left out this week were not available this week. Every attempt will be made again next week to obtain complete information.

Re-Elected To Board

state aid funds will no longer include transportation for children living less than one and ½ miles from school. The Board voted to continue the present transportation as voted by the district. This includes transporting by bus all elementary school children over ½ mile and all high school children over one mie from school. Two new busses, costing approximately $15,000 to $18,000 will be necessary to continue the present program.

Problems relating to the athletic field and North play field were discussed so that the Board's ideas could be presented to the Tecumseh Recreation Board at the July 23 meeting. A contract will be given to the Ayling Company to construct an asphalt outdoor basketball court 60 x 100 square feet at a cost of 10c per square foot.

A letter will be written to Ray W. Herrick expressing the Board's thanks for the gift of property in Herrick Park upon which the Herrick Park School is being constructed.

The regular meeting date of the School Board was again set as the second Monday of each month at 8 p.m. The Superintendent's annual report and the public librarian's report were approved. The Superintendent reported that the school staff for 1957-58 is now complete.
